SOLONS TO HAVE VERY BUSY WEEK

May Pass Budget Bill Under A Suspension Of

HOUSE THIS EVE-NING.

A NEW LICENSE MEASURE

To Furnish Basis for Decentralization of the Licensing System—Effort Will Be Made to Reduce Salaries of State Officials and Commission Before Week is Over.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, Feb. 15.—State legislators came back to the capital today with prospects of a week of heavy work before them. The first duty will be to pass the budget appropriations bill, carrying about $6,400,000 for the period February 16 to June 30. This will be introduced in the house this evening and an attempt will be made to have both houses pass it under suspension of the rules tomorrow. It will carry the name of Representative Reighard, chairman of the finance committee.

All the multitudinous ideas of legislators and both liquor and anti-liquor interests on the problem of reform of the saloon licensing system probably will be pressed upon the liquor and temperance committees of the house and senate in full force this week. They will take up consideration of the McDermott senate bill this evening in joint session. Legislative leaders expect that it would furnish the basis for a measure to decentralize the licensing system, but anticipated many changes which will be forced by wet and dry interests.

Senator Moore of Jefferson has ready the draft of another liquor decentralization bill which he expects to introduce this week if the committee do not assent to amendment of the McDermott bill to suit his ideas. It is said liquor interests look with more favor on Senator Moore's proposed measure than on the McDermott bill, which is considered representative of dry ideas.

Speaker Conover today said a substitute for the house bill of Representative Smith of Morgan, chairman of the committee on agriculture to decentralize the system created by the agricultural commission, probably will be introduced this week. Opponents of decentralization of the agricultural activities of the state will make a strenuous fight against it in committee.

Salaries of numerous state officials and members of commissions probably will be reduced later this week as the bill is passed by the house and senate. It was hinted among Democrats today that the minority may even abandon all attempts to prevent attachment of an emergency clause to this measure. It is possible Democrats in the senate tomorrow may secure reconsideration of the vote on which they defeated the emergency clause of the Howard bill passed last week to reduce the salary of the superintendent of insurance from $6,000 to $4,500, and vote affirmatively on the emergency. The house Democrats probably would follow the example and vote for the emergency.

The bill introduced by Representative Black of Wandout proposing reduction of the salaries of the governor, members of the legislature and other elective state officials, will not be considered favorably, Republican leaders declare.

By the end of the week it is expected work on the taxation decentralization measure will be well along toward completion by the house taxation committee which will hold daily meetings for the purpose.

The senate judiciary committee is expected to report out this week the Lloyd bill, providing for strict regulation of small loan companies, and the Meyers bill which would repeal the moving picture censorship law. Friends of the present mine run law and its opponents will travel to Columbus from mining sections for the hearing Wednesday evening before the senate mines and mining committee on the Gallagher bill proposing amendment of the law to permit operators and miners to sign a wage contract on any basis they wish. Now they may use as a basis only the product of a mine before it is severed.

The house this week is expected to take final action on the Danford bill to prohibit the sale, manufacture or distribution of cigarettes in the state; the Hoy bill to prohibit fee splitting among physicians and abolishing quackery; the Deaton bill to remove the bureau of vital statistics from the jurisdiction of the secretary of state and place it under the state board of health and the Ott resolution, proposing an investigation of the state insurance fund. The house also will reconsider its vote by which the Cromley bill to repeal the indeterminate sentence law was killed last week. Republican leaders today said it is not sure, however, that the repealing bill will receive enough votes to insure its passage.

Members of the Winans committee investigating the department of banks under the administration of Emory W. Latimer as superintendent today gave assurance that developments during the week will be sensational. They denied vigorously reports that former officials charged with mismanagement of the department's affairs will be called as witnesses. Hearings will be resumed tomorrow.

The Howard department survey committee expected to take up today further investigation of the state highway department. It will hold daily meetings this week.

INQUIRY INTO INCREASE IN BREAD PRICE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, Feb. 15.—To determine the causes for the increase in the price of bread is the object of an inquiry by the attorney general's office, beginning here today at which commission men, dealers in flour and wheat and wholesale and retail bakers will be subpoenaed as witnesses.

Alfred L. Becker, deputy attorney general, who has been conducting an investigation, preliminary to the reference inquiry, said that he will subpoena James Ward Warner, president of the New York Produce Exchange; Edward G. Broenigman, its vice president and buyer for the Belgian relief commission, and others interested in the bread and wheat market.

APPOINTMENT OF OIL INSPECTOR GOES TO CARR

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, Feb. 15.—Governor Willis today appointed J. M. Carr, of Barborton, state oil inspector to succeed W. F. Mason, of Hamilton, resigned.

The position carries with it a salary of $3,500 a year, which, it is expected, will be reduced to $3,000 by the legislature.

Mr. Carr will fill an unexpired term ending May 14, but will probably be re-appointed.

Mr. Carr was a member of the 74th general assembly and is chairman of the Summit county Republican executive committee.

Emperor Nicholas Has Returned From Army Headquarters

Petrograd, Feb. 15.—Emperor Nicholas today returned to Tsarskoe Selo, from a visit to the Russian army headquarters at the front.

The forced retirement of the Russian army from East Prussia is expected to result in a reversion by the Russians to their original plan of conducting a defensive campaign on their own territory. It is pointed out here that this should result in an advantage to the Russians, in that Germany will be deprived of the transportation facilities which she was able to use with great effectiveness during the fighting within her own borders.

When an offensive campaign was undertaken and the Russians invaded East Prussia and Galicia early in the war the Germans were forced to withdraw a large number of troops from the west. This was considered here to have contributed largely to the German reserve in the battle of the Marne. Russian officers say that the object of their offensive campaign has been achieved and that the disposition now is to fall back to their original plan of defensive operations on Russian soil.

A PROMPT REPLY IS EXPECTED

American Ambassador Gerard Requested to Meet Emperor William

WILL REPLY TO THE AMERICAN NOTE TO

USE OF NEUTRAL FLAG

In Case of Necessity Claimed By Great Britain—Germans Are Still Advancing In East Prussia While Both Sides Are Claiming Success In the Carpathians.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, Feb. 15.—The threatened submarine blockade of the ports of the British Isles is still an absorbing topic from English newspapers and the English people and judging from dispatches reaching here from the continent, Germany is equally interested.

The report that James W. Gerard, the American ambassador has been requested to meet Emperor William at once on the eastern battle front, is taken in London to mean that Berlin probably will make a prompt reply to the American note to Germany. German comment on the situation which has arisen since Germany declared a war zone around the British Isles insists that Washington should prevent the use of the American flag by Great Britain and a strict observation of the declaration of London as the best guarantee for the safety of American shipping. At the same time, the Germans argue that submarines cannot be expected to make a search of hostile merchantmen before destroying them.

The English press insists upon regarding the note to Germany as a virtual ultimatum. It does not attempt to forecast Great Britain's reply to the Washington communication regarding the use of the American flag but it does declare that Great Britain cannot forego her claim to the right to use a neutral flag in case of necessity. An indication that England is regarding the German threat as something more than a bluff is found in the fact that liners are today coming into British ports with their lifeboats slung out and watered and provisioned.

No disposition yet has been made of the cargo of the American steamer Wilhelmus. This ship now seems to be under the voluntary joint guardianship of the British foreign office and the American ambassador.

Unusually heavy artillery duels according to reports from both sides, are proceeding at the present time in Belgium, but definite news as to results is lacking.

In East Prussia, the Germans are still advancing, except at Lyck, where the Russians are making a stand. Both sides claim successes in the Carpathians, while the fact that the Austrians are still advancing in the Bukovina crown land. In the center of the long eastern battle front quiet prevails, according to the information of London, with no change in the relative positions.

GERMANS STILL BOMBARDING THE FRENCH TRENCHES

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Paris, Feb. 15.—The French war office this afternoon gave out a report on the progress of the war which reads as follows:

"In Belgium yesterday, the German bombardment of our trenches was uninterrupted. From the great dune our heavy artillery inflicted damage on the mortars of the enemy. We occupied for a distance of about 250 yards a German trench along the roadway from Bethune to La Bassée.

"Yesterday saw very spirited artillery exchanges in the vicinity of Lens, around Albert, between the Avre and the Oise, in the suburbs of Soissons, and at Verneuil, to the northeast of Vailly.

"In the Argonne, in the direction of Bagatelle and Marie Therese, the fighting still continues with energy from trench to trench, but there have been no movements of infantry.

"Between the Argonne and the Meuse, an attempt at attack by the German forces at a point between the village of Malancourt and the forest of the same name was promptly repulsed.

"In Lorraine the enemy, after having driven back our advance guard, succeeded in occupying Signal (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4.)

General von Sanders, Turkish Commander, and His Staff.

General Liman von Sanders is the German general in command of the Turkish armies which have been routed by the Russians in the Caucasus Mountains. He was sent to Turkey to continue the German reorganization of the Turkish army before the war. He had served in the German army and in the general staff. At the time of his selection for his present post he had the rank of lieutenant general, and commanded a division. His mission was made difficult because Russia as well as England strongly objected to the employment of German officers when they arrived almost a year ago. For several months he and the German officers who came with him (about twenty) could do nothing, but when the war broke out they were all given important commands.

MANY INJURED IN THE PANAMA CARNIVAL RIOT

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Feb. 15.—One Panama policeman was killed and twenty-five persons—twenty-three of them Americans—were wounded in the carnival riot at Panama. Major General Wood today forwarded to Secretary Garrison this report of Brigadier General Edwards in command of the zone forces.

General Edwards also reported he was investigating with Panama officials and that it was hard to fix the blame.

OTTAWA RAID OF AEROPLANES DID NOT MATERIALIZE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 15.—Residents of Brockville refuse to accept the statements made by young men of Morrisstown, N. Y., that balloons sent up by them last night were responsible for the report that aeroplanes had crossed the border at that point and were headed toward Ottawa. The Canadian press today received dispatches to the effect that responsible residents claimed that they saw the aeroplanes cross the St. Lawrence from the United States last night and that they also saw them homeward bound at 1:30 a. m. today. The incident it was said by the Dominion police, would be reported to the state department at Washington.

Various persons told the police that the first of the machines approached Brockville at 8:10 o'clock last night and that the second followed in the same path about twenty minutes later. Both were said to have disappeared in the direction of Ottawa. The report was telegraphed here and lights in and around the parliament buildings and the government house were extinguished. Both machines were described as carrying searchlights which were directed upon the ground over which they were flying.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 15.—After an all night watch for the air visitors, the three or four aeroplanes which were reported to have crossed the St. Lawrence river at Morrisstown, N. Y., and to have dropped a fire ball as they passed over Brockville, the Dominion police and officials of the government were of the opinion today that the report was unfounded.

The chief of police, Ogdensburg, N. Y., twelve miles down the St. Lawrence river from Brockville, had heard nothing of the passage of the aeroplanes over Brockville, or of excitement incident thereto. He said, however, that on Friday last, a farmer living five miles from Ogdensburg had reported the passage of an aeroplane over his farm traveling in the direction of the Canadian border. After receiving the report last night Premier Borden notified Colonel A. P. Sherwood, commissioner of the Dominion police. The lights around the parliament building, the royal yacht and the residence of the governor general were immediately ordered extinguished. This was the first time in its history that the mind had been darkened. Sherwood reported that the Dominion police were standing on parliament hill and guard were held in readiness to repel an aerial attack should one be attempted.

The Duke of Connaught, governor general of Canada, is on an inspection trip to Winnipeg, but the Duchess and the Princess Patricia are in the capital and were informed of the precautions taken to guard the city.

Between 1907 and 1912, horned cattle in Germany decreased by 500,000 head.

PANAMA CANAL BIG SAVING FOR SAILING VESSELS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Feb. 15.—The isthmian canal authorities have been agreeably surprised at the disposition shown by the maritime interests, to use the canal for sailing vessels, as it had been assumed that the canal would derive no revenue from this source.

It has been reckoned that using the canal a sailing vessel may make the trip from New York to San Francisco in 60 days, while it would require 140 days to make the voyage by way of Cape Horn. Calculating the trade winds and general weather conditions the round trip by way of Cape Horn, occupies about 250 days. It is figured that under average conditions, a vessel would save about eighty days by using the canal, which would mean an approximate saving of $3,200, allowing $2,700 for cost of passing the canal.

DIPHTHERIA GERMS Believed to Have Lurked in House Fifty Years Cause Death of Three Children.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
York, Pa., Feb. 15.—Diphtheria germs, which had lurked for half a century in the walls of the house occupied by Raymond Miller, health authorities and attending physicians declared yesterday, caused the death recently of three of Miller's children.

Fifty years ago several members of a family that lived in the house died from diphtheria. Shortly before the present outbreak, Miller had some papering done and a heavy coating of whitewash, which was scraped away, was thrown in a heap near the house. Warm, damp weather, physicians say, revived the germs which had been imprisoned under the whitewash.

SNOW MORE THAN 25 FEET DEEP

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Turin, via Rome, Feb. 15.—The snowfall in the Piedmont region this winter is heavier than any heretofore known, according to available records. This is especially true in the Alps, where all wires are down and even the telegraph poles are invisible because of the depth of snow. At the famous St. Bernard hospital the snow is more than 25 feet deep.

WOULD AMEND THE FEDERAL CONSTITUTION

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Feb. 15.—A resolution to amend the federal constitution, by providing that a majority, instead of two-thirds, of both houses of congress may propose constitutional amendments and to make their ratification by two-thirds, instead of three-fourths of the states sufficient, was introduced today by Representative Bryan of Washington.

This new plan calls for the submission to the voters every twenty years of the question whether there shall be a convention to propose constitutional amendments which, if affirmatively decided, would be followed by choosing of delegates and assembling of the convention on March 1, two years afterward, and for submission of the convention's recommendations to popular vote at the ensuing presidential election. A majority of congress or a majority of the state legislatures might call for the submission of the question of holding a convention at other presidential elections than those falling on the twenty year intervals. The resolution would require a majority vote to call a convention and a two-thirds vote to ratify amendments proposed by convention.

GERMANY MAY FORCE ITALY INTO THE WAR

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Rome, Feb. 15.—The Idea Nazionale, a newspaper published in the interests of the Nationalist party, in its issue of today, publishes a forecast of German proposals to Italy which reads as follows:

"Before the end of February, Prince von Buelow, the German ambassador to Italy will present to the Italian government a concrete proposal for Italian participation in the war on the side of Germany. This consists of the cession by Austria of the province of Trent and the recognition of the eastern Italian frontier by the addition of a strip of land going as far as the Isorno river. In addition, Germany will pledge herself to conclude a new treaty with Italy which will afford protection to Italy's Mediterranean interests. In exchange, Italy is to take part at once in the war. She will occupy Tunis and help Turkey drive the English from Egypt, which will return the Dominion of the sultan of Turkey. In addition, the Italian fleet will attack the Anglo-French naval forces in the Mediterranean."

Continuing the Idea Nazionale says that Prince von Buelow, referring to Trieste made this statement:

"It is impossible to give Trieste to Italy because this sea port is the lung not of Austria, but of Germany."

At the conclusion of one of his conversations with the Italian statesman Prince von Buelow, according to this newspaper made use of this phrase, "either Italy will be friendly towards us or we will treat her worse than we are treating England."

WILL PATROL ICE FIELDS OF GRAND BANKS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, Feb. 15.—The coast guard derelict destroyer Seneca, awaited orders to sail today for the Grand Banks, where she will patrol the ice fields.

The Seneca will remain there as long as the ice continues to come down from the north and menace navigation. A powerful wireless outfit will enable her to be in constant communication with shore stations.

EAGERLY TAKEN UP.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, Feb. 15.—The issue of 10,000,000 pounds sterling ($10,000,000) of Russian treasury bills has so attracted bankers and insurance houses and the applications have been so large that the lists were closed at noon today instead of being kept open until next Thursday as has been the original intention.

This new plan calls for the submission to the voters every twenty years of the question whether there shall be a convention to propose constitutional amendments which, if affirmatively decided, would be followed by choosing of delegates and assembling of the convention on March 1, two years afterward, and for submission of the convention's recommendations to popular vote at the ensuing presidential election. A majority of congress or a majority of the state legislatures might call for the submission of the question of holding a convention at other presidential elections than those falling on the twenty year intervals. The resolution would require a majority vote to call a convention and a two-thirds vote to ratify amendments proposed by convention.

Near Apostolic Palace and

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Rome, Feb. 15.—The flood waters in the streets around St. Peter's have risen to a height of four feet and eleven inches. Several walls have collapsed, but without serious consequences.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Rome, Feb. 15.—Italy, having just passed through a period of grave anxiety as a result of destructive earthquakes, is now facing a new peril in the form of floods. Everywhere streams are out of their banks, due to heavy rainstorms which have continued for several days.

In the low lying quarters the people have been driven from their homes or are prisoners in the upper stories of their houses. Troops have been sent to aid in rescue work and to provide food to sufferers cut off from supplies.

In Rome, the river Tiber is more than fifty feet out of its former banks and is rising at the rate of two inches an hour.

The Leonine City, as the Vatican quarter of Rome is called, is in the lower part of the town and this section is generally flooded. The water, however, has not reached the apostolic palace or St. Peter's. Pope Benedict is taking sympathetic interest in the situation and has instructed all the parish priests to display the greatest energy in aiding their distressed parishioners. The pope himself spent a good deal of his time Sunday in watching the rising waters in the quarter just below the apostolic palace.

Two hundred patients in the hospital of Santo Spirito, near the Vatican, have been removed to upper floors of the building because of the flood. Some fear is expressed that the rising water may cause the building to collapse.

The authorities have closed the road from Rome to the sea in which there are several deposits of carbide and lime. Some of these through infiltration from the flooded Tiber have already exploded and caused nearby buildings to collapse. Fortunately, there were no victims, as the people, foreseeing danger, had left the place.

Great anxiety is felt today for the famous St. Angelo bridge, originally erected by Emperor Hadrian and which connects his tomb with the city. Milo's bridge, built over 100 years before Christ, is inundated and water also surrounds the imposing basilica of St. Paul's. The Sublime basilica of the structure supposed to have been founded by Horatius and two companions, is also under water. This is the oldest bridge in Rome, having been built in the year 639 B. C.

Many homes in the immediate neighborhood of St. Peter's have from three to four feet of water in the lower stories and the inhabitants were obliged to remove their possessions to the upper floors.

The floods have turned the low lying quarters of the city into a second Venice as the streets are now all waterways and boats are the only means of progression. Crowds of persons spent the night watching the rising tide and many recalled how few were the floods in the memory of man in this section which have equalled this.

Council May Act On Electric Matter at Tonight's Meeting; Other Legislation Is Ready

The electric light matter probably will again feature council's session when the city dads meet for the regular monthly meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Councilman Seward's ordinance to issue bonds in the sum of $50,000 to rehabilitate the old plant and establish it at the water-works station may be voted upon. At any rate the question will probably be discussed.

In addition to the light matter, council will act upon a resolution fixing the Lacking County Bank & Trust company as the main city depository, the surplus over a certain amount fixed by law, going to the First National bank, second high bidder.

There may be a resolution awarding the $240,000 worth of subway bonds to Seasongood Mayer & Co., high bidder last Tuesday. Other routine matters will come up.

Despondent Over Failure Of Crops, Bladensburg Farmer Suicides Sunday Afternoon

Thurman Hardesty, a well known farmer living three miles east of Bladensburg, committed suicide on Sunday afternoon, when he shot himself through the head.

The deceased was 45 years old, and has been despondent and melancholy for some time over ill health and failure of his crops last year. He has brooded over his loss and Sunday afternoon he threw a shot gun out of the window, and later, secured the gun and shot himself, the body being found in the granary. The report of the gun was heard and the family went to him at once but death had been instantaneous.

He is survived by his wife and three daughters who live at home. The funeral services will be held on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at Bladensburg and burial will take place in the Bladensburg cemetery.

SIXTY NEW MEMBERS FOR M. E. CHURCH

Sunday morning a great audience at the First Methodist Episcopal church witnessed the reception of a fine class into membership. There has been nearly sixty recent additions to this church through the regular services. Next Sunday morning a short series of meetings will be given under the direction of the pastors. Dr. Albert E. Smith, president of the Ohio Northern University, will be present all day the following Sunday.

CENTRAL CHURCH RALLY DAY WAS GREAT SUCCESS

The special day at the Central Church of Christ yesterday was a splendid success. The attendance in the Bible school has been averaging between four and five hundred. It was decided to try to raise the average attendance by series of monthly rallies, and to raise it gradually. So the aim was set for six hundred for yesterday. Tags, numbering from one to six hundred, were printed and placed in the hands of tag leaders. These were all given out. When the count was taken yesterday morning, it showed 594 present, and many others came in too late to be counted. This result was achieved in spite of the rain. It is believed that the aim would have been exceeded by nearly one hundred, if it had been a nice day. The next rally will be observed March 7th, when the aim for attendance will be eight hundred. The climax of the series will be Easter Sunday, when a great effort will be made to reach one thousand. There were four additions to the membership of the church during the day.

This evening, at 7:30, the Brotherhood will hold their monthly meeting. The main feature of the evening will be an address by Rev. W. H. Boden, of Nelsonville, Ohio. Rev. Mr. Boden is a most successful pastor and evangelist. In the church he serves, there is one of the largest Men's Bible classes in the world. He will tell the men, especially, of the methods and spirit of that great class. Every man in the city and vicinity, regardless of church affiliation, will be heartily welcome to the meeting this evening. The men of the church are strongly urged to be present.

SUPERINTENDENTS FOR COUNTY FAIR ARE APPOINTED

At a meeting of the Licking County Board of Agriculture, held Saturday in the convention room of the court house, superintendents for the various departments of the county fair were appointed. They are:

- Horses—W. W. Hankinson and L. L. Cooperider.
  - Cattle—W. J. Tharp.
  - Sheep—J. J. Hill.
  - Hogs—M. C. Harter.
  - Floral Hall—J. M. Jones.
  - Farm Products—J. C. Morrison.
  - Poultry and Farm Implements—S. A. Means.
  - Superintendent of Grounds—C. D. Lake.
  - Superintendent of Gates—Fred H. Stevens.
  - Superintendent of Police—Frank Hartman.
- A committee consisting of Messrs. J. C. Williams, J. M. Lambert and O. B. Young, representing several granges, appeared before the board and asked for better provisions for exhibitors this year.

On the first Saturday in April, another meeting will be held when all exhibitors are invited to attend the meeting and assist in a revision of the premium list.

Fighting the Undertow.
Those deadly undertows which so often prove fatal to swimmers are produced by tides and coast currents. The former only carry out at ebb tide; the latter usually zigzag along the shore.

"If you are a robust swimmer," said a professor of the art, "you can generally overcome them by quick, alert strokes. If, however, you do not at once succeed don't persevere, for this is one of the exceptions to the rule about perseverance. Stop fighting before exhaustion comes and go with the tide or current. By resting a short time, floating or swimming leisurely, you will have time to take your bearings and either make another attempt or call for assistance. Sometimes you will find the undertow runs parallel to the shore. You may then let yourself be carried along with the certainty that before long it will twist inshore, when a short sport will bring you to safety."

Longfellow's Joke.
Longfellow, the poet, was introduced to one Longworth, and some one commented on the fact that the first syllables of their names were the same.

"Yes," said the poet, "but in this case I fear Pope's lines will apply. 'Worth makes the man, the want of it the fellow.'"

Encouraged.
"I am afraid," said Mr. Henpeck, "that I made a fool of myself today." "Don't worry about it," his wife replied. "It isn't likely that anybody noticed anything unusual about the way you spoke or acted."—Chicago Record-Herald.

One year ago Germany's wealth was estimated to be $60,500,000,000.

Robert Lansing, Counsellor of State Department.

Robert Lansing, counsellor of the state department, is the author of the notes to Germany and England concerning the use of the American flag at sea. The note to Germany, coming as near an ultimatum as could be written without precipitating the country into a war, has been looked on as a model of forceful diplomacy. Taken with the note to England it showed, according to experts in international law, the sympathies of the American government in the great war. Mr. Lansing is about fifty years of age, having been born in Watertown, N. Y., in 1864.

STATE DEFEATS OBERLIN TEAM AT COLUMBUS

Columbus, Feb. 15.—Gaining momentum and power as the last half aged Ohio State's husky basketball crew conquered Oberlin's natty basketballers Saturday evening by the score of 23 to 22 in a game that went five minutes overtime due to a 21 to 21 tie, which existed at the expiration of the final 20 minutes.

The contest from the very start was one of the fastest seen on the Ohio State floor in several seasons. By virtue of McPhee's foul shooting Oberlin took an early lead and retained the advantage and until the closing minutes of the opening number, when St. John's men came with a rush and went into a 10 to 10 tie with the Congregationalists.

McPhee's Nose Broken.
At the beginning of the second period both teams spurted at a furious clip and increased their speed as the end drew nigh. Shortly after the commencement of the second period Right Forward McPhee collided with Right Guard Godfrey of Ohio State and was forced to retire because of a broken nose.

The lineup: Ohio State 23. Oberlin 22. Norton, f. f. DeGroff, f. f. Leader, f. f. McPhee-Kabrlisch, f. f. Cherry, c. f. Gigue, c. f. McClure-Graf, f. g. Curtis, f. g. Godfrey, r. g. Edwards, r. g. Summary: Field goals: Norton 2, Cherry 1, McClure 2, Graf 2, Godfrey 2, Leader 1, DeGroff 2, Kabrlisch 1, McPhee 2, Gigue 1, Edwards 1. Goals from fouls: McPhee 6, Kabrlisch 2, Norton 1, Referee, Paul of Cleveland, Miller, of Purdue. Length of halves 20 minutes.

Strength of Insects.
The insects are provided with muscles of enormous power as compared with men. If a fly be held by the wings it can pick up and carry a match, and this is as if a man were able to pick up a beam twenty-eight feet long and fifteen and one-half inches square.

An ordinary little ant can pull eight matches on rollers, which would equal a load of 330 beams the size of a man when its weight is compared with that of a horse.

The flea jumps 200 times its own height, which is about the same as if a man were to jump over the nearly thousand foot high Eiffel tower.

An orator opposes being opened by exerting a force of over thirty pounds, and for a man to show the same power he would have to take up eighty large locomotives and bear them Atlas-like upon his shoulders.

From a purely physical point of view man is the weakest of animals. It is only by the use of his mind and the application of the laws of mechanics in the machinery he has invented that he has been able to dominate the world.—Boston Herald.

To Clean Watch Chains.
Gold or silver watch chains can be cleaned with a very excellent result, no matter whether they be made of polished, by laying them for a few seconds in pure aqua ammonia. They are then rinsed in alcohol and finally shaken in clean sawdust free from sand.—Medical Herald.

Naval Mines.
The first recorded appearance of mines as instruments of naval warfare was at the siege of Antwerp in 1830, when they were employed by the Dutch against the Spaniards.

DENISON DEFEATS EASTERN COLLEGE IN BASKETBALL GAME

Granville, O., Feb. 15.—In an exceptionally fast and fiercely contested game Denison defeated Colgate Saturday 45 to 34, the score at the end of the first half was Denison 22, Colgate 15. The whole Denison team played wonderful basketball. Reese scored seven baskets, Jones six and Thiele two. Biggs again played a wonderful defensive game. Denison excelled in basket shooting, scoring from all corners of the floor while Colgate's strong point was their passing. Ladd went in the second half for Biggs and played a really marvelous guarding game.

Game Was Rough.
For Colgate Vanalsteyne was unquestionably the star with Kennedy and Johnson close seconds. Colgate played a much fiercer game than any seen on the local floor this season and for this reason the game seemed rough at times but Don Hamilton handled it in masterly fashion and gave the Granville fans the fastest and best game seen in many a day. Lineup and summary:

GREAT MEETINGS ARE BEING HELD AT FAIRMOUNT CHURCH

Sunday was a great day at the Fairmount church. Long will the events of the day be remembered and for reaching the results. Mr. Ray Evans who has been speaking nearly every evening for ten days was at his best. At the close of his splendid address on "Holding Awaiting the Storm" about 15 persons assembled before the altar to be received into the church. Others Franks and Duestheimer, with their wives and Miss Mary Franke were out from Newark. After the morning service the following persons enjoyed the royal hospitality of Rev. W. L. Walker's Christian home: Rev. J. A. Greene and wife, Mr. Joe Duestheimer and wife, Mr. E. V. Board and wife, Mr. Ray Evans and sister, Miss Nora, Mrs. Stevens and daughter, Miss Pert Guttridge and grand daughter Margarette, Mr. Elmer Board and wife and daughter Miss Ella. On account of the interest and success of the meetings and the demand for seats will be continued during the week and close with communion next Sunday. All the former members now living are from Newark and are cordially invited to be present during the week, if possible, but especially next Sunday at 10:30 a. m.

Mr. Ray Evans will speak each evening and will bring some singers out from Newark to help in the music. The people of Fairmount are entering and leaving into all the parts of the service, especially the musical and personal work.

END INDIGESTION OR STOMACH PAIN IN FIVE MINUTES

Time it! In five minutes all stomach distress will go. No indigestion, heartburn, sourness or belching of gas, acid, or eructations of undigested food, no dizziness, bloating, foul breath or headache.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in regulating upset stomachs. It is the surest, quickest and most certain indigestion remedy in the whole world, and besides it is harmless.

Millions of men and women now eat their favorite foods without fear—they know Pape's Diapepsin will save them from any stomach misery.

Please, for your sake, get a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store and put your stomach right. Don't keep on being miserable—life is too short—you are not here long, so make your stay agreeable. Eat what you like and digest it, enjoy it without dread of rebellion in the stomach.

Pape's Diapepsin belongs in your home anyway. Should one of the family eat something which don't agree with them, or in case of an attack of indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis or stomach derangement at daytime or during the night, it is handy to give the quickest, surest relief known.

NOTE PRESENTED TO DEPARTMENT AT WASHINGTON

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Feb. 15.—Count Bernstorff, the German ambassador today presented to the state department a note from his government, announcing that Germany stands ready to consider receding from its announced intention of attacking British merchantmen, if Great Britain will withdraw its efforts to prevent foodstuffs from going to Germany for the civilian population.

The note declares that Germany's plan to attack British merchantmen was a retaliatory measure adopted because the alleged violation of international law by Great Britain in trying to starve the noncombatant population of Germany and that the latter government is ready to withdraw from its purpose as expressed in the naval war zone decree as far as it applies to merchant vessels as soon as Great Britain either of its own violation, or as a result of representations from the neutrals, expresses her willingness to return to the usual practices of international law on the question of foodstuffs.

The German note adds that the Berlin government has information that English merchant vessels are being armed and have orders to sail in groups for protection and further that they would try to sink submarines. It declared that there was now no question of searching them but the result would be that German ships would fight them because they are now held to be warships.

The note declares further that Great Britain, according to the information of Germany, intended to use neutral flags and that therefore neutral shipping would be in danger in the war zone. It was urged therefore, that meanwhile neutral shipping observe the request of Germany and go around the North of Scotland and in the course which had been declared outside the war zone.

It was stated that the note received by the ambassador today from his foreign office, and promptly carried by him personally to the state department, was not a reply to the recent American note to Germany in regard to the war zone decree. A more comprehensive and detailed reply to that communication is expected soon, although it was not known officially here when it might be looked for.

Today's note from Germany, it was pointed out, constitutes a sort of intermediary step, possibly presented to this government because of the fact that the day when the war zone decree was to effect, Feb. 18, is so close at hand.

Lighting Newark Streets

Compliments the Advocate.

Editor of The Advocate:—I want to congratulate you upon the attitude the Advocate is taking in the electric light controversy. Your views do not agree with mine but the spirit of fairness you have shown must appeal to every reader. I am in favor of issuing the bonds while you are opposed to the bond issue. You give good reasons for your position and I am not so narrow minded as not to realize that I may be wrong, but from my present information I am in favor of municipal ownership.

Your report of the recent citizens meeting was correct and just to all. Your publication of opinions contrary to those expressed by the paper itself shows the right spirit.

CITIZEN.

Mr. Christian's Reply.

Editor of The Advocate:—Mr. Stasel in his extended article, figures a statement, on figures known to be wrong, proceeds half way and then leaves a wrong impression. He compares the old plant cost as follows:—Cost of operating the plant including fuel, but not counting interest, a total expense of $8,580.89. Current purchased at 1-10-0 as $4,923.00 leaving the impression that the City would lose on this basis $3,657.89 a very bad proposition for the City. If Mr. Stasel is sincere in his belief that the contract will be as he states, and there be no further doubt what the Ohio Light and Power Company, would charge the City, will be secure for the City a Guarantee backing his figures in this way. (The public knows very little about kilowatts) but they do about dollars.)

Contract:—The Ohio Light and Power Company hereby agrees to furnish the City of Newark current for their street lighting system as now existing, for a term of ten years, for the sum of $4,923.00 for each and every year of said contract. The City shall at such times as they see proper add any and all lights to said system, and the company shall receive such additional compensation in such ratio as the rated consumption of said lamp or lamps bears to that of the number originally installed at the beginning of the contract, which is in proportion to $4,923.00. Said Ohio Light and Power Company shall further protect and secure the City against the payment of any and all sums that might accrue and be chargeable to the cost and production of current, as supervision of switchboard, insurance of the property in the plant, etc., and any and all other sums that the City shall be compelled to pay, that it would not otherwise pay were the City to operate its own plant. This agreement being for the total cost of current production.

Will they do it? I dare say not, if a contract is made a new meter will be installed, and the City will pay just what it calls for, figures in advance will not count, and I may safely say that the bill for the first year will exceed $8,000.00 and the Company knows that it will, without any additions.

How does Mr. Stasel know that my methods of figuring are incorrect? Is he a student of electricity, and has he examined the conditions at the plant? I would suggest that before he rushes into print that he would ascertain whether the figures handed him were somewhere near the correct amount before he sees them in refuting some one else. The basic error of his figures is that the informant made an error in simple arithmetic, and falls in the pit dug for me. The reading of the meter for 1914 shows 54,755, and how he gets 447,550, we can't learn.

Conceding that the reading should add an 0 he is wrong to the sum of One Hundred Kilowatts, or an addition to his figures of Eleven Hundred Dollars, nor has he any right to make a cost per kilowatt at old plant by adding the entire expense of maintaining the outside lines and lamps.

Why does he not use the expense figures for 1913, or 1912 or 1911, can it be that they are not as suitable to produce the desired result as 1914, a year that had the largest maintenance account in the four years. The cost for fuel can be figured correctly without taking any engineer's word for it.

I am satisfied had Mr. Stasel come to this office to secure what data was necessary for his article, that it would tell an entirely different story.

W. C. CHRISTIAN.

William H. Smith's Views.

Editor of The Advocate:—The right to control and conserve the public service institutions of a city for the benefit and welfare of all the people is an obligation every patriotic citizen should stand for, and any inducement however fascinating, made us for the surrendering of this right should, in the light of our past experiences along these lines, remind us of the risks we take and the benefits we may lose by entering such long time contracts.

For this reason I am in favor of a municipal light plant, as well as other public service institutions that concern the welfare and happiness of the people. Some people tell us that this is a matter of dollars and cents only, and would have us believe that a community's welfare should be gauged by that standard. This I think is sordid and short-sighted view of the question. In a long time contract, conditions arise that cannot be controlled or remedied and often destroy the flavor of a seemingly low price. Is there a man in Newark today who would not willingly pay one dollar per month more to live in his own home, than pay a dollar a month less, for a similar house leased for a ten year period, whether owned by corporation or individual? I think not. The privilege of being owner with absolute control is worth something in itself, therefore I say if it should cost the city even a trifle more to produce the electric current than that bid by the Ohio Light and Power company, it is still our interest to produce it. But it will not cost more, if Public Service Director Christian's figures are reliable, and I think they are the most dependable of any furnished so far, not excepting the Mr. Vernon gentleman's, who I understand is not known to the profession as a consulting electrical engineer. Notwithstanding the high figures already given out through the press, Mr. Christian claims that the average cost price, for the past four years is .0106 kilowatt hour and that the new plant will produce it at .008 kilowatt hour, and possibly less. This is a better price than The Ohio Light & Power Company offers and still we are told that the latter has made the better price. Evidently we had better hesitate a little before "swapping horses."

Like many of our citizens I too regret the rapidly increasing bonded indebtedness of our city and feel that this evil tendency should be curbed and only permitted when the best interest of the city warrants it. The present proposed bond issue of $30,000—because of our present need and future welfare—I believe does warrant it. In doing this I cannot see wherein we are shouldering a debt that we would escape by contracting with the Ohio Light and Power company. They would have to be paid for their service out of the city taxes at the rate of ten to eleven thousand dollars each year, and in three years they would have received from the city thirty thousand dollars, an amount equal to the proposed bond issue.

The new city light plant can be installed in the water works buildings without adding to the present building in any way, and the uniting of the two units under one force of men will be a saving in labor charge of $1700.00 a year, and in many ways will tell for efficiency and economy. Newark needs this light plant, and if established now its benefits to the city will increase the growth of population and become a valuable asset. No better qualified man could be secured to install this light plant than the present Service Director, and that too is a consideration of some importance.

WM. H. SMITH.

From Director Christian.

To the Citizens of Newark.

As Director of Public Service it is proper to inform you of the facts pertaining to the Electric Light Controversy.

As your servant, I do that which extended inquiry tells and what I have learned from experience would insure the most beneficial results for my constituents. I had ten years connection with the street railway, and over four years with the present city light plant. During this time I have had some experience, and believe that I am just as able to figure the cost today, as I was in 1911 when my friends saw fit to boost the results attained.

I have given the question close study and am firmly convinced that what I have said is correct. Would it not appear that my deductions should carry as much weight as those of men who possibly have never seen the inside of the plant. I would say that not one of the gentlemen who have seen fit to dispute my figures has had the courage to call at my office and learn the true conditions surrounding the question before the council.

October 19th last I informed the Council of the condition, existing at the electric light plant and made a recommendation. Later a report was formulated showing the cost of Municipal Ownership, attached to this report was a proposition, being a formal contract with The Ohio Light and Power Company, at one and three-fourths cents per kilowatt hour.

Later it was reported that it was not a contract, but a formal offer, if so, why did the Manager not say so, when called upon that evening, whether he desired to say anything, and he said, "not at this time."

After introduction of the proposition Mr. Seward requested that we make a comparative statement based upon the rate as made. This was done, and several copies were scattered about and at least one came into the possession of the officials of the company. This statement showed that at a basis of 809,000 kilowatt hours annually, a saving resulted to the city over the contract rate at old plant figures, the cost of $11,197.70, but on the proposed plan as outlined by this department, a saving resulted in ten years of the sum of $135,125.00.

Then a new proposition was submitted at the next council meeting calling for one and one-half cents per kilowatt hour. I have prepared another comparison at this new rate. The city can save annually the sum of $3486.37 after paying all expenses, interest on the new debt, retire $2,000.00 of bonds, or it could pay off four thousand of debt and leave a surplus of $1,486.37 for mismanagement should it occur. This comparison is on the service of the old plant. Can increase the number of lamps to use the load of the machine, retire all the bonds issued and have at the end of the ten years a credit of $49,000.00 over and above the amount of money necessary to meet the contract obligations.

These estimates of cost are based upon improved methods of operation produced by the new installation, and it is not fair to use the old expensive cost for comparison. In our calculations the fuel is based upon real operation, an average of 41,635,000 cubic feet of gas used in the past four years, at 12c per thousand, equaling $5,002.20.

Some comment has been made by Mr. Stasel and several others that the lighting service has been poor. For the benefit of those gentlemen I wish to state that the output of an individual lamp will be the same whether the current is bought, or produced by the city as the contract has nothing to do with them, the city employees will attend to them in either case. As to general shut-downs it must be remembered that the city has maintained a single equipment, boilers must be cleaned, engine repaired, etc. Electrical men have repeatedly remarked how successful the plant has operated under these conditions. It must also be borne in mind that the present power house and boilers, etc., etc., are over twenty years old. It sometimes taxes my ingenuity to keep you in light as well as I have. This is one of the prime reasons for the plan I have outlined. This plant has made the people money, and like an old faithful horse is ready to be retired for newer and more efficient machinery.

Now, the new plan. Our old equipment is a non-condensing proposition. Every engineer knows what that means—high fuel cost, lined heaters and boilers, etc., etc., loss of power in belt drive, inadequate cooling facilities and other conditions. What would any man suggest, why something better. To make the present plant more modern would cost more than if combined with the water works, the annual operation cost would be far in excess of that at the combined plant, a condensing proposition could not save the same as at the water works. Operation and maintenance in all cases is the factor to consider for profitable results. At the latter place, raising of steam is a less expensive item. No waste here and after shut-down daily, each equipment will be able to help the other in an emergency, for the better protection of our people. It has been urged that the city install an additional pumping unit, for protection in case of a conflagration, one of the present pumps being down for some repairs. This can be accomplished at one-fifth the cost by installing a superannuated motor driven pump, which the light plant could operate successfully in the same plant. We will have every factor of safety in mind that the equipment lights on the streets. Mr. Hittner says "the conditions at the city water works are very favorable for the economical generating of electricity, the ample water supply furnishes ideal conditions for condensing water."

Now, the financial plan. Much has been said about our bonded debt, large enough it is true, and I desire to state that I am possibly more opposed to increasing the public debt than many of those who have made remarks upon the subject. Don't let that bugaboo or nightmare scare you, for the fangs have all been pulled out of the critter.

Back in 1911, a contract was made with the Water Works company for a $60,000 lease, payable annually in six installments, with interest at six per cent. I devised a plan later of issuing $60,000 of 4 per cent bonds payable out of the revenues of the plant. I was told they would not sell—too low a rate—but I secured their sale. They could not be paid in the time—but citizens, on the first of March next the last of the $60,000 will have been paid, right on time. Saving, annually 2 per cent on the amount, and on payment of the amount, secured a rebate of $600 from the water company, on the first six per cent; total saving several thousand dollars to the tax-payers.

is not the case if bonds are sold, you will have some property at the end of ten years, and a nice nest-egg in that left pocket.

No complaint that depreciation has not been figured, for what better plan of depreciation can be devised than the each year and charging it to operation.

I positively state that no greater burdens will come on the tax-payer through the bonds than would be were a contract made with the Ohio Light and Power company. On the other hand, the results will be more congenial conditions in service, and no arguments as to whether the meter was right.

300 K. W. unit giving standard light service, annually by contract costs O. L. & P. Co. $13,200
Additional expense to city over above 2,400

Or an actual cost per K. W. hour to the city of .0106 and not .011. In ten years at capacity, cost would be $156,600

At the water works:
Coal $5,000.00
Labor 1,680.00
Oil 75.00
Supplies 200.00
Interest average life bonds 687.50
Bonds paid annually 2,000.00

In ten years $9,642.50
If all bonds paid in ten years total cost $11,375.00, a saving in ten years $45,225

This equipment would give us an additional 75 K. W. capacity for the lamps to be installed.

Old plant cost cannot enter into the calculations, because we produce it at greater economy in the new plant. In reference to the correctness of the wattmeter, I desire to state that the consulting engineer so much quoted, says that we are consuming 225 K. W. Mr. H. M. Klingman, electrical expert for the National Lamp Works, took readings with his test instruments on each circuit, and his total figures 221.5 K. W. per hour. I desire to state further that each of these gentlemen's figures are higher than the ones I used in computing the cost.

I have been complimented for my ability, and it is stated that possibly at some later date, an inferior official might be appointed in my stead. But whose fault is that? Cannot he be removed? And future time some bad council might be elected, the old contract annulled, another instituted at a much different rate? This can be done if it is agreeable to the company. Franchises are granted before the old has been completed. Has this not been our past experience?

To correct an erroneous statement, I desire to state that I did not employ the consulting engineer, nor direct his calculations in any degree. But, on the contrary, declined to give my views as to cost, so that he could act as an independent. I simply furnished him the requirements.

In conclusion, I wish to add a few deductions of cost on old plant. Using Mr. Klingman's figures: moonlight schedule uses yearly $88,475 K. W. Philadelphia schedule $86,000 K. W. Ave. cost operation 1911-1914 including repairs $3,107.03
Ave. hours run 4 years 3,436 hours
Largest yearly run 3,823 hours
Cost had all years been the same as higher per K. W. .00384
Cost average actual run .00438
Cost 1914 under greatest possible disadvantage .00547
Cost average plus 1-2 interest on debt .00632
Cost averages including fuel at 12c per M. .01065
Deduction: The greater number of hours light given, the lower the rate per K. W. The more service given in number of lights, the greater the reduction per K. W.

I have used the four years as a fair calculation, as the expense on an old plant varies considerably. No delay records have been kept prior to the time that I installed them in 1911.

W. C. CHRISTIAN.

City's Bonded Indebtedness. Editor of The Advocate:—Referring to "Taxpayers' statement in your issue of Feb. 13th, I find an error in the total bonded indebtedness of the city. The total is not $1,258,824.51 as stated, but $1,077,174.51.

A. N. DODD, City Auditor.

Newark's Debt. Editor of The Advocate:—Please allow me space to make the following correction as to the bonded indebtedness of the City of Newark, Ohio as shown in Saturday's issue of your paper.

The total bonded indebtedness of the city previous to the sub-way issue was $673,567.16. Added to this the sub-way bonds and the Motor truck bonds and you have the total bonded indebtedness of the City in general bonds $925,567.16.

Then we have Special Assessment bonds that are taken care of with the special assessments on street improvements amounting to $92,357.35 which does not come out of the tax levy but to make the statement look big and the bonded indebtedness of the city look enormously large, the sub-way bonds and the Motor Truck bonds have been figured the second time which is an error, for the total bonded indebtedness of the city today including the Special assessment bonds is $1,018,824.51.

I think it is only fair to the Public to know what the real indebtedness of the City is. Why I made these corrections. J. S. W. has evidently neglected to include $6,350 Special assessment bonds recently sold. The total indebtedness to date according to the city auditor's books is $1,077,174.51.—Editor.

Favors Municipal Ownership. Editor of The Advocate:—Our experience with the gas company ought to warn the city to keep out of the clutches of public service corporations. I am convinced it will be cheaper in the long run for the city to make its own electricity.

EDWARD KIBLER, SR.

More Light.

Editor of The Advocate:—The letters in your Friday issue are about as enlightening as the present city plant. Mr. Hall asking the people of Newark to show their appreciation of the O. L. & P. Co. for locating their plant in Newark is a new light to say the least. If he thinks we had anything to do with that outside of being able to purchase more power than they could supply with their old plant, he don't know central stations. Newark, being central for the towns where they own plants and having water and coal handy was the natural place. Does anybody think they paid the price they did for their location just to be in Newark? Take the creek from Newark and we would never have seen a central station. The letter from Taxpayer is one of the best arguments for our new city plant I have seen yet. "Our municipal plant is a joke." "Our lights have not been burning." When we get good service we don't question a reasonable price." Could Mr. Christian or anybody else give any better reasons? Mr. Stasel with his array of figures, reminds one of Mark Twain, when he started to figure how long it would be until St. Louis was a suburb of New Orleans, from the fact that each year it was 90 miles shorter by river because of the slimming of curves. His arguments are like those of a taxpayer. He goes to great trouble to disagree with everybody's figures and then sums up just like the rest of us. With all his statistics he only proves that the present plant cannot be used for coal without loss. Did he ever hear anyone say different? That is the reason we want a new plant. Mr. Christian is not an electrical expert and I don't know just how he knows or if he is guessing about the meters being wrong, but I would like to ask Mr. Stasel if he is an electrical expert or how he knows these meters are right for he uses their readings in his figures. It seems the $30,000 bond issue is the trouble, or at least the reason they give. I would like to give some facts and figures as they look to me. On July 1, 1915 a law goes into force compelling 8 hour shifts at the waterworks station. The same men can run the light plant if it is taken there. Could any one who knows anything about power think of a cheaper plant than one that requires no building or no men to operate it and plenty of water for condensing purpose (a large item). This makes no cost except for the apparatus and its installation. Any cost for new lines, lamps or the care of them cannot be charged to the station because they cost the same if we buy from the Ohio Light and Power Co. This leaves the old plant to be disposed of and Mr. Woodward has suggested a plan to save the city $200 per year for stable rent. The engine and generator could be sold or taken to the new plant for an emergency. As to the future Service Directors running the plant what is the idea of having a chief engineer if he cannot run it? As to having the old plant to fall back on in case the purchased current is not satisfactory how could we do that if it is no good now? Would it improve it by leaving it stand idle?

The idea of loading the new plant with the bonds of the old plant is surely a good one but if we purchase current can Mr. Stasel load them on the Ohio Light and Power Company in case we bought of them? By moving the plant to the water works we save operation and fireman's wages leaving, $1,800.00 interest on $30,000 at 6 per cent $1,800.00 cost (newly larger); $500.00 and supplies ($453.00 engineers, guess.) $7,300.00 cost to operate light plant at water works one year. This will furnish better than 900,000 K. W. per year and should be enough as Mr. Stasel's meter reading gives less than 500,000 K. W. with his light burning half time. The purchase of 900,000 K. W. from O. L. & P. Co. at $0.11 per K. W., amounts to $9,900 per year, with $300.00 per year stable rent, after the interest has been saved, will go a great ways towards paying the bonds. No depreciation is figured as the plant will last until the bonds are paid when another can be built.

PRESIDENT OF BOARD OF TRADE GIVES OPINION

Attorney Carl Norpell, president of the Board of Trade, was asked by the Advocate today for an expression on the proposed electric light bond issue. Mr. Norpell replied:

"I don't claim to have investigated this subject sufficiently to give an accurate opinion about the matter. However, if the city can make a contract with the Ohio Light and Power company for say not less than 10 years at a rate less than what it will cost the city to produce the current, then in my judgment such a contract ought to be made without question."

"There cannot be any question but that the Light and Power company can produce and furnish the current for less money than it can be furnished by the city as they could furnish, with their present plant, with practically the same equipment and force, only requiring a little more fuel."

"If such a contract could be made then it would not be necessary to further encumber the city with municipal debt from $30,000 to $50,000 or that amount of money could be used for some other purpose much more advantageously to the citizens and tax payers of the city."

The High Cost of Distribution

NO 5

A wide range of plans is being tried, in the endeavor to bring back the old time conditions of direct trade between producer and consumer, or at least between producer and retailer.

One method attaining some popularity, is the public market idea. Farmers drive in, or send in some member of the family or hired man, with stocks of goods. Several farmers may combine to send in a supply to the stalls.

Such markets depend for their success on several conditions. The American people will not tolerate poor goods. Unless some market director has the absolute power to inspect the stock and condemn unfit articles for sale at that market, and unless he exercises that power strictly, a great deal of poor truck will be worked off. That will give the market a bad name, and outside stores will be preferred.

Another essential for success is a good system of rural transportation. If the farms supplying the market are reached only over poor rough roads, the daily transportation of goods in small lots becomes too costly. If there is good trolley or rail connection with outlying farms, the chance of keeping up regular and fresh supplies is much better.

A third essential is that the public give up its lazy reliance on delivery wagons, and carry their own bundles. Efforts are being made all over the country by agricultural colleges, farm bureaus, etc., to interest city people in buying from the farmer by parcel post and express. Containers are being devised to carry regular supplies of eggs, butter, chickens, greens, etc. It is asserted that a group of city families should be able to pay five cents a dozen more for eggs, five cents a pound more for butter, than the farmer now gets, and still underbid the grocer five cents each. This seems to be a hope rather than a demonstrated fact. But there is something in the idea. The retail dealer, however, if he is enterprising in seeking opportunities for direct purchase of goods, and if he uses the aid of the newspaper to reach out and broaden his trade, occupies an impregnable position.

Transmission of Thought.

(By Alfred Lawson.)

The day will come when speech will no longer be the medium through which man will communicate his thoughts. Our present system of interchanging ideas will gradually pass out of use owing to its inaccuracy of expression, and slowness of execution. Economic laws will cause man to save time by the elimination of speech, just as it caused him to save time through the elimination of the stage coach.

Notwithstanding that TIME in its broadest sense is unlimited, still, in the life of man it is limited to a few years of activity and therefore becomes his greatest asset which must be conserved and utilized to the very best advantage. We waste at least 50 per cent of our time nowadays in explaining, or trying to explain, our ideas one to another through the slow process of speech.

The grooves of habit and custom which take such a tenacious hold upon our lives cause us to oppose new ideas which have no direct bearing upon our immediate needs, so when we are told that according to economic laws, which by the way are just as exact as astronomical laws, that a few thousand years hence the human race will have reached a point in its development far in advance of its present state, and entirely different from anything that has ever been known before, we are likely to regard the forecast as absurd.

That innate opposition of the mind to peer into the future is the brake that retards our attainment of supreme intelligence.

Intelligence is developed to its highest degree by looking into, and understanding the possibilities of the future, as well as studying past events, which are but the causes of future effects. To look forward is to stimulate the mind to extraordinary action.

Nothing in the universe is stationary—everything is transitory; therefore, our ideas and methods of today give way before the changed conditions of tomorrow.

Speech is merely one of the little stepping stones man has momentarily rested his foot upon during his march toward real intelligence. It has answered and is still answering its purposes very well, but it must eventually pass out of use with as much certainty as hieroglyphics and other useless practices have gone out of man's life previously.

Ideas will ultimately be telegraphed from one mind to another direct, instead of being conveyed by the roundabout and primitive method of nasal and guttural sounds.

The new telegraphic process will eliminate waste of time as complete ideas will be transmitted instantly. Their accuracy will also be true and thus its advantages over our present ambiguous system can readily be understood.

The brain is a human telegraphic instantly being poured through the wires of our system. These wires bring our attention through the five senses of sight, taste, smell, hearing, and feeling all that we ever know about anything. This service is the

Why is it that most of the family rows start at the dining room table? Any old time a man is a good loser you can bet that he didn't lose much.

A lot of the June brides who were promised that they would never have to soil their itsey, weeny, pitty fingers by doing any work are now wrestling with the furnace every morning, while hubby pounds his ear until the house is nice and warm.

You can't make a princess believe it, but the fellow who can run fifteen balls at pool often has a hard time making $15 per week.

When a widow remarries the honeymoon usually lasts until her new husband asks her what she did with the insurance money.

The stork has more time to loaf these days. But lap dogs cost twice as much as they did twenty-five years ago.

The old fashioned man who used to have an 1890 model chicken coop in his back yard now has a son who keeps his 1915 model chicken coop in a garage in the back yard.

Every man wants to run the home newspaper and the home ball team. But if you tried to run his business he would want to fight.

Some men seem to be hanging around in the world just to keep their wives from having a little fun on the life insurance money.

Telling your wife that she looks better in her bungalow apron than the woman next door does in her new street dress doesn't keep Friend Wife from wanting a new street dress, but it saves her a whole lot and helps some.

A man's hat has to fit his head. A woman's hat has to fit her face. If a man bragged as much about "the wife" at home as he does when he is with the boys she would think a whole lot more of him.

THE OLD BOOK SHOP.

I dig around in dusty nooks — It's less a habit than a vice—and ponder over ancient books I'd like to own—but lack the price.

The shop is dark, and cobwebs hang down from the ceiling and the shelves; and every day the same old gang drift in there to refresh themselves. The same old fans in rusty black, with old time lids upon their domes; the workday world may jump the track—they'd care not, if they have their tomes. The same old shorts with misty eyes come in to paw the volumes old; they paw them, but none ever buys, for book fans seldom have the gold. The owner, in his rusty black, the most unpractical of men, puts time worn volumes on a rack, then sighs, and takes them down again. In this old shop trade's always slack, for who would buy such junk and trash? And everything is rusty black, and no one cares a cent for cash. The owner and the ancient fans, who chortle o'er some printed treat, don't understand our modern plans, which rest upon a balance sheet. They do not comprehend the hosts who wear away their lives for gold; they're living always with the ghosts of all the mighty men of old. If you should seek the old book shack to spend a roll of money there, the old, old men in rusty black, will tame with anger and despair!

The many friends of Miss Bessie Evans and Mr. Wm. Weight of Clinton street were delightedly surprised by their marriage Sunday morning. The bride is a cousin of Mr. J. W. Evans, the well known glass blower of North Fourth street, her native home being Doessely, North Wales.

The bridegroom is a popular and valued employee of the American Bottle company, and his position that of expert machinist. His native home is Newport, Monmouthshire, England. He is prominent in church and lodge circles, secretary of Trinity Sunday school and member of the choir and an active member in Masonic circles and Select Master of Bigelow Council E. & S. M. M. No. 7. He is also a member of the Patriarchal Militant of the Odd Fellows.

The bride was charmingly dressed in light brown suit with hat to match, and wearing a corsage bouquet. They were married at nine o'clock Sunday morning at the parsonage of the First Congregational church, Rev. Mr. Henshaw officiating, the impressive ring ceremony being used. The young couple will be at home to their many friends at 310 North Fourth street.

TODAY'S NEWS FROM BERLIN WAR OFFICE

(Associated Press Telegram) Berlin, Feb. 15.—By Wireless to Sayville.—The war office issued the following statement today:

"South of Ypres, near St. Eloy, the Germans took about 900 metres of the enemy's positions. Counter attacks were without success.

"Equally unsuccessful was the enemy's attack in the district southwest of La Bassée. Several dozen of prisoners were taken by the Germans.

"An advanced trench which the Germans lost on February second, near Sudelkopf was taken back.

"The Germans drove the enemy out of Seuzen, in the Lauch valley, Alsace. Rempach was evacuated by the enemy.

"North of Tilsit, East Prussia, the enemy was driven out of Piktuponen and pushed in the direction of Tauraggen. On both sides of the frontier, in the eastern lake district, engagements are in progress with the retreating enemy. German troops are advancing rapidly everywhere.

"German detachments marched in the Koelno district against the enemy, advancing beyond Lomza.

"In the Vistula district the Germans gained further ground and occupied Racine.

"The previous engagements, besides a number of prisoners, six guns were taken.

"In Poland, on the left of the Vistula there were no important changes."

COMPLEXIONS IN COLD WEATHER.

The women with delicate complexions are beset with many dangers during the cold weather as well as in summer heat. Creams and lotions must be resorted to when drastic measures are necessary. Cold affects some skins just as heat does others—that is, it will cause a rash to appear that is most irritating. The treatment for this, however, is vastly different from that given summer rash.

In winter there is more friction on the skin surface, and frequently there is less bathing to assist it in performing its function. The oils which would naturally go to the skin surfaces are perhaps used in other directions, and the new skin particle may not replace each other with the easy rapidity they do in warmer weather—then you feel burning and itching locally and a rash appears. But unless this condition has been allowed to reach an advanced stage, application of oils or salves will relieve it.

There are many preparations on the market which are designed to remedy such a rash. However, if the eruption is very mild, application of olive oil, cocoa butter or pure vaseline will heal it sufficiently.

Ointment of any kind proves more efficacious if applied after the bathing, for the skin then more readily absorbs what is applied on its surface.

face. If allowed to go uncorrected for, this rash furnishes easy access for infection to settle and may become a source of chronic complaint.

If the irritation seems to be an inevitable result of bathing, a milk sponge bath daily will soothe the skin. Too warm a room temperature and diet may be other aggravating causes of the eruption.

YOUR BOYS AND GIRLS

All children should be sent to dancing school, if the parents can possibly afford it. Dancing is a most health giving exercise, and teaches the children, the ease of grace of social life, before they arrive at the awkward age. Boys reach a bashful age, when their feet seem too big and their hands have a way of hanging in the ungainly manner, and it is then that a wise mother has her son taught to dance, before he becomes noticeably awkward and self-conscious.

There is nothing like dancing to remove self-consciousness, and five years is none too young for the average boy to learn to manage his feet and make a decent bow.

Dancing is useful for these two things if for nothing else, and in a large class, where all share alike and learn alike, the individual child does not feel conspicuous, and after the first lesson is over forgets that he is bashful and begins to enjoy himself. That is, if he is not too old.

New Treatment for Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh and Head Colds

Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" Salve Relieves by Inhalation and Absorption.

No Dosing.

No need to take internal medicines or habit forming drugs for these troubles. When Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" Salve is applied to the heat of the body, soothing, medicated vapors are released that are inhaled all night long through the air passages to the lungs. In addition, Vick's is absorbed through the skin, relieving the tightness and soreness.

Vick's can be applied over the throat and chest and covered with a warm flannel cloth—or a little put up the nostrils—or melt a little in a spoon and inhale the vapors arising. Also for Asthma and Hay Fever, rub Vick's well over the spinal column to relax the nervous tension. 25c, 50c, or $1.00.

CHAPTER II.
SAM found Bill Goode sitting on a box whittling.
"Hello, Bill!" said Sam. "Not working these days?"
"No; you bet I ain't," answered Bill. "I got enough of that durin' crop time."

"Well, what do you find around here?" asked Sam. "I never come to town except on business."

"For one thing," Bill replied, "I'm here tryin' to make some kind of arrangements for supplies this year. Didn't make enough to quite settle up with old Jim Anderson, and he's cut me off. Lots of times, though, us fellows come to town to get together and talk over our troubles. Misery loves company, you know, Sam. And sometimes we chip in and send off for a gallon of Old Crow. When a man gets a few swigs of that under his belt, Sam, he jest forgets all about bein' so doggone poor and ornery."

"Yes," said Sam, "and he makes a fool of himself and wastes his money, and after it's over with he feels worse and is poorer than he was before."

Bill Goode was a peculiar kind of fellow. He was almost always in a good humor, and you could hardly say anything to make him mad. But he didn't like to work. According to Bill, it was always too wet or too dry. He spent most of his time fishing and hunting, and he was a fine companion to have along on such a trip. He could tell you more funny stories than you could possibly remember. In the locality where he lived there was rarely any lack of rain, but Bill would often sit down on a log and picture in glowing colors what he'd do if he was "fixed to irrigate."

Bill had at one time owned the farm on which he now lived. But he got the fever "to go west." At last he found a man to buy him out, and he departed for the land where a man could live without working. He was gone about a year and came back "broke" and went on the farm he had left as a renter.

All during the sunny days when the grass and weeds were flourishing and choking out the crops not a glimpse could you catch of Bill in the field, but you could hear the deep mouthed bay of his hound, Triller, and the sullen boom of his muzzle loader off in the woods along the creek.

Bill chuckled at Sam's remark.
"But let that go," Sam continued. "I didn't come down here to preach. What I want to know is this: Will you plow my field for me some time soon?"

"What?" exclaimed Bill. "You ain't thinkin' of goin' back on that clay pile, are ye?"

"Yes; that's what I'm going to do."

"Well, you're crazier than I thought you was. Wish I was away from out there; you wouldn't ketch me goin' back. How do you think you're goin' to make a livin' on that farm?"

"I'm going to make it off the land, of course."

"Don't you git no sich fool idea into your head," Bill exclaimed with conviction. "Why, boy, that land won't sprout peas."

"It's going to do it anyway," replied Sam. "And, more'n that, it's going to grow 'em after they're sprouted. And, besides that, it's going to raise some of the finest corn and cotton in this county."

"You'll never do it," Bill asserted. "I know that land. You can't raise a disturbance on it."

"Look here, Bill," said Sam, "you've been on the farm a long time, and I guess you've learned some things about the business, but one thing is certain. You don't know how to farm, and the proof of it is that you don't raise good crops."

"Ain't nobody goin' to raise good crops when it's too dry or too wet. You got to have things right."

HAVE YOU HAD THE GRIP?
The debility and depression following an attack of the grip is not a fancied disorder. "Post-grippal neurasthenia" is the medical name for this condition and its seriousness is recognized by all medical writers.

One authority says: "Broadly speaking, every victim of the grip will suffer from post-grippal neurasthenia. Also, lowering of nervous tone, with increased irritability is the most striking effect of the disease, with languor of mind and body, disturbed sleep and vague pains in the head and elsewhere."

Every sufferer will recognize the symptoms. What is the remedy?
After the fever has passed and the influenza has subsided the diet should be more liberal but be limited to articles easily digested; rest and sufficient sleep are essential and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the only medicine required in most cases. This treatment should be continued until the patient is completely restored to normal health and spirits. It is a specific treatment and rarely if ever fails.

Send today for the booklet "Building Up the Blood." It is free if you mention this paper. Address Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

"No; that's not the trouble. Good crops can be raised with the seasons just as they are. And I don't know much about farming, but I'm going to show you how to do the trick better than it's been done in the neighborhood."

"Where'd you learn so much, I'd like to know?" Bill inquired in an amused tone.

"I learned it from books and from men that know how to farm."

Bill Goode slapped his thigh and laughed merrily.
"Gee, but that's a good one!" he said. "I wish Miles Fagan could hear that."

"He'll hear me say it, all right," Sam replied. "But I'm not going to argue with you fellows. I'm going to prove it. And now, what about that plowing? You didn't tell me whether you'd do it."

"Sure I'll do it. I ain't got nothin' else to do."

"I thought maybe you'd want to do your own plowing."

"No. I never fool with that till spring. I believe in lettin' the land rest. Sometimes I don't plow it at all—jest streak it off and plant it."

"Well, I want this land plowed deep, and when I say deep I mean deep. How much will you charge to do the work that way?"

"Let me see. You want the whole field plowed?"

"Yes, all of it."

"Well, that stumpy acre will be pretty knotty."

"Don't figure on that. I'm going to have the stumps out. I heard father say that a man couldn't be religious and cultivate a stumpy field. I believe he was pretty near right. A fellow's going to blow them out for me with dynamite."

"Blow 'em out with dynamite! By jacks, I didn't think there was no way to git up a stump except to break your back and grub it up. Would $20 be too much for that work, Sam?"

"No. I'm willing to pay that. I'll let you know as soon as I've got the land ready for you to go to work. What'll you take for the manure in your lot?"

"Oh, you won't find much there, I reckon. You can have it if you'll haul it off."

"All right. I'll be after it." Sam left Bill Goode and went down to see the owner of a livery stable.

"Want to hire somebody to haul that manure off?" asked Sam, pointing to a large pile that had been raked up at the back of the stable.

"Well, don't know exactly," said the man, figuring to drive a bargain. "If you'll do it reasonable I might make a deal with you. How much a load will you haul it for?"

"I'm going to school," Sam told him, "and don't have any time except afternoons after school, but if you'll let me do the work along as I have time, I'll haul it for 25 cents a load."

"Well, I'll just take you on that, bud. I've been paying 50 cents and it's too much. I don't care when you haul it, just so as you keep the most of it out of the way."

"All right," said Sam. "I'll be after a load tomorrow afternoon and another next Monday."

Sam Powell hurried home, delighted with his arrangements. He greased the one horse wagon, mended the harness and got everything in readiness for work. That night he told his mother and sister about his plans.

"That land is mighty poor," he said, "but I'm going to make it grow something. I'll get 25 cents a load for hauling manure from a stable downtown, and I'm going to put every load of it on our farm. I'll tell you how I'm going to manage it. I'll go down and load up one evening and drive home with it; then the next evening I'll haul it to the farm. That'll be three loads a week from town, and on Saturdays I'll haul manure from Bill Goode's or ashes from the gin."

"I didn't know ashes were good for land," said Mrs. Powell.

"Wood ashes are fine," Sam explained. "They burn wood at the gin and there's a little mountain of ashes there. Mr. Burton, the owner, gave them to me. Some of these days it won't be so easy to get fertilizer for nothing. They don't know what it's worth now."

"Oh, I'm so anxious to get out to the old home again!" exclaimed Florence. "When do you think we'll move, Sam?"

"I expect it will be in March or the 1st of April," was the reply.

"I do hate for you and Florence to miss any of the school," said Mrs. Powell.

"I'd forgotten to tell you, mother," said her son, "that school will be out in April. We'll miss only a week or two. They had to cut the session short because they've run out of money to pay the teachers."

"Well, that's not so bad," Mrs. Powell reflected. "Although you miss school, just the same, it really can't be helped."

The next day being Friday, Sam went down to the stable after school hours and hauled the first load of manure home so as to be in readiness to drive to the farm next morning with his companions, who were to be on hand at the appointed hour.

Early Saturday morning the boys—Fred, Joe and Andrew—were on hand at the appointed hour. Sam soon had the horse hitched to the loaded wagon, and the four boys rolled away over the gravelly road to the farm.

In an hour's time they had reached their destination, and the horse was unharnessed and turned loose to graze in the field. Sam found the farm in a worse condition than he had expected, and he had expected it to be bad. Briers and bushes and tall grass grew thick along the rail fence all around the field. Here and there next to the ground rails had rotted and allowed hogs to come in or go out at will. The last tenants hadn't taken any trouble to mend these gaps, and the hogs that ran outside had destroyed a part of the crops for two or three years.

"My! There's certainly some work to do here," Sam remarked.

"What's to do?" Fred Martin asked.

"For the first thing," Sam replied, "this fence row is to clean out, and then I'll have to cut some poles to put in the place of those rotten rails."

"Let me and Joe cut the poles," said Fred, "while you and Andrew clean out the fence row. Where's the ax, and how long must the poles be?"

"Go ahead, Fred, and you and Joe, broke in Andrew, smiling. "We know you don't like the looks of these briers and bushes, but we'll not kick."

"You'll find the ax in the wagon," said Sam, "and you can cut the poles the same length as the fence rails. I think they're about ten feet long."

When Fred and Joe had gone down in the woods Sam brought a brier hook and a sharp grubbing hoe with which to begin work on the tangled mass along the fence.

"My," he exclaimed, "but that's going to be a woolly job! Those boys had an eye to business, Andrew, when they took the chopping. It does seem like there ought to be some easier and quicker way of doing it than this."

"How long do you think it will take us?" asked Andrew.

"Well, I did think at first," replied Sam, "that it wouldn't take long. But now, since I've had a second look at it, I think we won't more than get started good today."

"If we could burn it out first," suggested Andrew, "it wouldn't be nearly so bad."

"No, but we'd burn up the fence," Sam said. "Couldn't we follow along with water and put out the rails when they caught fire?"

"Good for you, Andrew," Sam exclaimed. "That's the very idea. The fire will burn up nearly all the bushes and briers and kill all the boll weevils and other insects that are wintering in there at the same time. That's why fence rows ought not to grow up like this. Insects live in there in winter and come out to work on the crops in summer."

"Well, let's get the water and start our fire. I'm anxious to see how it works," said Andrew.

"I have two barrels up at the house," Sam explained. "We'll unload the wagon and go up and haul them down full of water."

The horse was harnessed again, the manure scattered and the boys were soon back with two barrels of water and a bucket. The fire was started and allowed to burn only in one direction—the way the wind carried it. Sam followed close behind with the bucket and poured water on the rails that now and then took fire. Andrew drove the wagon alongside and refilled the bucket from the barrels for Sam.

Once the fire had got well started it burned rapidly and in a very short while it had gone entirely around the field. Nothing remained of the matted tangle except a few charred bushes and coarse briers. Tacking the brier hook and the grubbing hoe, Sam and Andrew had these all down in less than an hour.

"Well, that job's done," Sam exclaimed when they had finished, "and it wasn't half as hard as I thought it was going to be."

"If we hadn't figured out a new way to do it, though, it would have been hard enough," said Andrew.

"Yes," Sam agreed, "we saved a lot of work there by using our minds a little. It doesn't pay to work without thinking, and I'm going to mix a little of it with my work from now on. Let's drive down after a load of poles and see how the choppers are getting along."

"Hello, there!" yelled Fred Martin when he saw Sam and his companion driving up. "You haven't deserted that job, have you?"

"No," the two replied in unison, "of course we haven't deserted it. We finished it, that's all, and now we're down after some poles."

"Aw, get out!" the two choppers scoffed. "Don't tell us you're cleared out that streak of briers. Why, a rabbit couldn't get through it."

"No," admitted Sam, "we didn't clear quite all of it ourselves, but what we did cut the fire did."

"Oh, you burned it out, did you?" "Sure, we put the fire to it, and the rats and rabbits had to hunt a new country."

"Well," Joe Watson remarked, "we have got the poles for you—about forty of them."

"Forty! My, but you must have been working," Sam congratulated. "Forty will be enough to mend the fence, I think."

When it came to mending the fence Sam had real reason to be glad that his comrades had come with him. By himself he would have been forced to tear down a panel of fence wherever a rotten rail was to be replaced. With help, though, it was the work of only a minute to pry up the corners and put in a new pole.

By noon the fence had been mended all around and the boys retired to a grove of walnut trees near the branch to eat their lunches. "That's job No. 2 done," said Sam when they were seated, "and goodness knows how long it would have taken me to do it if you boys hadn't come along."

"Well, it wasn't very hard work," replied Fred Martin, "just enough exercise in it to give us a good appetite. If you don't believe it just watch what we do to this bacon and corn bread and these onions."

"My, but they taste good," said Andrew, with his mouth full. "It's strange, but I couldn't eat these at home, and now there's not going to be enough of it for me."

The boys all laughed and said that they were thinking the same thing. Sam wouldn't hear of his chums working in the afternoon. He thought that they had already done enough, so they stayed to gather walnuts and explore the creek, while Sam went off to haul ashes and scatter them on the acre that was to be his prize patch of corn.

Miles Fagan happened to pass along while Sam was at work and leaned over the fence to watch him for a minute.

"What's that you're puttin' on the land, Sam?" he asked, after he had watched the boy for some time.

"Ashes," Sam replied, and went on shoveling.

"Ashes?" Mr. Fagan questioned. "Do you think it'll do any good?"

"Of course I do," Sam answered. "Most anything would do this land good. But didn't you know, Mr. Fagan, that ashes are a fine fertilizer?"

"No, I didn't," he said, "and I don't yet."

"Well, they are, anyhow," Sam assured him. "Two things that crops have to have are potash and phosphoric acid. You know that ashes contain potash, and they also contain some phosphoric acid. A government bulletin that I borrowed says there are about eight pounds of potash and one-third as much phosphoric acid in every hundred pounds of good ashes."

"Well, I didn't know they was good for anything," said Fagan, "except to get life from to make soap."

Sam wasn't proud and didn't think that he knew so much more than others, but he liked to be of help whenever he could.

"Why don't you send to the department of agriculture, Mr. Fagan," he asked, "and get some of the bulletins it publishes? We pay for that work, and why not make use of it? They experiment and learn a whole lot of things that we ought to know. I've written for several of the bulletins."

"I don't want anything to do with such foolishness," said Fagan. "What do they know about farming?"

"They know a lot," Sam replied, "and they're learning more every day. It's their business to experiment and find out things. You might waste two or three years experimenting to find out something that you could learn in five minutes by reading a government bulletin."

Miles Fagan merely grunted in reply. "I wish you'd let Bob join the Boys' Corn Club," Sam continued. "There's a chance for him to win a big prize, and, besides, it'll teach him how to grow corn."

"Guess I can learn my boy how to grow corn 'bout as well as anybody," said Miles. "But Bob and that agent have been a pestern' me to death 'bout it, and I told Bob yesterday that he could jine if he'd use some of that stumpy land over there."

"I'm glad of that," said Sam, and stopped suddenly. From the lower edge of the field came a boom that was like the report of a small cannon.

"Well, there goes some of my stumps," remarked the young farmer. "Guess I'll go down and watch a few of 'em jump out of the ground. I want to see how it's done."

SERVICES IN MEMORY OF THE MAINE'S DEAD

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Feb. 15.—Memorial services for the dead of the battleship Maine were held in Arlington national cemetery today. Patriotic organizations and United States troops, marines and blue jackets participated.

A feature was the placing of floral tributes from President Wilson and the president of Cuba on the Maine anchor and mast. The third United States artillery fired a national salute of 21 guns during the ceremony.

SURVIVORS OF THE MAINE WILL SPEAK TONIGHT.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, Feb. 15.—Survivors of the battleship Maine, which was destroyed in Havana harbor on Feb. 15, 1898, including Rear Admiral Sigsbee, retired, commander, and the Rev. J. P. Chaswick, chaplain of the Maine, when she was blown up, will be the principal speakers tonight at the annual memorial services of the Colonel John Jacob Astor camp, Spanish war veterans.

Rear Admiral Sigsbee and other survivors yesterday placed the bronze memorial tablet given to the Hebrew veterans of the Spanish war by the United States government years ago in the care of the Hebrew orphans' asylum. Besides Rear Admiral Sigsbee, there were four other survivors present.

UNVEIL TABLETS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 15.—The seventeenth anniversary of the sinking of the battleship Maine was celebrated here today by the unveiling of three stone tablets placed at the base of the Maine monument which was dedicated some time ago. One of the tablets was erected in honor of Lieutenant Friend W. Jenkins, of Pittsburg, who was the only commissioned officer to lose his life when the ship sank.

Sick Women Made Well

Reliable evidence is abundant that women are constantly being restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The many testimonial letters that we are continually publishing in the newspapers—hundreds of them—are all genuine, true and unsolicited expressions of heartfelt gratitude for the freedom from suffering that has come to these women solely through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Money could not buy nor any kind of influence obtain such recommendations; you may depend upon it that any testimonial we publish is honest and true—if you have any doubt of this write to the women whose true names and addresses are always given, and learn for yourself.

Read this one from Mrs. Waters:

CAMDEN, N.J.—"I was sick for two years with nervous spells, and my kidneys were affected. I had a doctor all the time and used a galvanic battery, but nothing did me any good. I was not able to go to bed, but spent my time on a couch or in a sleeping-chair, and soon became almost a skeleton. Finally my doctor went away for my health, and my husband heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and got me some. In two months I got relief and now I am like a new woman and am at my usual weight. I recommend your medicine to every one and so does my husband."—Mrs. TILLIE WATERS, 530 Mechanic Street, Camden, N.J.

From Hanover, Penn.

HANOVER, PA.—"I was a very weak woman and suffered from bearing down pains and backache. I had been married over four years and had no children. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound proved an excellent remedy for it made me a well woman. After taking a few bottles my pains disappeared, and we now have one of the finest boy babies you ever saw."—Mrs. C. A. RICKARDS, R.F.D., No. 5, Hanover, Pa.

Now answer this question if you can. Why should a woman continue to suffer without first giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial? You know that it has saved many others—why should it fail in your case?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs, it has restored so many suffering women to health. Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do that you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—stomach troubles look in your face—dark eyes with no sparkle.

Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action, yet always effective.

They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

NOSE CLOGGED FROM A COLD OR CATARRH

Apply Cream in Nostrils To Open Up Air Passages.

Ah! What relief! Your clogged nostrils open right up, the air passages of your head are clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, sniffling, mucous discharge, headache, dryness—no struggling for breath at night, your cold or catarrh is gone.

Don't stay stuffed up! Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic through every air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, giving you instant relief. Ely's Cream Balm is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer has been seeking. It's just splendid.

ACID IN STOMACH SOURS THE FOOD

Says Excess of Hydrochloric Acid is Cause of Indigestion.

A well known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion is nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation, then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas, or have heartburn, flatulence, waterbrash, or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast while it is effervescent, and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Try this! Mix Sage Tea and Sulphur and brush it through your hair, taking one strand at a time.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use tonic called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant. You will also discover dandruff is gone and hair has stopped falling.

Gray faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and look years younger. Frank D. Hall agent.

STRING OF SHIPS NEEDED IF BELGIUM IS NOT TO STARVE

After two weeks' investigations of actual conditions in Belgium, Arno Dosch, in a cable report to the New York World, has the following to say regarding Belgium needs, now the work of the commission:

"I have just made a two weeks' tour of Belgium to see how America's food was being distributed, and I can say it is going to the right months by the swiftest and surest means. Only hungry Belgians are getting it and not one sack of flour has been taken by the German soldiers."

"But if Belgium is not to starve this winter the United States must send a continuous string of ships loaded particularly with grain and flour. What has arrived already has been eaten at once. There is no surplus."

"Immediate success in relieving the hungry has been due to two causes. The rapidity with which the American commission for relief in Belgium has delivered the food at the Belgian frontier, and the business methods of the national committee of relief, a Belgian organization. The latter, in ordinary times, is a remarkably well organized charity which has been used by the leading Belgian citizens and was expanded to carry on this work. It has advantage of organization without the soullessness of organized charity."

"It makes all who can pay, but it gives to all alike. It has forty-seven soup kitchens in Brussels alone, to which all classes of the people come. There is no shame in buying at a soup kitchen. The most beautiful memory I have carried out of Belgium is the sight of sweet and gentle Belgian women who run these spick and span kitchens."

"I saw the Liege branch of this committee issue bread to 60,000 people at one point. It took nearly three hours to do it, and though the line was four deep and kept moving rapidly, the record of each recipient of every loaf of that bread was kept. I was a quarter of a mile away in the narrow streets when the distribution began and I was swept along in that great army of hungry people pouring through the streets. Anyone who saw that hungry throng would stop eating bread himself to see that the Belgians got it. In the crowd I was recognized constantly as an American and dozens said:

"Oh! You are one of the people who are sending us bread."

"It was very touching. All the good will that went from America with the food had been preserved in trust by the grateful Belgians."

THIN HAIR MADE LONG.

ABUNDANT, BEAUTIFUL. For hair that has lost its lustre—or has become straggly and is falling out—there is a surprisingly effective treatment that will convert it into a luxuriant, fluffy, lustrous growth. This is the famous treatment now becoming so popular in Newark, the great new scientific combination of hair growing and hair beautifying elements. All you do is to get a 50-cent bottle of Harina, a dainty preparation of refined, medicated shampoo. Soak the creamy lather of which, charged with health giving and nourishing oils, is the secret of the Harina Shampoo. Wash the scalp by the Harina Shampoo Comb, which you also receive free with your purchase. The circulation is increased, dandruff is loosened and removed, itching is ended, the hair is stopped from falling and the whole head of hair made strong and beautiful.

To get this novel, novel and wonderfully valuable soap free, buy a bottle of Harina from T. J. Evans. He guarantees Harina and will return price to any one dissatisfied. You will know him by the sign on his window. Philo Hag Spa. Co., Newark, N. J.

Tomb of Confucius.

Confucius was buried in the year 478 B. C. at his birthplace at K'ufu, near Yenchowfu. There lives at K'ufu today the seventy-fifth lineal descendant of Confucius on a large estate belonging to the descendants of the family of Confucius. The grave of Confucius, with those of his descendants of seventy-four generations, makes one of the most picturesque and one of the most unique spots in all of China. This family cemetery is encompassed in a wall eight to ten miles in circumference. The interior makes one vast grove, trees having been planted there since the burial of Confucius twenty-five centuries ago. Within a mile from the entrance to the Confucian cemetery is the Confucian temple, a set of beautiful Chinese temple buildings, with yellow glazed tile roofs amidst a grove of ancient cedars. Here we find also the ancestral hall of the descendants of Confucius. In close proximity to the Confucian temple is the home of the only surviving descendant of Confucius. This gentleman, Duke Kunz, lives here in a little principality of his own.

Brides and White.

In older days a bride of the poorer classes went to her wedding in white, as a warning to the public that since she brought nothing to the marriage her husband was not responsible for her debts. At the beginning of the eighteenth century brides began to introduce touches of color into their costumes. Blue was for constancy and green for youth. Yellow was never worn as it stood for jealousy.

GRAY FOLKS

Gray, Faded, Streaked, Hair Darkened. Stops Falling Hair. Look Young!

Here's an opportunity to try the effect of a harmless preparation called Q-Ban Hair Color Restorer on your hair and scalp with the guarantee of a reliable dealer that it won't cost you one cent unless it beautifully darkens your hair and promotes its growth. Simply apply Q-Ban, like a shampoo, to hair and scalp. It acts on the hair roots so the gray disappears and the hair is beautifully and quickly darkened so evenly, naturally and thoroughly that no one can tell it has been used. In addition Q-Ban stops itching scalp, dandruff and falling hair, and makes the hair thick, fluffy, soft, lustrous, beautifully dark and abundant. Q-Ban is not sticky or messy, but is a clean liquid. Try it. Darkens hair when all else fails. Only 50c for a big 7-oz. bottle at R. W. Smith, Newark, O. Out-of-town people supplied by mail.—(Adv't.)

British Life Guards.

England's famous life guards were organized just after the restoration. They were recruited from the old cavaliers who fought for Prince Charles Stuart, and in 1661 they were formed into three troops, then known as the King's Own, the Duke of York's and the Duke of Albemarle's. At that time it was always demanded that one troop should be raised in Scotland in honor of the house of Stuart—London Tit-Bits.

Troops and Winter.

When Napoleon went to Moscow and back it was found that the French soldiers stood the intense cold better than the Poles and north Germans. It is quite wrong, by the way, to suppose, as is often done, that that fatal winter set in early with exceptional severity. Napoleon invented that explanation to palliate the disaster into which he plunged his army. But the autumn was so exceptionally mild that the peasants believed that God was favoring Napoleon, and the first snowstorm did not come until Nov. 6, an unusually late arrival.

PUBLIC MEETING WILL BE HELD IN COUNCIL CHAMBER

Several men high in the railway circles of the country, will be in Newark on February 18, and a meeting has been called for that night in the Council Chamber. The meeting is an open meeting and it is desired that the business and professional men of the city as well as the men in general attend, and meet Col. W. H. Fisher, of the Hocking Valley railway, and chairman of the District Passenger Agent's association, General Passenger Agent, B. N. Austin, of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad with headquarters in Chicago and General Passenger Agent, J. D. Chesborough, of the Pennsylvania railroad with headquarters in Pittsburgh.

These men will address the meeting in behalf of the increase in passenger rates. The speakers will tell why Ohio should grant an increase of one-half cent per mile in passenger rates, and the Newark meeting is but a series of others that are being held in various cities of the state. This is a question which will affect directly, or indirectly every citizen, and a large audience should greet the visitors, and consider the question.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE

It's War Time Aspect.

London, Feb. 15.—The women of England are doing their duty. They are taking care of the wounded, or if they cannot assist in work of that kind they are adding their savings to promote the good work. They are knitting and sewing for the soldiers at the front. The suffragists have given so little trouble to the government that it will undoubtedly soften the hearts of those in Parliament, since the "militants" have turned all their energies to aid the fighting men of England, and so suffrage may soon come after this terrible war is over.

Thousands of women in America have overcome their sufferings, and have been cured of womanly ills by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This medicine, though started nearly half a century ago, sells more widely today than any other womanly tonic. It can now be had in tablet form as well as liquid, and every woman who suffers from backache, headache, nervousness, pain at times, should take this "Prescription" of Dr. Pierce.

Many a woman is nervous and irritable, feels dragged down and worn out for no reason that she can think of. In ninety-nine per cent of these cases it is the womanly organism which requires attention: the weak back, dizzy spells and black circles about the eyes, are only symptoms. Go to the source of trouble and correct the irregularities, the drains on the womanly system and the other symptoms disappear.

Doctor Pierce's Pills are unequalled as a Liver Pill. Smallest, easiest to take. One tiny, Sugar-coated Pellet a Dose. Cures Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Dizziness, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. 25 cents vial, by druggists.—Adv.

Decorations For Women.

There are few decorations for women in Europe, the most ancient order coming from the Austrian throne. It is the decoration of the Star and Cross and is given to women of high rank. Another is the Luise, founded in memory of the beautiful queen of Prussia whom Napoleon insulted. This order is given to all classes of women who subject themselves to any great self sacrifice.

Dandruff Heads Become Hairless

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

NEWARK PARTY FINDS RELIEF

New Kidney, Backache and Rheumatism Remedy Proves Itself Locally.

Mr. Ross Bounds, of 252 West Main St., Newark, Ohio, says:

"For a long period of time I suffered with sharp, shooting pains and a severe case of Neuralgia. My face was swollen badly and I suffered terribly. Nothing I took seemed to give me any relief. I tried several remedies but could not notice a change until I started taking Lloyd's Kidney and Rheumatism Tablets. This new scientific prescription is certainly a wonderful medicine. I am glad to recommend Lloyd's to anyone suffering as I did, as I am sure they will find a permanent cure."

AUTOMOBILE SHOW WILL BE HELD IN ARCADE IN APRIL

In carrying out the idea inaugurated last year, automobile dealers of Newark will again exhibit their demonstration cars in what is to be known as the Second Annual Automobile Show. The center spaces in the Arcade and the Arcade Annex have been secured for show purposes.

Last year's show was successful, according to automobile dealers, for it successfully advertised the 1914 models. This year, however, an endeavor will be made to make the show one that will long be remembered here. The dealers, knowing that in many points last year's show was weak, are working out the details for the 1915 show paying particular attention to the mistakes of a year ago.

It was at first thought possible to hold the show during the week of March 22-27, but some of the dealers are afraid that will not give them sufficient time in which to get their 1915 models on the ground so the date may be set for April 5-10. Either date would assure them an ideal show for it is at just the time when man begins to think of what summer might be without an automobile.

Plans are on foot to make each night of the show a banner night for crowds. Music and decorations will play a strong part in making the show a strong attraction not only for the automobile dealers but for the merchants of the city as well.

POULTRY MEN MEET TUESDAY
AT 7:30 O'CLOCK

The annual meeting of the Newark Poultry Association will be held Tuesday evening at the Evans barbershop, 38 West Church street, at 7:30 o'clock. At this meeting officers will be selected. The method of judging the poultry will be discussed and decided upon.

A MERCILESS JUDGE.

One Who Shows No Favor.

A merciless judge is Father Time. Before him the weak and the wanting bow to the wall. Only the truth can stand. For years the following statement from a Newark resident has withstood this sternest of all tests.

William M. Larason, 434 West Main street, Newark, says: "My back pained me terribly and if I stooped, sharp twinges caught me across my loins and hips. The misery nearly bent me double and I often had to put my hands on my knees in order to bend. Sometimes I felt as if I were going to topple over from dizziness and dark spots floated before my eyes, nearly blinding me. The action of my kidneys, was irregular and caused me a lot of trouble. All is different now since I used Doan's Kidney Pills. They made a cure and it is lasting."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Larason had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

THE VARIOUS BREEDS OF BEEF CATTLE

(Prepared by the United States department of agriculture.)

FARMERS who intend to go into the business of raising cattle for feeding or slaughter and who are in a position to manage properly large herds will find it most profitable to select one of the best breeds.

The best breeds, as the name implies, have been carefully bred and developed in order to produce a maximum amount of beef of high quality. The cows, as a rule, give little more milk than is necessary to raise their calves. Farmers who desire to secure a maximum production of beef, therefore, from their cattle should not expect a surplus of milk.

THE POPULAR SHORTHORN.

OF the various breeds of beef cattle in the United States the Shorthorn is the most popular. Because of its gentle disposition, its adaptability and its milking qualities, which are exceptionally high for a beef breed, the Shorthorn has come to be known as the "farmer's cow." Moreover, where grasses are abundant and feeds are plentiful there is no breed which will surpass it for beef production, the thick loin and full hindquarter furnishing profitable cuts. The large milk flow insures a good calf, but in some cases this is actually a disadvantage, for it has been found that calves cannot always take all the milk, and the result is the loss of a test or a portion of the udder.

The Shorthorn is the largest as well as the most popular of the beef breeds. The bulls reach a weight of 1,500 to 2,000 pounds or more, and mature cows, when raised under favorable conditions, weigh from 1,300 to 1,600 pounds. Greater weights than these are by no means rare, but extremely heavy animals are not regarded as especially desirable. The color of the breed is red, red and white, pure white or roan. The latter is so distinctive of the breed that its presence in any cattle is considered evidence of Shorthorn blood.

POLLED DURHAM CATTLE.

A VARIATION of the Shorthorn is the Polled Durham, of which there are two general divisions—the single standard and the double standard. The single standard Polled Durhams have been produced by breeding mulley cows to Shorthorn bulls, selecting the polled offspring and breeding these to other Shorthorn bulls. To produce double standard Polled Durhams, pure bred Shorthorn cows that were either natural mulleys or had "scurs" (undeveloped horns), were bred to Shorthorn bulls. In consequence double standard Polled Durhams are pure bred Shorthorns and can be registered either in the Shorthorn or the Polled Durham herd books.

Thus both the single standard and double standard Polled Durhams are similar to the Shorthorns in every way except for the lack of horns. Some breeders, however, have developed the dual purpose qualities in this breed to a greater extent than with the Shorthorns.

HEREFORDS ARE GOOD RUSTLERS.

NEXT to the shorthorn in point of numbers in the United States comes the Hereford, a breed particularly well adapted to scant pastures and ranges where water holes are far apart. Under adverse conditions they do better than the Shorthorns, which accounts for their constantly increasing popularity. They respond readily to a favorite environment, as well as thriving under conditions in which other breeds do not. Their weight is practically that of the Shorthorn, but the conformation is such that the Hereford bull is smaller.

The Hereford seem particularly adapted to the south. The heat bothers them more than it does in the corn belt, and on the larger plantations, where it is more difficult to give the animals good care and where the production of beef alone is desired, their ability as rustlers is particularly larly desirable. They have also proved popular for improving native stock. A new breed of Polled Hereford has recently been developed by selecting a breeding stock which show polled characteristics. This breed, however, differs in no other way from the Hereford.

ABERDEEN-ANGUS AND GALLOWAYS.

STANDING in some respects between the Hereford and Shorthorn is the Aberdeen-Angus, an old breed, which, however, has become popular in this country only in recent years. The Angus responds readily to good treatment, and because of this their early maturity, their exceptional vigor, high quality, general smoothness, uniformity and the high percentage age of meat produced, the breed has become the most popular one among cattle feeders, especially in the corn belt and neighboring states where much feeding is done. They are, however, also popular in the south on account of their ability to withstand heat. On scanty pastures they do better than the Shorthorn, but not so well as the Hereford.

Finally there is the Galloway. Although one of the oldest breeds of cattle, the Galloway has never become very popular in this country and is probably never destined to be so. Animals of this breed do not respond so readily to good treatment and plenty of feed, as in all the other breeds mentioned, and they are therefore not so well suited to the corn belt. On the other hand, their long silky coat of hair enables them to stand cold weather with little discomfort, and for this reason they have proved very valuable in the northwestern ranges of Canada. Another useful characteristic is the uniformity of the offspring when the bulls are used for grading up or for crossing. They are polled, solid black in color and somewhat smaller than the other beef breeds.

Full descriptions, with illustrations, of the various breeds of beef cattle are contained in farmers' bulletin 612 of the United States department of agriculture, "Breeds of Beef Cattle," which has just been published, and copies of this bulletin will be sent free by the department on request. The selection of the proper breed is of such vital importance that all prospective cattle raisers are strongly advised to study the matter.

SHEEP ON THE FARM.

Valuable as Weed Scavengers Besides Yielding Mutton and Wool.

It is certain from long observation of sheep by many practical men that a limited number of this useful animal may be carried on almost any farm in the land at a very trifling cost to the owner, writes a Virginia farmer in the Farm and Home.

Many plants and much other herbage that other stock will not eat are readily appropriated by sheep. They are great brambles and plant scavengers, and, while they prefer and will travel a long way to find green, succulent and tender browsing, almost anything that is green and succulent will be eaten by them.

For this reason it is an excellent plan to have a few sheep to browse over the cattle pastures of the farm and weed out the coarse plants that hinder the good grasses that cattle prefer from attaining their best growth.

Though one may prefer to feed his flock with some liberality, enough to maintain the sheep in good plight and health at all seasons, yet no domestic animal can live and thrive and be content upon so little feed as will the sheep. For the man of small means no species of stock offers such inducement as does the domestic sheep, natives or cross breeds.

Besides the annual clip of wool, there are the byproducts of the manure and an occasional mutton to sell to the butcher besides the yearly increase from lambs and the pelts of those slaughtered upon the farm.

If sheep are duly housed or penned at night year in and year out the amount of manure that may be saved from one or two dozen animals will amount to quite an item in the course of a year. And no domestic manure is richer in fertility or in better shape to handle and apply or better suited to any crop than that of the sheep.

Feeding the Brood Sow.

Corn fed the sows makes their pigs fat before farrowing. But the pigs need fat only after their eyes open on this world. Prior to that time they need only bone, muscle and vigor. Alfalfa hay, bran, roots and other protein bearing feed prepare the sow for successful farrowing. Corn fed sows are the ones which die at this critical time more than any other—Farm and Fireside.

Scurvy Hogs.

Spray the body of the scurvy hog with a dip solution made by using two parts of dip to a hundred parts of water. This solution can be used at a moderately warm temperature. Repeat this in about one week.

The steel trust spends $750,000 a year in safety devices.

"The Meat of the Future"

Shredded Wheat

It contains more nutriment, pound for pound, than meat or eggs, is more easily digested and cost much less. The best cure for liver and uric acid troubles is a meatless diet. Make Shredded Wheat your meat for ten days and see how much better you feel.

Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits, heated in the oven to restore crispness, served with hot milk or cream make a complete, nourishing, satisfying meal at a total cost of five or six cents. ## 8th Bulletin Is Issued By Asso. Charities

A CORRECTION.
My report of Out-of-Door relief work published in Saturday's paper, lost an important line in transit. Expenditures for the five days ending Feb. 12th were given as follows:

Out-of-Door work ..... $179.40
Free Aid ..... 110.10
The correct statement was:

Out-of-Door work ..... $179.40
Free Aid ..... 40.45

Free aid for the corresponding period the previous week (before the outside work was begun) $110.10. These figures contain the significant point of the report. They show a decrease in free aid for the five days of $89.65. They also show an increase in total aid of $169.75 on account of the work. When we consider that this increase was expended for work done by men and boys to support families, and that a number of these were families that would not ask free aid, although in great need, this increase also marks progress.

Co-operation also made a decided gain last week. A certain agency with relief to distribute had not the time to investigate and requested the Associated Charities' Office to designate families in need. Our registration gave the information and most timely aid was given.

We are ready to serve Sunday School classes, Churches, Clubs, Lodges and all relief agencies in this manner. We are thus creating a Red Cross Bureau which is really a confidential exchange and is available to all relief agencies.

Mr. James L. Fisher, agent of Associated Charities in Columbus, will speak of the value of this feature of our work in his address Wednesday night at the City Hall. See announcement tomorrow.

ROAST PIG IS ENJOYED BY PHIGAMS

Annual Feast Held at Chamberlain Lodge—Washington Banquet at Granville Next Friday Night.

(Special to The Advocate)
Granville, Feb. 15.—About fifty-five Phi Gammas banqueted at the S. S. Chamberlain Lodge of Phi Gamma Delta Saturday night and enjoyed the reunion arranged by the hospitable board. "Roast pig" was the piece de resistance of this annual feast, and good fellowship the ruling spirit. Many alumni graced the occasion with their presence, among them being half a dozen prominent in Newark business circles.

Mr. John A. Chamberlain, a lawyer of Cleveland, O., and a graduate of Denison University, was a guest over Sunday at the home of his brother and sister, President and Mrs. Clark W. Chamberlain. Mr. Chamberlain is one of Cleveland's "live wires," a man with the brains and the courage to bring things to pass. He attended the banquet at the Phi Gam house Saturday night.

Mr. Wallace H. Cathcart, president of the Historical Society, Cleveland, was a Granville visitor over Sunday, and was a guest at the Phi Gam banquet Saturday night.

Mr. Clarence Brown, Denison class of '11 whose headquarters are in Cleveland, was calling on Granville friends Saturday. Mr. Brown has made good as agent for the Coil Locomotive Bureau.

Mr. Harry Ford, president of the Saxon Car company, was one of the banqueters at the Phi Gamma Delta Chapter House, Saturday night.

Prof. and Mrs. Karl Eschman, who were week-end visitors in Dresden, O., have returned to their home in West Maple street.

Mr. Henry F. Colby, who was one of the Denison boys about a decade ago, was the guest of Sigma Chi fraternity over Sunday. Mr. Colby is office and sales manager for the Mergenthaler Linotype company with headquarters at Cincinnati, to which place he is returning from a successful trip into West Virginia.

A pleasant feature of the Washington-Banquet arranged for next Friday evening will be the reception in Stone Hall preceding the dinner, at which time opportunity will be afforded for general greetings among the guests. A good orchestra will be in attendance. Another feature which will commend itself to outsiders, is that special tables will be at the service of all individuals who wish to attend.

A Columbus newspaper contains the following notice of a former Shepardson College girl, a member of Kappa Phi sorority whose home is in Boston: "Miss Harriet Haggard, traveling secretary of the Student Volunteers at Ohio State university, was tendered a reception Friday afternoon at the Women's Union on the campus. Hostesses were members of the university Young Women's Christian association and local Student Volunteers. Miss Haggard is a graduate of Denison university."

Dr. R. S. Colwell, who has been confined to his room during the past week with an attack of grippe, was able to attend church yesterday and will meet his classes on Monday.

Those who failed to attend the Denison-Colgate game in Cleveland hall, Saturday night, missed one of the most exciting contests ever witnessed in this place. Great satisfaction is felt at the outcome. Reese, Jones and Thiele came in for special mention. Don Hamilton of Notre Dame was referee. Final score 45-34 in favor of Denison.

The Philharmonic String Quartette which is booked for tomorrow (Tuesday evening) will play in the Baptist church at 8 o'clock. Newark patrons who care to attend may telephone Ullman's drug store for seats, with the assurance of securing good ones. There are no poor seats in the Auditorium.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE? HARK YE! There will be a public debate on this question at the Cherry Valley school house next Thursday evening, the 17th inst., commencing at 7:15 o'clock. The disputations on the affirmative will be M. R. Scott, O. C. Larason and E. S. Randolph; on the negative, S. L. Vermillion, Bob Forgrave and A. M. Claggett.

SOAP IS BAD FOR THE HAIR

Soap should be used very sparingly, if at all, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it. The best thing for steady use is just ordinary, unperfumed coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), a cheaper and better than soap or anything else you can use.

One or two tablespoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily without leaving any particle of dust, dirt or dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly and leaves the scalp soft, lustrous, healthy and easy to manage.

You can get purified coconut oil at any pharmacy, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

No Advance Is Being Made by The Germans

Either Toward Warsaw or In the Carpathians, Although Offensive Movement Along Eastern Front Has Been Successful Along Both Flanks, So Reports State

DESPERATE FIGHTING IS OCCURING IN MOUNTAINS

Russians Claim Minor Successes and Capture Number of Prisoners and Munitions of War—Guns of Allies According to Paris Reports From the Western Front Have Been Successful in Silencing Batteries and Destroying German Trenches at Beauraine.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, Feb. 16.—The general offensive of the Teutonic allies along the extended eastern front is continuing successfully on both flanks, judging from reports reaching London, but without any visible forward movement on the front toward Warsaw or in the Carpathians.

The Bucharest report that the Austrians have re-occupied Czernowitz, the capital of Bukovina, has not been received from any other source, but Petrograd admits officially that the Austrians are still advancing in Bukovina in considerable force and that desperate fighting marks the operations in the passes of the Carpathians, where the Russians are claiming minor successes resulting in the capture of men and munitions of war.

In East Prussia, the Russians have not yet regained their fortified lines and the German advance, while not checked, seems to British observers to be proceeding with less speed.

Paris reports from the western front that the sole activity consists in artillery engagements in which the guns of the allies have been successful in silencing batteries northeast of Ypres, and destroying German trenches at Beauraine.

In diplomatic circles, the replies of Germany to notes from neutral powers concerning Germany's proposed marine war zone are awaited with interest; Great Britain's reply concerning the use of neutral flags is given secondary importance. The German press is hinting that satisfactory assurance by Great Britain on the question of neutral flags would constitute the best safeguard to American shipping.

GERMAN STAFF REPORT OF THE WAR'S PROGRESS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Berlin, Feb. 16.—By wireless to Sayville.—The German staff today gave out a report on the progress of the war as follows:

"Western theatre of the war: The attacks of the enemy upon the trenches taken by German troops from the English near St. Eloy were yesterday repulsed; otherwise there have been no important developments in the west.

Eastern theatre of war: The fighting and the pursuits on and beyond the East Prussian frontier are proceeding very favorably. In Poland, north of the Vistula German troops have occupied Bielsk and Plock after a short engagement. About 1,000 prisoners were taken south of the Vistula. There have been no important developments.

"Foreign newspapers are publishing the most absurd rumors concerning immense German losses in the fighting to the east of Bolimow. Russian Poland which began in February. It can be said that the German losses in these attacks were small in proportion to the successes attained."

The commencement of operations in the waters designated by the German government as a war zone is awaited here with the greatest eagerness as well as with much curiosity. It appears likely, however, that it will be some days after February 18 before any news is received. Indeed the Germania in an article which is reprinted by the Nord Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, says it may be 10 to 15 days before the public is informed on the subject. It warns its readers not to place credence in rumors, but rather to wait for official reports which will be based on reports from commanders of submarines.

The Germania considers the possibility that neutral ships will be destroyed as "fairly certain," but declares that they have had a proper warning.

There are no indications as to the tone of the German note, in reply to the American representations which may be delivered today.

The newspapers give much space to the German victory in East Prussia, whose most pleasing feature, from the Berlin viewpoint, is that it virtually clears the province of hostile forces.

SUPREME COURT

HANDS DOWN DECISION TODAY IN SEVERAL CASES IN COLUMBUS

Will Pass Upon Five Cent Fare for Residents of Suburban City—Old Cases Up.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, Feb. 16.—Authority of citizens of Pleasant Ridge, a suburb of Cincinnati, to make the Interurban Railway and Terminal company give a five cent fare to and from the city will be passed upon by the supreme court as a result of a decision today which permits a hearing on the case.

Before the village had been annexed to the city, the Rapid Railway company was granted a franchise through the village, on condition that if the village became part of the city, a five cent fare would be granted.

The Interurban railway then acquired the holdings of the other company. Pleasant Ridge was made part of the city, and citizens demanded the five cent rate which was refused. The court of appeals decided that the lower rate should be adopted. The company claims the village had no right to include a clause in the franchise making a five cent fare compulsory.

A case that has been in the court for almost a quarter of a century was wiped from the docket today by a decision dismissing a mandamus action brought in 1892 by Arthur M. Carrier, a school teacher of Summit county, who sought to compel the state board of examiners to grant him a certificate. The case has been practically a dead issue for years, and the court anxious to clear the record secured final action.

Among the members of the state board of examiners at the time the action was brought were Alston Ellis, now president of Ohio University, Edmund A. Jones, a former state school commissioner, E. T. Nelson, J. W. Knott, and William J. White. Another mandamus case in which the parties had all lost interest was settled by the court. William C. Brown was elected prosecuting attorney of Jefferson county at the 1912 elections, but the board of elections refused to grant him a certificate because Brown had been indicted by a grand jury under the corrupt practices act for "unlawfully expending $504.90 to secure nomination and election."

On the refusal of the board of elections and Governor Harmon to grant the certificates of election, the mandamus was brought. After the suit was filed, Brown was granted a certificate and the mandamus action was never pushed. Final settlement was made by the court to clear the record, when it decided that Brown was entitled to his certificate.

DEMANDS OF GREEKS WILL BE SATISFIED

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Rome Feb. 16.—Private dispatches received here from Athens say the impression prevails there that Turkey will satisfy the demands made upon her by Greece following the alleged insult to an attaché of the Greek legation at Constantinople.

It is argued that Turkey cannot afford at the present time to add Greece to the number of her enemies particularly in view of the fact that she knows Greece is ready to enter at once upon a campaign to redeem the islands inhabited by Greece still under Turkish control.

A dispatch received in London yesterday from Athens said the Greek minister at Constantinople had left the Turkish capital, leaving his secretary of legation in charge because of the insult offered a Greek attaché. The Porte had promised satisfaction but was slow in carrying out its agreement.

PRES. WILSON

Believes in Rule to Stop Obstructive Tactics Which Would Not Cut Off Fair Debate.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Feb. 16.—President Wilson told callers today he favored a reasonable and general closure rule in the senate. He believes in a rule to stop obstructive tactics but which would not cut off fair debate.

Discussing the shipping bill, the president said he believed the majority of the senate was for it and that evidences of the need of its passage were accumulating. He told callers he did not expect the shipping bill nor the appropriation bills to fail and therefore he had not finally considered calling an extra session.

ENGLAND'S REPLY TO AMERICAN NOTE BEFORE PRESIDENT

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

The long document of some 7,000 words was finally translated from diplomatic code after several days of work in the state department and taken to the White House by Secretary Bryan. Arrangements for its publication have not been completed, pending arrangements between Washington and London to give out the text simultaneously.

LEGISLATORS

WHO HAVE BEEN ILL RETURN TO DUTIES AT OHIO CAPITAL

Strength of Republican Majority In Senate Will Be Put to Test—The Cigarette Bill.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, Feb. 16.—Representative W. O. Jackson of Clark, who has been ill at his home in Springfield, since the opening week of the legislative session, was in his seat today. He was a leading candidate for speaker of the house. Representative Walter Agler, of Stark, also returned today after more than a week's absence because of illness in his family.

Members of the Winans legislative committee investigating the bank department, were busy today searching records of the department for evidence of irregularity and mismanagement during the administration of Emory W. Lattanner as superintendent, charged by witnesses before the committee last week. Hearings will be resumed tomorrow.

Strength of the Republican majority in the senate was about to be put to test today when the Morrow bill providing means of decentralizing the agricultural commission's work came up for third reading and final action.

Democratic senators prepared to resist passage of the bill, and before the senate adjourned, Democratic leaders discussed the advisability of conducting a speechmaking filibuster on the measure. They hoped at least to be able to amend the bill in a number of minor ways and send it back to the agricultural committee for further consideration.

Whether cigarettes shall be barred from sale or manufacture for sale in Ohio, was a question before the house today, with the Danford bill on the calendar for third reading and final action. The committee on public health reported it out without recommendation. House leaders said it is possible the bill would not be reached on the calendar.

Other measures on the calendar for third reading were the Fellingner-Merkel bill to let East Cleveland issue bonds for running expenses because of the tax assessment against the John D. Rockefeller estate is involved.

Light Question To be Decided At an Election

Proposition to Issue $30,000 Worth of Bonds to Remodel The Municipal Plant Will be Left to the Voters—Tuesday, March 30, Is Selected as the Date

EMERGENCY ORDINANCE TO ISSUE BONDS WITHDRAWN

Resolutions Awarding Subway Bonds to Cincinnati and Chicago Buyers, and Awarding City Funds for Deposit to Two Newark Banks Are Adopted—Mr. Seward Compliments Advocate for Fair and Unbiased Report of Meeting at High School—Charities Movement Defended Before Council.

Newark's voters will determine whether the city shall issue $30,000 worth of bonds to remodel the municipal electric light plant and operate it at the water works station. This was decided upon at Monday night's council meeting when Councilman Seward withdrew his original bond issue ordinance which was declared to be an emergency measure, and substituted another with the emergency clause eliminated. At the same time a resolution declaring it necessary to issue the $30,000 worth of bonds, and putting the matter up to a vote of the people, was adopted on suspension of rules after considerable discussion of the measure. The resolution names Tuesday, March 30, as the date when the special election will be held. It is not a referendum election, the council putting the matter up to the voters just as the subway bond was voted upon nearly 18 months ago.

There was little or no discussion of the merits of the bond issue for lights or purchase of current at Monday night's meeting. What discussion took place over Councilman Rexroth's resolution for the special election, dealt with the question of the completeness of the resolution itself. Sentiments expressed by members of council indicated that they were interested mostly in having no hitch in the proceedings to call the election.

Several times alterations in the wording of the resolution were made upon motion of members of council after conferring with City Solicitor Norpell. The resolution was drawn up at the eleventh hour, and no one was sure that it was complete in its detail. It was determined that the resolution need not instruct the deputy state supervisors of elections the manner of wording the ballot and after this decision was reached, the measure was passed on suspension of rules.

Councilman W. C. Seward, who has been actively supporting the proposed bond issue, voted "no" both on the motion to suspend rules and the motion to adopt. He explained that while he favored calling the election, he was opposed to the adoption of the resolution until council was absolutely certain that the measure was correct in every detail.

Mr. Seward's substitute ordinance for the issue of bonds did not pass on suspension of rules. The motion to suspend rules on the ordinance was lost when Mr. Payne and Mr. Rexroth voted "no" and Councilman Baker remained silent as his name was called. This gave the motion to suspend, six votes, one short of the number necessary to suspend the rules.

In supporting this ordinance, Mr. Seward addressed council, saying that he had eliminated the clause making it an emergency measure. "I have no desire to take advantage of any one in this matter and therefore I have withdrawn the original measure and substituted this ordinance with the emergency feature left out," said Mr. Seward.

Continuing his remarks about the controversy over the proposed bond issue, Mr. Seward said: "This council went to the trouble of inviting the public to attend a public meeting for the discussion of the light plant matter. Council and citizens heard the matter discussed pro and con. Those who did not attend the meeting and did not hear the discussions, got a fair and unbiased report of the meeting in the Advocate, which printed the speeches almost verbatim. It was the only paper in the city which printed both sides of the discussion in full."

The council chamber was well filled when the meeting was called to order. In the section reserved for spectators sat business and professional men, and representatives of organized labor. The reading of the journal was dispensed with by vote of council, and the business in the hands of the clerk disposed of rapidly.

Mayor Bigbee sent to council his appointment of William F. Oatman as member of board of health to succeed S. A. Albaugh, resigned.

The finance committee reported that $6,000 worth of city portion bonds had been rejected by the industrial commission of Ohio. The same committee reported bids received for deposit of city funds and recommended that the funds be awarded to the Licking County bank and the First National bank. Bids on the $240,000 worth of subway bonds were also reported and the committee recommended that the bonds be awarded to Seasongood & Mayer and E. H. Rawlings & Company of Chicago, who submitted a joint bid.

The street committee reported that property owners should be notified to construct sidewalks on Clinton street. The report was received and filed.

The public service committee recommended that Engineer H. F. Hitter's report on the electric light plant be accepted. It was recommended that the contract of the Ohio Light and Power company be received and filed as it was determined that the proposed bond issue for the light plant should be referred to a vote of the people. The report was accepted.

A report of the board of health for the year 1914 was submitted and upon motion was received and filed.

Clerk Woodward reported that he had $50 of the cemetery endowment fund and asked instructions as to its investment.

Buena Vista street property owners asked that the street be paved with a 20 foot roadway of brick or macadam. The petition was signed by Della M. Howard and fourteen others. Councilman Payne moved that "inasmuch as the street committee has not been on Buena Vista street for at least 30 days," the petition be referred to that committee. It was so referred.

The Carpenters and Joiners union submitted a resolution protesting against making a contract for street lighting and approving of municipal ownership of the light plant.

Messrs. Baugher & McGruder submitted a plat of Jefferson Place addition in the northern part of the city. It was referred to the street committee.

Helen Hohl, owner of property at Tenth street and Western avenue, protested against paying the assessment for the Tenth street sewer, stating that it was of no benefit to the property. The communication was referred to the law committee.

An ordinance introduced by Councilman Payne, amending the peddler's license law, was passed on suspension of rules. It provides for a license of $25 per year for horse drawn vehicles, and $15 per year for push cart or basket peddlers. It amends ordinance No. 2115.

Mr. Rexroth's ordinance accepting the plat of the Jefferson Land company's addition known as the Jefferson Place Addition, was passed on suspension of rules.

Councilman Seward offered a new ordinance to issue $30,000 worth of bonds for the rehabilitation of the light plant eliminating the emergency clause.

President Wilson's Fight For The Ship Bill Is Launched In the Lower House Today

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Feb. 16.—President Wilson's fight for his ship bill, was launched in the house today with a special rule limiting debate to six hours.

Democratic leaders were sure that holding their large majority firm, they would have a new measure bearing the approval of the administration and probably attractive to some Republicans ready for the senate before the end of today's session.

Meanwhile the senate marked time, committees showed great activity on the long-delayed appropriation bills and the special committee appointed to investigate any "lobby" in connection with the ship bill, held a preliminary organization meeting.

President Wilson, after conferences with leaders, came to no determination on the question of an extra session and only sent out word to press the fight in the fourteen days which remain to the sixty-third congress.

The President conferred with Senators Kern and Stone and afterward Mr. Kern intimated the Democrats had definite plans for getting the bill through the senate but he refused to reveal details.

The President was told it will be possible to rush the appropriation bills through the senate in three or four days.

After a preliminary round of debate in which the Republicans hurled charges of "gang rule," and the Democrats defended the measure, the special rule was finally adopted, 186 to 139 and the house settled down to six hours of speechmaking, which under ordinary circumstances, would permit a final vote about 8 o'clock tonight.

Peculiar After Effects Of Grip This Year

Leaves Kidneys In Weakened Condition

Doctors in all parts of the country have been kept busy with the epidemic of grip which has visited so many homes. The symptoms of grip this year are often very distressing and leave the system in a run down condition, particularly the kidneys which seem to suffer most, as almost every victim complains of lame back and urinary troubles which should not be neglected, as these danger signals often lead to dangerous kidney troubles. Druggists report a large sale on Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root which so many people say soon heals and strengthens the kidneys after an attack of grip. Swamp-Root is a great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, and being a herbal compound, has a gentle healing effect on the kidneys, which is almost immediately noticed in most cases by those who try it. Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., offer to send a sample size bottle of Swamp-Root, on receipt of ten cents, to every sufferer who requests it. A trial will convince any one who may be in need of it. Regular size bottles 50cts. and $1.00. For sale at all druggists. Be sure to mention this paper.

BIRD CENSUS SHOWS SPARROWS MORE NUMEROUS

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Feb. 10.—A census of birds of the United States announced by the department of agriculture today shows an average of sixty pairs of English sparrows to the square mile or seven to every one hundred native birds throughout the country. The robin is shown to be the most numerous bird of the English sparrow a close second. In the northwest robins averaged six pairs to each farm of 33 acres, while English sparrows averaged five pairs per farm. Taking 100 robins as a unit, other birds were noted in the following proportions:
Catharts 49; brown thrashers 37; house wrens 28; king birds 27 and blue birds 26.

Price of Potatoes Raised at Berlin; Restrict Liquor

(Associated Press Telegram)
Berlin, Feb. 16.—Via London.—The Bundesrath has increased the maximum price of potatoes from four marks ($1) to five and three-fourths marks ($1.45) for fifty kilograms (110 pounds). It was feared the former low price, in view of the scarcity of fodder, would result in farmers feeding to their stock potatoes for food.

The military commander of the province of Brandenburg has prohibited the sale of distilled liquors by saloons to soldiers of any rank in uniform. The action was impelled by the fact that previous warnings "have not had the necessary success."

ATTITUDE ONE OF EXTREME RESERVE.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Madrid, via Paris, Feb. 16.—The Spanish government has adopted an attitude of extreme reserve regarding its position on Germany's note announcing its determination to include the waters around Great Britain in the war zone. While Spain will try to avoid action which would give any belligerent an excuse to accuse it of departing from its attitude of neutrality, it is understood the government will join the United States if the latter proposes joint measures on the part of all neutrals.

GEN. J. C. SPEAKS

STATE GAME WARDEN, ADDRESSING LOCAL ORGANIZATION LAST EVENING

Increased Interest in the Movement of Protection for Fish and Game Reduces Outlawry.

General John C. Speaks, state game warden, was the honored guest and principal speaker at a meeting of the Licking County Fish and Game Protective Association, which was held in the convention room of the court house on Monday evening. The Licking County Fish and Game Protective Association is but a recent organization, having been in operation about three months, but it boasts of a membership of between 400 and 500 residents of the county. The convention room was comfortably filled on Monday evening with representatives from the business element, the farming element and the original element at Buckeye Lake.

A reception committee composed of George Conway, Leo Davis, president of the local association, A. A. Stasel and Henry Cochran met General Speaks and his assistant, A. C. Baxter of the fishery department of the state. They were taken to dinner at the First Presbyterian church. At 7:45 the meeting was called to order and General Speaks devoted his talk to the function of the preservation of wild fauna, and complimented the movement in Licking county stating that it had made good headway for the time of organization and continued, saying that he spoke advisedly, for he spent the greater part of his time in going from county to county in the state addressing similar organizations.

The speaker then took up the moral effect of such an association and said it decreased outlawry in the state and that the prosecution had netted $24,000 for the state last year in fines, but that, on account of better sentiment, and increased interest in the movement of protection, the income from that source would be far less this year and in the coming year.

"No man can accomplish anything by himself," continued the General, "great results are only accomplished by concerted effort. The movement is of but comparatively recent origin, the first protective law in Ohio having been written in 1857 and was revised in 1859. We have gone on copying the efforts of the older civilization in the old worlds, hoping to reach the same results in this country which were reached in the old world."

As evidence of this General Speaks told how the state had imported thousands of pairs of Hungarian partridges from Hungary, and told of his interest in the inland fishery idea. He said that in addition to millions of young fish which had been hatched in Ohio the last year, 23 carloads of adult fish had been placed in the inland streams of the state and that Ohio was making preparations to greatly increase this incubation and place 46 carloads of adult fish this year.

General Speaks was frequently applauded during his address, which he concluded briefly in order that he might take a car back to Columbus. He was followed by Messrs. A. A. Stasel, Prosecutor, J. W. Horner, who pledged himself while in office to do all in his power, officially and individually to further the movement, Henry C. Cochran, Benjamin Robinette, W. B. Sargent, W. W. Neal, Frank Mulinsky, and a representative from Granville who gave a very interesting address and brought the meeting to a close by the presentation of the names of 16 new members from Granville.

A resolution by Mr. Payne awarding the city moneys for deposit to the Licking County Bank and Trust company and the First National bank was introduced. It was adopted on suspension of rules.

A resolution by Mr. Payne authorizing the council clerk to invest $50 of the cemetery endowment fund in a certificate of deposit in the Licking Bank and Savings company was adopted on suspension of rules.

Mr. Rexroth introduced a resolution, declaring it necessary to issue bonds to construct an electric light plant, and providing that the question of the bond issue be submitted to a vote of the people at a special election to be held March 30. The measure was adopted on suspension of rules.

Mr. Payne's resolution awarding the $240,000 subway bond issue to Seasongood & Mayer of Cincinnati and E. H. Rawlings & Company of Chicago on their joint bid of $18,255, was adopted on suspension of rules.

Councilman Knauber addressed council saying that the Trades and Labor Assembly had received a bill for $15 for the use of the high school building when council and citizens met to discuss the light plant question. He said that he had understood that the regular rental of the auditorium when no admission fee was charged, was $7.50. He declared that whatever the price, the labor assembly should not be expected to pay the rental when the meeting was called by city council, and it was his opinion that no charge should be made for the use of the building in any case.

Service Director Christian, speaking as president of the school board, told council that the amount of the bill was an error, that the school board would meet Tuesday evening and that he thought the matter would be satisfactorily adjusted, indicating that there would be no charge made for the use of the building.

Councilman Knauber asked for a joint meeting of the safety committee and members of council with the safety director on next Monday night.

MR. MONTGOMERY DEFENDS ASSOCIATED CHARITIES IN DOING STREET CLEANING.

President Keller called upon Charles W. Montgomery, of the board of managers of the Associated Charities, which asked the opportunity of making an explanation of the employment of men on the streets.

Mr. Seward in a short talk, told council that complaints had reached him that foreigners and others "of no benefit to the community" were being given employment on the street while Americans could not get work.

It was this feature of the work that Mr. Montgomery wished to explain.

In his brief address, Mr. Montgomery explained the operation of the plan adopted by the Charities, to provide food and clothing for some of the women and children of the unemployed.

He declared that the investigations of the workers developed the fact that many of the families asking for aid had one or more able-bodied men and that it was the rule of the association to require these men to work, whenever work was available.

He stated that the association had succeeded in arraigning with Service Director Christian for tools to do the street cleaning the men to be paid in orders for groceries or clothing.

The association felt, he said, that the nationality of the family should make no difference as long as they were in want and the men of the family willing to work for their food. He said the association was aiming to care for the women and children.

In defending the employment of the men on the street, he said the results were apparent. He called attention to the vast amount of mud and filth which had been removed from the street Monday. "For the first time to my knowledge," said Mr. Montgomery, "the city streets are being cleaned without expense to the city."

Mr. Christian stated that he agreed to furnish tools for the workers sent by the Associated Charities because the city had not yet received its tax money and had no funds with which to do this much needed work.

This report is the most authentic yet made of the rural and village schools and should be interesting. The cases of corporal punishment were made in very few schools. We were made in time when there will be still fewer to report. A probable cause of tardiness is keeping pupils home to do the morning chores. The uniform number in the elementary grades was a surprise.

two or three or perhaps half a dozen items in your weekly expense account if you really had to. And you would find it no great hardship.

There are costly wastes in the weekly expenditures of nine people out of ten. These wasted expenditures are small when taken one by one, but when you add them up and remember that they occur week after week, you are surprised at the amount of money represented.

Why not weed out a few of these needless expenditures? Put the two or three dollars that you thus save every week in the "Old Home" Building Association Co. where these dollars will do you the greatest good.

Never mind if it is only a small sum every week. It means that you are getting ahead, and a STUBBY SAVER'S account grows surprisingly fast.

COLUMBUS MAN HERE WEDNESDAY TO TALK CHAITIES

James L. Fieser, superintendent Associated Charities, Columbus, will be the guest of Newark tomorrow, Wednesday, afternoon and evening. The council chamber has been placed at the disposal of those interested in the work, where all sessions will be held. At 2:30 p. m. Mr. Fieser will address the volunteer workers and friendly visitors. The regular meeting at the office will be canceled for this purpose. Representatives from all social and relief agencies in Newark are invited, together with any others who wish to hear of this work from an expert.

At 4 p. m. Mr. Fieser will meet with the board of directors and finance committee in joint session. Every member should be present. From 6 to 8 p. m., dinner hour, and special conferences to be arranged. At 8:15 sharp, important matters will be discussed at a public meeting at council chamber, open to all. Mr. Fieser will be the chief speaker and since he must return to Columbus after the meeting, he will begin promptly at 8:15. Those interested in the welfare of Newark are invited to be present, whether they are members of Associated Charities or not. This will be a most important meeting.

FORMER CITY OFFICIALS WERE ACQUITTED TODAY

(Associated Press Telegram)
East St. Louis, Ill., Feb. 16.—Six former officials of East St. Louis were acquitted by a jury today on charges involving the misappropriation of $100,000,000 in city funds.
The men acquitted were Charles S. Lambert, former mayor; John J. Faulkner, former comptroller; W. R. Rodenberger, former comptroller; E. Rodenberger, former treasurer; Claus Tiedt, former alderman; Lester Grigby, former clerk, health department, now chief of detectives.
The men were accused of having formed a conspiracy by which money was to be obtained from the city treasury by the payment, a second time, of bond coupons, and by bills for labor and supplies paid in the names of relatives or employees of accused officials.
The acquittal of Lambert and Faulkner was asked by the prosecutor who said there was no direct evidence against them.

GREAT REVIVAL IS IN PROGRESS AT AMSTERDAM

The greatest revival for more than 25 years, is now in progress at the Amsterdam United Brethren church, on the cement pike, two miles east of Jacksonville. Old residents of vicinity must go back at least 25 years to remember anything that compares with the present intense interest. The meetings commenced on the 7th of February and will last until the 21st, and possibly longer, and are in charge of Rev. M. R. White pastor of the Newark Tenth Street United Brethren church, and Edwin M. Larison.

The crowds have been constantly increasing from the beginning, and it is likely the church will not hold the people by the end of the week; services are held each evening, and day meetings will be held this week. Five persons were at the altar and saved last evening, and many went and shouted with joy. Two persons have been forwardly turned before last evening. Jacksonville is sending wagon loads of devoted christian personal workers, and many are attending from the Newark Tenth street church, from Linville and miles around in the surrounding country; three auto loads will go from Newark this evening and wagon loads will go from the surrounding villages.

The greatest assistance is coming from the personal workers of the Newark U. B. church and the Jacksonville U. B. and M. E. churches. The membership of the Amsterdam church is on fire; as it has not been in many years, and will result in great and permanent good for the local church, as a Young Peoples Society will be organized, the membership of the church, and Sabbath school will be doubled.

Many more will be saved before the meeting closes, as scores of non-church people attend nightly and are under deep conviction; this is especially true of men and boys. Linville sends nightly a great crowd of young people, one of which was saved on last evening.
On Thursday evening, baptismal services will be held, when several adults and children will be baptized, and several received into the church. The little white church stands upon a high hill and can be seen for many miles around, "a bright and shining light."

HOW TO CORRECT FAULTY DIGESTION

Faulty digestion, flatulence, indigestion, dyspepsia and, in fact, most forms of stomach trouble—are almost invariably due to acidity and food fermentation. Drugs and medicines which stimulate the digestive organs are practically useless in these cases because they act only on the stomach and do not affect the cause of the trouble—the acidity and fermenting food. To neutralize the acidity and stop fermentation many physicians and specialists prescribe a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia, obtainable of Evans' Drug Store, and druggists and dispensaries, in a little water immediately after meals or whenever pain is felt. Since the discovery of an eminent specialist of this remarkable property of bisurated magnesia, it is being adopted as a standard and corrective in many hospitals as well as by many prominent medical men throughout the world. Dyspepsia should always keep bisurated magnesia handy, as its use invariably insures painless, normal digestion.

MANY PERSONS UNITE WITH THE BAPTIST CHURCH

Sunday was a great day at the Fifth Street Baptist church, where a large number of persons united with the church, following both the morning and evening services. Over a hundred had indicated a desire to lead the Christian life and work with Christian fellowship, some being received in the church by letter, others on confession of faith, but most of them by Baptism. Over fifty are waiting Baptism, and there are many yet to be presented. The Sunday school under the excellent leadership of Supt. A. Nelson Dodd, has been on the up grade now since Autumn, the most notable growth and inspiration being in what is called "We Brothers" class, a class of young married men under the leadership of Mr. Frame. This class will soon have 50 enrolled and is already recognized as one of the finest men's classes in the city.
The Swift revival uplift has left a lasting benefit upon the church, and Sunday the congregation required all the seating capacity available. According to Dr. Stull's announcement the large chorus choir will be used every Sunday night, nearly a half hundred being in their places Sunday. The Men's Brotherhood of the church which organized four months ago, has now an enrollment of over 150. The meeting of the Brotherhood last Friday night, was the best one ever; every man present talked and the three special address, by Dr. Stull, Mr. R. L. Stargell and Mr. J. R. Davies were very warmly received. About 25 new men entered the roll of the Brotherhood.

PENNSY ROAD TO ENTER CITY OVER B. & O.

The Pennsylvania railroad will enter the city from the east over the B. & O. right of way, according to the latest rumor in circulation about the city. The plan is a part of the proposed subway construction, it is claimed, and is the means used by the Pennsylvania company to avoid the necessity of great expense in the future when they will find it necessary to eliminate the grade crossings in East Newark.

According to the details of the rumor, the company has already purchased property between the eastern city limits and Weant's station for a cross-over from the present Pennsylvania right of way to the B. & O. The trains from the east will come into the city, if this plan is carried out, through the present B. & O. yards. It has been pointed out that the elimination of the East Newark grade crossings would mean that the start would have to be made at a point near the tower east of the city and the railroad's engineers are seeking to avoid the grade which would follow such a vast undertaking. The expense of making the fill would be more than the benefits would warrant, it is claimed.

It was also rumored several days ago that the B. & O. had again opened the matter relating to the location of the big repair shops here which caused considerable comment several years ago. The local officials state that, if this matter is re-opened, no information to that effect has been received here.
There is no official verification of the reported change in the Pennsylvania route into the city but it is said that surveys have already gone over the ground and staked out the proposed route.

MEMORIES OF A MIRACLE

In 1861 a man was tapped and got well of Bright's Disease, and the books are talking about it yet. (See Tyson on Bright's Disease, 2nd Edn 1904, p. 155.) We have before us addresses of nine patients, who were tapped two to twenty times, and recovered; for instance, G. W. Kirkpatrick of 184 Laguna St. San Francisco, from whom 34 lbs of water were taken first tapping; and the young son of A. C. Dean, of Ninth Avenue, East Oakland, who was tapped nine times.
The ability of Fulton's Renal Compound to diminish albumuria in many cases of Bright's Disease is a FACT IN PHYSICS established by thousands of urinalyses. It does not conflict, but is helped by the treatment commonly prescribed. We never knew a case of Chronic Bright's Disease with dropsy to recover under Digitalis and Basham's Mixture unaided by Fulton's Renal Compound, but we have many reports of recoveries under the Renal Compound unaided. However, heart and eliminative agents help greatly in critical cases.

TALK ON TEETH

Did you ever stop to think how important this subject is? Most of us do realize and know how important health is, but forget that health can only be had by caring for each and every organ of our make-up. Teeth—you all know must have care. Let us start at mastication. How is it possible to masticate food if our teeth are hollow, sore, aching or lost all together? Food that is not masticated, enters the stomach in an unfit condition and there remains in a hard, undigested state causing what? Trouble. Why not do away with the cause? This is easily done. If the public could only realize that the Dentist is not a human butcher but a brother helper; here to help you keep your health, help to keep you in shape to go through this world without suffering.
Talk on teeth, treating each subject will appear in the Advocate each week. Watch for it.—By Dr. A. L. Wahn, Mgr. Union Patients Dentists.

The senators are still standing on the burning deck of the ship bill.

February has only 28 days, but were the March 1 bills ever any less than for any other month?

The cost of a sixteen-day trip New York to San Francisco via Panama canal is estimated at $125 up—principally "up."

Basketball is highly popular this winter as usual, and all the boys have to do to win is to get their opponents down at critical moments and pound their heads on the floor.

At least forty-three states authorize the transportation of pupils to public schools at the expense of school districts, according to a bulletin by A. C. Monahan of the United States bureau of education.

James Creelman who died in Europe a few days ago was one of the greatest of newspaper reporters. It was during the Spanish American war that Mr. Creelman accomplished his best work but the service he rendered the New York World for many years helped to make the World a great newspaper.

Some one asks what has become of the neighborhood club of young people who used to chip in a dollar each to buy a croquet set, and have a lot of fun for a whole season? Well, apparently they have grown up, moved to some large city, and are paying $100 dues and big incidental expenses in some country club.

Depreciation of Automobiles.

A man was asked the other day what it cost him to run his automobile. He remarked that gasoline, tires and garage fees cost him eight cents per mile. He had had no repairs to speak of, but other items, mostly depreciation, were so large that he figured the whole thing as 25 cents a mile.

This may be an exaggerated statement of depreciation. But most people on buying a machine do not look the fact squarely in the face that depreciation is commonly the biggest single item.

If people were not so crazy after speed, a motor car would last much longer. Most mechanisms stand on a firm base in a factory, and even then they wear out. An automobile is subject to the infinitely greater strain of being jerked over rough roads at high rates of speed. It is no wonder that many owners, according to the automobile owner quoted above, need to charge off a third the cost of their investment each year.

Edward A. Deeds.

The feature of the flood conservancy hearing before the Ohio legislature last week was the address made by Edward A. Deeds of Dayton. Newark people are always fond of giving Mr. Deeds' residence as Licking county. While his legal residence is Dayton where he is vice president and general manager of the National Cash Register company's plant, his real "home" is Licking county, where he was born and educated.

Not only did Mr. Deeds convince

How Advertising Saves Two Ways.

(Chicago Herald.)

"Buy in Bulk; Not in Package" was the heading of a circular of advice on reducing living cost issued by Mavor Mitchell's marketing commission lately. It suggested that in buying "packaged" goods one is paying for the package, the brand and the advertising that makes the brand widely known, rather than for the food.

Many manufacturers who have spent years and great sums in building up a reputation for high and uniform quality are resenting this insinuation. Some of them have published strong protests against it as unfair and misleading. In one such occurs a paragraph which goes to the root of the matter with respect to the advertising phase:

"Don't be fooled by the thought that the consumer pays for advertising nor that a food product well advertised involves a great profit for the packer to afford advertising it. Advertising reduces the cost of the material, the cost of the container, packing charges and overhead expense by increasing the volume of business, so that judicious advertising is not an expense but the contrary."

Advertising saves the producer by giving such volume as reduces the unit cost of production. It saves the consumer by giving him assurance about quality, quantity and cleanliness. Behind the "advertised brand" is more than the word of the retailer and his knowledge. There is also the knowledge and the business life, of the maker.

No amount of advertising will keep permanently in demand an article whose merits can be tested by the five senses unless those merits are real. The continued success of "patent medicines" is the exception that proves the rule. Their merits cannot be tested by the five senses. They do not appeal to reason, but to imagination, and morbid imagination at that.

The Herald recently printed some sharp comments of an alert Chicago housewife on the wasteful hand-to-mouth buying of people who can buy in larger quantities. But she didn't urge "buying in bulk," only in larger "packages"—in "case lots" and so on—thus getting the benefit of approximate or actual "wholesale" prices and saving handling charges by saving them to the seller.

The wise consumer rightly prefers the widely and persistently advertised food product. The money spent in advertising is an insurance of quality. It is an investment too heavy to be risked by letting quality run down. And if higher prices are paid because petty packages are bought, that's the buyer's fault and not the maker's. He would be very glad indeed to sell in larger packages at relatively lower prices.

Another Big Bridge.
New York is planning another big bridge, the tentative location being to cross the North River about Fifty-ninth street to Weehawken. Cost estimated at $42,000,000. If the bridge is bound to come anyhow it might be well to push it along, as it will give a boost to capital and labor. —Pittsburg Dispatch.

Self-Sacrifice Day.
"Self-Sacrifice Day" in Philadelphia yielded $50,000 for the poor as the result of individual acts of self-denial, ranging from abstinence from cocktails to economy in spring hats. One schoolboy contributed 155 pennies collected from playmates who went without candy for a day. But who really contributed that $1.55, the children or the small candy dealers? "Self-Sacrifice," even for such benevolent purposes, usually involves a sacrifice on the part of somebody else. —New York World.

We're a little too careful about our flag to be pleased when anybody else is for purposes of disguise, however flattering such action may be. Couldn't ships that feel the need of something of the kind put on a set of false whiskers? —Indianapolis News.

Failure of Joliet Water Works.
Joliet, Ill., water works plant has been found to be a financial failure by the State Public Utility Commission. The plant has been losing more than $20,000 a year. The city will have to raise rates to meet the deficit. —Public Service Magazine.

Parents Supreme.
All nations, all churches, all organizations are but an aggregation of homes. In this earthly Eden, the parents are priests; the children are the congregation in the church in the house. Jesus, reared and instructed in such a godly home, at the age of twelve years confounded the doctors in the temple. Timothy, Paul's noblest helper, had the faith that was in his grandmother, Lois, and his mother, Eunice, and from a child knew the Holy Scriptures. Body, mind and soul are in the molding hands of parents. What immortal stewardship is theirs! —The Christian Herald.

Uncle Walt

SEEING THE WORLD

He jogged around from town to town, to see the world was his excuse; he'd get a job and hold it down close; a little while, then turn it loose. "Oh, stay," employers use to say, "your moving is a foolish trick; you'll soon be earning bigger pay, for we'll promote you pretty quick." "This town is punk," he would reply, "and every street is surnamed Queen. I'd see the world before I die—I do not wish to stagnate here."

Then he was young and quick and strong, and jobs were thick, as he jogged by. Till people passed the word along that on him no one could rely. Then, when he landed in a town, and wished to earn a humble trade, the stern employers turned him down. "We want you not, your record's bad." He's homeless in these wintry days, he has no bed, no place to sup; he "saw the world" in every phase; the world saw him—and passed him up. It's good to "see the world," no doubt, but one should make his bundle first, or age will find him down and out, panhandling for the winter.

Luke McLuke Says:
The fourth baby may have to wait a lot of secondhand stuff, but it gets some sleep. It isn't awakened every fifteen minutes by the proud mother so she can exhibit it to callers. Some men retire to caves and become hermits so they will be obscure. And others marry suffragettes. Before marriage he would lay down his life for a word from her. After marriage he won't even lay down his newspaper to talk to her.

Judging from the way they get along some couples seem to have married for the sole reason that the man wanted an excuse for not going to war in case his country needed him.

It is only a short step from virtue to vice. But it is a million miles from vice to virtue.

Cheer up! Even if you do have a hard time raising the rent money every month you can sleep soundly at night knowing that when you die a bunch of high priced lawyers will not discover that you were insane when you made your will.

Women are smarter than men in some ways. But you can't teach her not to put her car fare in her mouth or to get off a street car the right way. Why do they call them grass widows? None of them is green, and few of them are blue.

The woman who marries a man she can't love usually loves a man she can't marry.

A woman's idea of an unsociable husband is one who won't talk in his sleep.

It is the man who hasn't anything to divide who is always yelling for an equal division of wealth.

You never have any trouble getting all the assistance you want when you are sowing your wild oats. But when harvest time comes you will find that you must reap alone.

The old fashioned woman who used to press her husband's pants every Sunday morning now has a married daughter who sends her skirts to a tailor and has cranes put in them.

It could be worse. When you have only one suit of clothes to your name you know that the moths are not eating the other suit.

And if kisses tasted as good after marriage as they did before marriage a whole lot of lawyers, judges and detectives would be selling wringers for a living.

Society

Miss Hazel Long of 114 East Wing street, entertained the members of the W. W. K. club, Monday evening, Feb. 15. The house and tables were decorated with trophies of Valentine day, while the members of the club were appropriately dressed in old fashioned gowns. The evening was spent in playing various games, the prizes being won by Guy Dazler and Raymond Hull. A delightful two course luncheon was served by Misses Mary Long and Florence Killworth. During the luncheon the Valentine box was opened and every one received Valentines of all kinds.

Place cards were laid for the following guests: Misses Leah Orr, Josephine Hull, Bessie Irving, Frances Evans, Ruth Hart, Jessie Simpson, Catherine Butler, Grace Killworth and the hostess, Messrs. Guy Dazler, Raymond Hull, Hazel Darnes, Julian Ball, Neil Caldwell, Carlisle Conrad, Albert Howard and Harry Graham.

Misses Nora Hurlbaugh and Nellie Applegate entertained a number of friends on Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Hurlbaugh in South Sixth street, and the hostesses announced their engagement during the evening. Miss Hurlbaugh is engaged to marry Mr. Ray E. Merrick, while Miss Applegate's fiancé is Mr. Harry B. Kelly. The date of the wedding has not been named.

The guests were: Misses Florence Harter, Ida Cawner, Mary Stump, Laura Sheese, Blanche Nutter, Winifred Persinger, Ella Mast, Louise Pieri, Dot Horn, Katherine Schaller, Julia Belmawr, Alice Connelly, Ada Young, Anna Murphy, Margaret, Caldwell, Esther Mayer, Alma Stienhauser, Ethel Applegate, Daisy Drumm, Mrs. Gibson, Mrs. Cramer, Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Wise.

In a very pretty way, Miss Adair Fletcher entertained at her home in North Pine street, Monday evening in honor of Miss Lillian Larason, whose marriage to Mr. Richard Owen will take place February 18. The house was tastefully decorated with hearts and cupid being a portion of the evening in dressing clothes. Pins to represent the bride and groom were pinned to the minister, she won the prize for the most neatly dressed clothes. This she gratefully presented to Miss Larason, who was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts. Music was enjoyed and refreshments were served to the following guests: Misses Lillian Larason, Irma Bonshire, Mrs. Rector, Ione Coke, Bessie Morgan, Leona Ferguson, Kate Brooks, Mrs. Iva Hockenberry and Mrs. Sidney Larason.

The Knights of Columbus gave another of their very enjoyable dances at Assembly Hall last night, about fifty couples being present. Punch was served throughout the evening and the dance program was furnished by the Nutt-Hawkins orchestra.

Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames John Tordella, O. Poulton, Justin Keeley, Harry Bourner, Harry Rogers, Carl Donahue, William Dear-druff, John McCarthy, Charles Dear-druff, Charles Campbell, J. D. Keeley, and Mrs. John Fallon, Misses Marie Schaller, Grace Dennison, Antionette Carroll, Mary Bloomer, Bernice Floyd, Pauline Talbot, Helen Moran, Loretta Dolan, Christine Young, Muriel McMahon, Amy Kuster, Dorothy Kuster, Irene Cosgrove, Catherine Schopen, Clara Kureth, Genevieve Kennedy, Rose Fulton, Mary Pullin, Julia McCarthy, Mary McDonnell, Mary Prior, Hilda Oberfield, Florence McCarthy, Pearl Baycock, Dorothy Connors, Alice Jackson, Ruth Dally, Nellie Gorman, Helen Brennan, Mary Keeley, Kathleen O'Connor, Lucille Maybold, and Messrs. Edward Duffy, Devine Carroll, Edward Schimpf, Leroy Dowd, Edward O'Neill, Wm. Anderson, James Moran, Robert Bradley, J. M. Feeney, Robt. Costello, Parnell McKenna, Raymond Long, Walter Early, William Schopen, Louis Bentz, George McNamara, James Pullin, Harry Shields, Jos. Gainer, Neil Floyd, Wm. J. McCarthy, Dr. J. P. H. Stedem, Ted Devlin, John Seidel, John McGinley, Stephen Costello.

Out of town guests were: Miss Sarah Tolson of Columbus, Miss Irene Kellon of Buchanan, W. Va., Miss Elizabeth McCarthy, Miss Nellie McCarthy, Miss Mozart and Mrs. E. McCarthy of Ironton, and Messrs. E. F. Feeney, C. T. Pedrotty, M. J. Cavanaugh, A. L. Riddle, A. A. Hack and J. F. Gordon of Dennison, O.

The Plymouth Congregational church will hold a reception for the new pastor, Rev. Mr. Deihl and wife, Thursday evening, February 18, in the church parlors. All members and friends invited.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Lorena Miller, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. D. H. Miller of North Fourth street, to Mr. Iri Owens, formerly of this city, but now located in Tampa, Fla.

Miss Miller entertained with a thimble party on Monday afternoon at her home honoring her guest, Miss Agnes Winklerjohn of Celina, Ohio, and the announcement was made then, when the guests were given as favors.

EARLY SPRING STYLES

YOUTHFUL RUSSIAN FROCK.

Youthful frock built on Russian lines, the long tunic belted by a narrow band of broadcloth, embroidered in blue. Plain V neck, finished in black with decorative collar. Plain skirt, fastening at side. Trimming of broadcloth covered ball buttons.

Silken bags filled with candy hearts on which were written verses. One contained blank hearts and when one was held to a lighted candle the names of Miss Miller and Mr. Owens were found inscribed.

Luncheon was served, the appointments being in red and white, festoons of red hearts being used and the table was centered with red roses. The guests were Mrs. Timpson, Mrs. Stanford Smith, Mrs. James Copeland, Mrs. Wilfred Jones, Mrs. Clyde Irwin, Mrs. Ned Metz of Toledo, Miss Winklerjohn, Misses Helen Lake, Annabelle Conrad, Ruth Jones, Margaret Fuller, Ruth Lindorf, Nellie Fleming, Clara Scott, Edna Martin, Isabelle Somers, Freda Wagnheim, Edna Bright, Nellie Flory of Granville, Mary Simpson, Gladys Ayers, Mary Hayman, Clotilde Howard, Nellie Smith.

The wedding of Miss Miller and Mr. Owens will be solemnized in May, but the date has not been announced. Miss Miller graduated from the Newark High school with the class of 1913, while Mr. Owens was graduated from the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy in 1914, and is a member of the Kappa Phi fraternity. He is located in Tampa with the Leon Hale Pharmacy.

Miss Nellie Fleming will entertain on Thursday afternoon at her home in High street. Her guests will be the members of club and several friends.

Mrs. Charles Montgomery entertained the club members of the Monday Talks on the club day at her home in Granville street. The number, Argentina—The Pampas, Buenos Ayres—The Pride of the Argentine, was given by Mrs. Kellenberger. Mrs. Bentler read a paper on Russia—Greek church.

The Whatsoever class of the First Congregational Sunday school very pleasantly surprised the teacher, Miss Mary Loyd at her home in Eleventh street on Monday evening. The hours were devoted to games and an appetizing supper was served by the members of the class. Those present were: Misses Corinne Hubbard, Mary Young, Mabel Owens, Clara Factor, Grace Varney, Olive Hines, Martha Mount, Mary Brown, Florence Pine and Ruth Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Farmer of 269 North Fourth street announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Nellie Fern Farmer to Mr. Glenn W. Hazlett of Springfield, Ill. The wedding will take place in April at the bride's home in North Fourth street. Mr. Hazlett is manager of the branch office of the Goodrich Rubber company at Springfield.

ABOUT WOMEN

Widows and spinster landowners in Egypt are allowed to vote. Egyptian women still wear the candle-like piece attached to the nose. Russia has a woman aviator who has been sent to the front for active duty. An effort is being made in Boston to unionize the waitresses of that city. Women are now taking up pre-reading as a vocation. Over 10,000 women are now out of employment in Cleveland. Female stenographers in New York city number over 25,000. Four women out of six who tried for a position as bacteriologist in the Philadelphia board of health succeeded, while but one man out of nine passed the examination successfully. Her skirt is short and very short. Her waist is low both front and back. No wonder, then, that strong men short "Alas! Alas! A lass! A lass!"—Judge.

It has been estimated that every square mile of the ocean is inhabited by 123,000,000 living beings.

SMART WALKING SUIT.

Walking suit of covert cloth, with short tailored skirt; hip length jacket, with military collar of skunk and trimming of self covered buttons; wide, high placed belt of covert buttoned under arms.

For the new baby in the home, there is a pretty model in morning bath sets which may be made without much trouble, even by an amateur seamstress and would delight the heart of any adoring mother. Buy two yards of double width and very fine white Turkish toweling, and having cut off enough of it for a good-sized wiping towel and a face cloth, reserve the remainder for a lap robe. Having bound the larger piece with pink or blue wash ribbon, embroider the center of either end with a garland of rosebuds and forget-me-nots in their natural colors. Only one side of the ribbon-bound towel and face cloth need be embroidered, but to the upper corners of each of the three pieces should be attached ribbon bandages. These hangings are very short on the lap robe, considerably longer on the wiping towel and of extreme length on the face cloth, so that, when hung up to dry, the three strips of ribbon, coming at all of the top corners, will keep the several sections of the set together.

ICE, THAT'S ALL

Ice is used to cover lakes, rivers, ponds and foreheads. It also comes in bergs, where it furnishes a home for the polar bear and the walrus, who commute regularly between the bergs and the Arctic ocean. Nothing is more invigorating after sleeping soundly all the evening on a furnished iceberg—hot water—to awaken by the light of Aurora borealis and plunge briskly into the smiling blue depths surrounding the berg. Ice is also used to skate upon and for sitting purposes, when, with steel-blue fingers, one is engaged in the absorbing pastime of fastening straps around the ankles of some charming lady of not more than 19. This feeling of complete joy is greatly enhanced when, the strapping having been successfully completed, one rises with a graceful bow to discover that the seat of one's trousers has adhered to the ice below. Ice, when used for families, was at one time kept in refrigerators. Now as a general rule, it is kept in the family safe. It is oftentimes clean, and can be seen through, which is more than can be said of the operations of the syndicate of multi-millionaires whose wagons call regularly at your house and have you enough to last until just before your next dinner party, while charging you for what it weighed when it left the pond the winter before—Life.

"Is it proper to send an envelope containing a note of introduction when sent with the person it is to introduce?" asked Gladys. "No, by all means, leave the envelope unsealed," answered her mother.

EAGLES ENJOY "INNING" ON MONDAY NIGHT

Newark Aerie, No. 387, F. O. E., enjoyed the first of several "innings" at Fromholtz hall in East Main street, nearly two hundred members of the lodge being present. A committee composed of Messrs. Samuel Gallagher, David Murphy, Henry Staugh and Fred Chanin had charge of the event and they proved to be royal entertainers. Besides the splendid menu provided for the guests, there was music, both instrumental and vocal. George Selwart of the Utica Lodge of Eagles, was present and gave the local Eagles and invitation to attend the minstrel show to be given at Utica on Friday and Saturday of this week.

VARNER FACES ANOTHER CHARGE IN BISHOP CASE

Joseph Varner, who was arraigned before Judge Scott several days ago on charges preferred by Laura Bishop, 17, was again arrested Tuesday morning, this time by Juvenile Officer John Dwyer, on a warrant issued in juvenile court, charging Varner with contributing to the delinquency of a minor. He was brought into court and gave bond in the sum of $500 for his appearance for hearing before Judge Hunter on February 21.

THE SICK

Thomas B. Kirk, layman, was taken ill at his place of business Monday night and removed to his home in the Bazler & Bradley ambulance.

Ten Nevers for Parents

In the "Interesting People" department in the February American Magazine appears a remarkable article about a twelve-year-old wonder child, Frank in Pittsburgh, named Winifred Sackville Storer. This little girl is speaks eight languages, is an author, and teaches at Carnegie Institute. She can make speeches in various languages before large audiences, has written and played the violin and piano, has beaten champions playing chess, can row, fence, swim, ride back, skate, play ball, cook, sew, and write fancy dances. Her mother attributes her unusual development to "mental education." Following are the "ten nevers" Mrs. Storer has adopted in the rearing of children: "Never give physical punishment. Never say 'Don't.' Never say 'Must.' Never let a child say 'I can't.' Never refuse to answer any of the child's questions. Never tease or ridicule a child. Never allow a child to lose self-respect or respect for his parents. Never scold a child. Never allow any other spot to become more attractive than home."

Personal

Obituary

Burial at Cedar Hill.
The body of Mrs. Catherine Swayne, who died about two years ago at Parkersburg, W. Va., was brought to Newark Monday night and taken to the Bazler & Bradley mortuary. Tuesday afternoon the body was interred at Cedar Hill cemetery. It has been in a vault in a Parkersburg cemetery since death occurred.

Funeral of Hazel Mildred Wheeler.
The funeral of little Hazel Mildred Wheeler will be held from the home of her parents, Mr. and Percy Wheeler, 97 Bremen street, Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, Rev. Mr. Haller officiating. Burial will be made in Alexandria cemetery.

Mr. J. H. Ronne.
Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 16.—J. E. Ronne, aged 78, father of Mrs. William Merrill of Newark, Ohio, died early Sunday following a brief illness of heart trouble at his home in Naples, N. Y. Deceased was born in Denmark, coming to the United States forty years ago. Deceased leaves his wife and one brother, Alfred Ronne, latter residing in New York City.

Card of Thanks.
I desire to thank the friends and neighbors for their kindness during the illness and death of my husband, also for the beautiful floral offerings. Mrs. Martha Clark. 16-17

DOG SLED RACE WON BY KASSEN

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Nome, Alaska, Feb. 16.—G. Kassen, with Miss Rowena Lewis riding on his dog sled, won yesterday the moose burden handicap dog race from Nome to Solomon, a distance of thirty-two miles over the snow trail. Official time was two hours and forty-one minutes.

A total of 270 dogs participated in the race, the teams ranging from seven to sixteen animals. Kassen drove nine.

Harry Bloomfield was second, in two hours and forty-four minutes, and W. H. Webb was third, in two hours and forty-eight minutes.

The weather was clear and the temperature was steady at 22 below zero.

TO PROSECUTE THE OFFENDERS IN INCREASED COST

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
New York, Feb. 16.—Meyer Nussbaum, referee for the state, was ready to begin hearing the inquiry to determine whether the increased cost of wheat, flour and bread is due to a criminal conspiracy in violation of state law.

The question of granting immunity to witnesses, the referee said, had not been settled, but he stated that if there were indications that a crime was committed, such witnesses would not be granted immunity.

Deputy Attorney General Alfred Becker, who is conducting the state inquiry, said he expects the investigation will go deep and that if there is any one criminally responsible for the present increase in prices, the offenders will be prosecuted. Of the prominent men in the wheat trade who have been invited to testify, C. H. Canby, president of the Chicago board of trade, has telegraphed he will come whenever he is wanted.

Common Pleas Court.

CURE FOR YELLOW NECKS.

The new fashion decrees that necks shall be covered by the most military collars on the blouses. But when warm weather arrives many yellow, sallow necks will be exhibited again by those who did not take the proper care of them during their months of being covered. And if the new collar is on sheer white material it will add no charm to any wearer, if she has a yellow neck full of fat wrinkles or hollows.

Every time you give any attention to your face, remember that your neck needs the same care, and it can easily be given at the same time. Before going to bed at night, wash both face and neck in warm, soapy water. Rub the neck particularly well with the complexion brush.

Then, in softening with cold cream, and removing dirt which the soap and water did not touch, massage the neck as well as the face.

Allow the fingers to rest on the ears, the hands extending below the chin, then massage with the thumbs pushing the flesh back under the curve of the chin. This will help to prevent the appearance of folds and creases in a "double" chin.

A yellow throat or one covered with yellow patches may be easily made white by following this process: First, thoroughly clean the neck with soap and water. In doing this, don't neglect to scrub beneath the chin and over the shoulders in back.

Exercises for the neck and shoulders will do much toward beautifying them. Olive oil and coconut butter rubbed into the neck will help to round it out.

It is a good idea to always keep a cut lemon on your dressing table. It will whiten any brownish marks on the neck and is useful as a finger nail bleach.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Don't stay gray! Nobody can tell when you darken gray, faded hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wreth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, ready to use, for about 50 cents. This star mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wreth's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant. Agents Hall's Drug Store.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a glass of Sals if your back hurts or bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel from the blood. The result is sluggishness and weakness, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste set four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

It Really Does Relieve Rheumatism. Everybody who is afflicted with Rheumatism in any form should be at least keep a bottle of Sloan's Liniment on hand. The minute you feel pain or soreness in a joint or muscle, bathe it with Sloan's Liniment. Do not rub it. Sloan's penetrates almost immediately right to the seat of pain, relieving the hot, tender, swollen feeling and making the part easy and comfortable. Get a bottle of Sloan's Liniment for 25 cents at any drugstore and have it in the house—against Colds, Sore and Swollen Joints, Lumbago, Sciatica and like ailments. Your money back if not satisfied, but it does give almost instant relief. Buy a bottle today.

GIRLS! LOTS OF BEAUTIFUL HAIR NO DANDRUFF---25 CENT DANDERINE

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair, and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is smarting—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance, an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.

RESOLUTION.

BY ASHBROOK—

Declaring intention to separate street and railroad grade crossings at First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth streets in the City of Newark, Ohio, and requiring notice thereof to be given to owners of property abutting upon streets, the grade of which will be changed by such separation.

Whereas, the City of Newark, State of Ohio, has by Ordinance No. 2146 determined to raise the grades of the tracks of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad company, the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis railroad company and the Central Ohio railroad company, as reorganized at First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth streets in the City of Newark, Ohio, in accordance with the terms of said ordinance, and

Whereas, said plans were approved by the Council of the City of Newark, Ohio, by resolution passed September 8, 1913, therefore

Be it resolved by the Council of the City of Newark, State of Ohio: Section 1. That in conformity with Section 884 of the General Code of Ohio, we hereby declare our intention to make said plans hereto prepared by representatives of the City of Newark, Ohio, in accordance with the terms of said ordinance, and which were approved by resolution of the Council of the City of Newark, Ohio, by resolution passed September 8, 1913, and are hereby approved and are now on file in the office of the Director of Public Service and open to inspection of all persons interested, the description of the grade to which said streets above named are to be changed respectively according to the plans and specifications is as follows:

First Street. Commencing at the north line of Franklin street at an elevation of 228 feet above sea level, which is the present elevation of the street, thence southerly 225 feet by a descending grade to a point at an elevation of 115 feet above sea level, thence southerly 325 feet by a level grade to the south line of Spencer street, which is to be depressed to a strip of ground 10 feet wide located in the middle of the street and south of the railroad the entire width of the street is to be depressed.

Second Street. Commencing at the north line of Franklin street at an elevation of 228 feet above sea level, which is the present elevation of the street, thence southerly 225 feet by a descending grade to a point at an elevation of 115 feet above sea level, thence southerly 325 feet by a level grade to the south line of Spencer street, which is to be depressed to a strip of ground 10 feet wide located in the middle of the street and south of the railroad the entire width of the street is to be depressed.

EDITOR CUNEO

LANDS GOOD JOB AT EXPOSITION

Columbus, Feb. 16.—Sherman A. Cuneo, editor, of Upper Sandusky, who was at times connected with the Republican state headquarters during the campaign, will be given a position at the Panama Exposition. The place of clerk of the information bureau and secretary to Newton M. Miller, directing commissioner for Ohio, are to be combined and given to Mr. Cuneo. The position pays $3,500 per year.

Eugene Bradley of Columbus, who had been selected for information clerk, is left without a place.

Commissioner Miller and Ralph D. Cole, together with a number of the commissioners, left last evening for San Francisco. They will dedicate Ohio's building Feb. 24. Mr. Cole will deliver the principal address.

ABE MARTIN

There's lots of volunteers in our army of unemployed. Mr. Wooster Ames is visitin' at the Moots home. He's pleasant t' meet, but hard t' snake.

Line Treatment in Tuberculosis

In the May 22, 1912, issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association appeared this statement concerning calcium (Eckman's) medicine in the treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis (consumption):

"Ethical medical journals continued and persistent regime of calcium assimilation. Van Gieson has seen a number of his patients improve, under an exclusive calcium (Eckman's) medication in the lung, which then resulting would appear to contribute to the healing of the disease. Hand in hand with this course of events, the sputum clears, the fever subsides, the patients are discharged, and the patients are discharged with healed pulmonary tuberculosis."

"Ethical medical journals seldom speak so positively about a remedial agent, yet this testimony coincides with that of many consumptives who have secured like results through the use of Eckman's Alternative."

Since calcium is a constituent of this remedy for pulmonary tuberculosis and allied throat and bronchial affections, its healing power may in some measure be attributed to the manner in which this element is so combined with other ingredients as to be easily assimilated by the average person and it does not irritate the stomach.

"Eckman's Alternative contains no opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs, so it is safe to try. If your druggist is out of it, ask him to order, or send direct to Eckman Laboratories, Philadelphia."

BREAKS A COLD IN A FEW HOURS WITHOUT QUININE

Don't stay stuffed-up!

Quit blowing and snuffling! A dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" taken every two hours until three doses are taken will end gripe misery and break up a severe cold either in the head, chest, body or limbs.

It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages; stops nasty discharge or nose running; relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

"Pape's Cold Compound" is the quickest, surest relief known and costs only 25 cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Don't accept a substitute.

CHANGE OCCURS IN RESIDENT MANAGER OF THE AUDITORIUM

Jerome Casper, who has been in charge of the Auditorium theatre since Mr. Gus Shaffer of Pittsburgh acquired the lease, left Monday night for Pittsburgh where he will look after business interests for several days in connection with the booking agency of Casper, Tood and Shaffer, and will then leave on a tour of inspection of the various theatres owned and leased by the Schaffer interests. Mr. Casper will later take charge of the theatre at Steubenville, Ohio.

Mr. Casper is a thorough theatrical man and a hustling manager. He is business from start to finish and upon taking charge of the local theatre completely overhauled it from pit to dome. He has made many warm friends during his stay in this city who regret exceedingly to see him take his departure but who will wish him every success in his new field of labor.

Reed Rosser succeeds Mr. Casper as resident manager. He is a pleasant young gentleman and comes to Newark highly recommended. He has been connected with the Schaffer interests for a number of years and previous to that time was engaged in advance work with several excellent theatrical attractions.

ACTION OF HOUSE AWAITED BY SENATE ON SHIPPING BILL

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, Feb. 16.—The fight in the senate over the administration ship purchase bill today awaited the action of the house on the amended shipping measure where the way for its passage during the day had been paved by a party caucus.

In the meantime, administration senators continued their efforts when the senate met today to force a closure rule to end the Republican filibuster against the shipping bill and the special senate committee ordered to inquire into all charges of influences at work for or against the measure held its first meeting. All aspects of the proposed inquiry and a plan for conducting it were considered by the committee.

Administration leaders in the house, confident of a majority for the bill as a result of last night's caucus action, were ready when the house met today to press the measure to a final vote before adjournment tonight.

EXPLANATION OFFERED.

(Associated Press Telegram) Rome, Monday, Feb. 15.—It is explained semi-officially in Vatican circles today that the resignation of Baron D'Erp, the Belgian minister accredited to the Holy See, should not be interrupted as evidence of a lack of cordiality between the church and the Belgian government.

THE MARDI GRAS AT NEW ORLEANS CLOSING TONIGHT

(Associated Press Telegram) New Orleans, Feb. 16.—Mardi Gras day, marking the end of the reign of Rex, king of the carnival of 1915, was observed here today with elaborate festivities. Business places including the cotton exchange, all banks and the postoffice remained closed the greater part of the day.

Traffic on several blocks of Canal street was suspended during the morning except for the Rex parade and the thoroughfare was given over to merry-makers in fantastic costumes. The Mardi Gras celebration will end tonight.

TO PUBLISH LIST OF PRIZE WINNERS

The names of the prize winners in the motion picture artistic ending contest, which closed January 9th, will be announced in the issue of the Dramatic Mirror, published and dated February 17.

This picture play, in accordance with arrangements with Thomas A. Edison, (Inc.), will be released on the screen March 27. The Edison company has cast the picture with the best members of its stock company, and the play is already in rehearsal.

The ending furnished by the lucky prize winner will be published complete in the issue of The Mirror, dated February 24.

BOMB EXPLODED AT MASKED BALL KILLING TWO

(Associated Press Telegram) Berlin, by Wireless to London, Feb. 16.—Two members of Sofia's aristocracy are reported to have been killed and ten others injured when a bomb was exploded last night at a masked ball attended by representatives of the most exclusive society of the Bulgarian capital. Advances received here state those killed were the son of a former war minister and a daughter of the present war minister.

Rheumatism

A Home Cure Given by One Who Had It

In the spring of 1907 I was attacked by Rheumatism and Inflammation of the joints, and suffered at only those who have it know, for over three years. I tried many after remedies, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted and even bedridden with Rheumatism, and it effected a cure in every case. I want every sufferer from any form of rheumatism to try this marvelous healing power. Don't send a cent simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you have used it and it has proven itself to be a home-cure for every case of curing your Rheumatism, you may send the price of it one dollar, but under no circumstances will I accept a cent unless I find it is a home-cure for you. I feel that I am offering you a free trial. Don't delay. Write today.

Mr. Jackson, No. 2094 Gurley Bldg., Syracuse, N. Y. Mark H. Jackson is responsible. Above statement true.—Fals.

FINE FOR RHEUMATISM!

Musterole Loosens up Those Stiff Joints—Drives Out Pain

You'll know why thousands use MUSTEROLE once you experience the glad relief it gives.

Get a jar at once from the nearest drug store. It is a clean, white ointment made with the oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister. Brings ease and comfort while it is being rubbed on!

MUSTEROLE is recommended by doctors and nurses. Millions of jars are used annually for Bronchitis, Croup, Stiff Neck, Asthma, Neuralgia, Congestion, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Pains and Aches of the Back or Joints, Sprains, Sore Muscles, Bruises, Chills, Blains, Frosted Feet, Colds of the Chest (it often prevents Pneumonia).

At your druggists, in 25c and 50c jars, and a special large hospital size for $2.50. Be sure you get the genuine MUSTEROLE. Refuse imitations—get what you ask for. The Musterole Company, Cleveland, Ohio.

PUT CREAM IN NOSE AND STOP CATARRH

Tells How To Open Clogged Nostrils and End Head-Colds.

You feel fine in a few moments. Your cold in head or catarrh will be gone. Your clogged nostrils will open. The air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more dullness, headache, no hawking, snuffing, mucous discharges or dryness; no struggling for breath at night.

Tell your druggist you want a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. Apply a little of this fragrant antiseptic cream in your nostrils. Let it penetrate through every air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, and relief comes instantly.

It is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer needs. Don't stay stuffed-up and miserable.

"TIZ" FOR SORE, TIRED FEET--AH!

"TIZ" is grand for aching swollen, sweaty, calloused feet or corns.

Ah! what relief. No more tired feet, no more burning feet; no more swollen, hot, smelly feet; no more soreness in corns, callouses, bunions.

No matter what ails your feet or what under the sun you've tried without getting relief, just use "TIZ." "TIZ" is the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up the feet. "TIZ" cures your foot trouble so you'll never limp or draw up your face in pain. Your shoes won't seem tight and your feet will never, never hurt or get sore and swollen. Think of it, no more foot misery, no more agony from corns callouses or bunions.

Get a 25 cent box at any drug store or department store and get instant relief. Wear smaller shoes. Just once try "TIZ." Get a whole year's foot comfort for only 25 cents. Think of it.

BELGIUM CALLS UPON NEWARK FOR ASSISTANCE

Devastated Belgium needs immediate help and the people of Ohio are asked to do their share. Details of the plan of relief will be gladly given by Mrs. Frank Kennedy, head of the Women's Auxiliary for Licking county or by A. S. Mitchell, chairman of the Licking county committee.

Read what some of the world's noted writers say about Belgium: I have seen not one or two but literally thousands of them (Belgian women) who were famished for water and starving for bread. I have seen children less than two years of age who had been without food for four days, young babes in their mothers' arms whose breasts had been dried by the awful terrors through which they had passed. I have seen women accustomed to every comfort, staggering into a strange land without shoes on their feet and without a centime in their pockets.—Corra Harris in Saturday Evening Post.

Every home in Belgium wants help. There is one channel, and only one channel, by which relief can reach the Belgians in their own country. It is the commission for relief in Belgium, and comprises of the American, Spanish and Belgian commissions. To keep the entire population from death by starvation the commission must be able to send a ship a day to the stricken country.—Arnold Bennett.

Let us view the situation in cold blood. Belgium is shut off from the world—ringed with steel. Her own food supply was used up long ago, either by the people or by the conquerors. The cattle were first of all to go—then the condensed milk. The average young child must have milk or he will die. And there is no milk. How many of these babies of Belgium will die this winter depends upon us in America—upon how much food we send to nursing mothers, how much milk to the babies.—Will Irwin.

OVER NIGHT, GOES CHEST COLDS AND SORE THROAT

Just Rub On Begy's Mustarine. Better than all the Pills, Powders, Syrups on Earth and Quicker. It will not Blister.

Get a big 25-cent box of BEGY'S YELLOW MUSTARINE in the yellow box and get rid of cold in chest, coughs, sore throat, pleurisy, bronchitis and tonsillitis in a few hours. Keep it on hand at all times, for with it you can end the misery of toothache, headache, earache and neuralgia in just a few minutes when nothing else seems to do any good.

BEGY'S MUSTARINE is better than any liniment, plaster, poultice, hot water bottle or substitute. It promptly reduces the swelling and draws out agony from rheumatic joints and muscles. It relieves neuritis and in cases of sprains, strains, bruises, soreness, lameness, stiff neck and joints, cramps in leg and pain anywhere, its action is little less than magical.

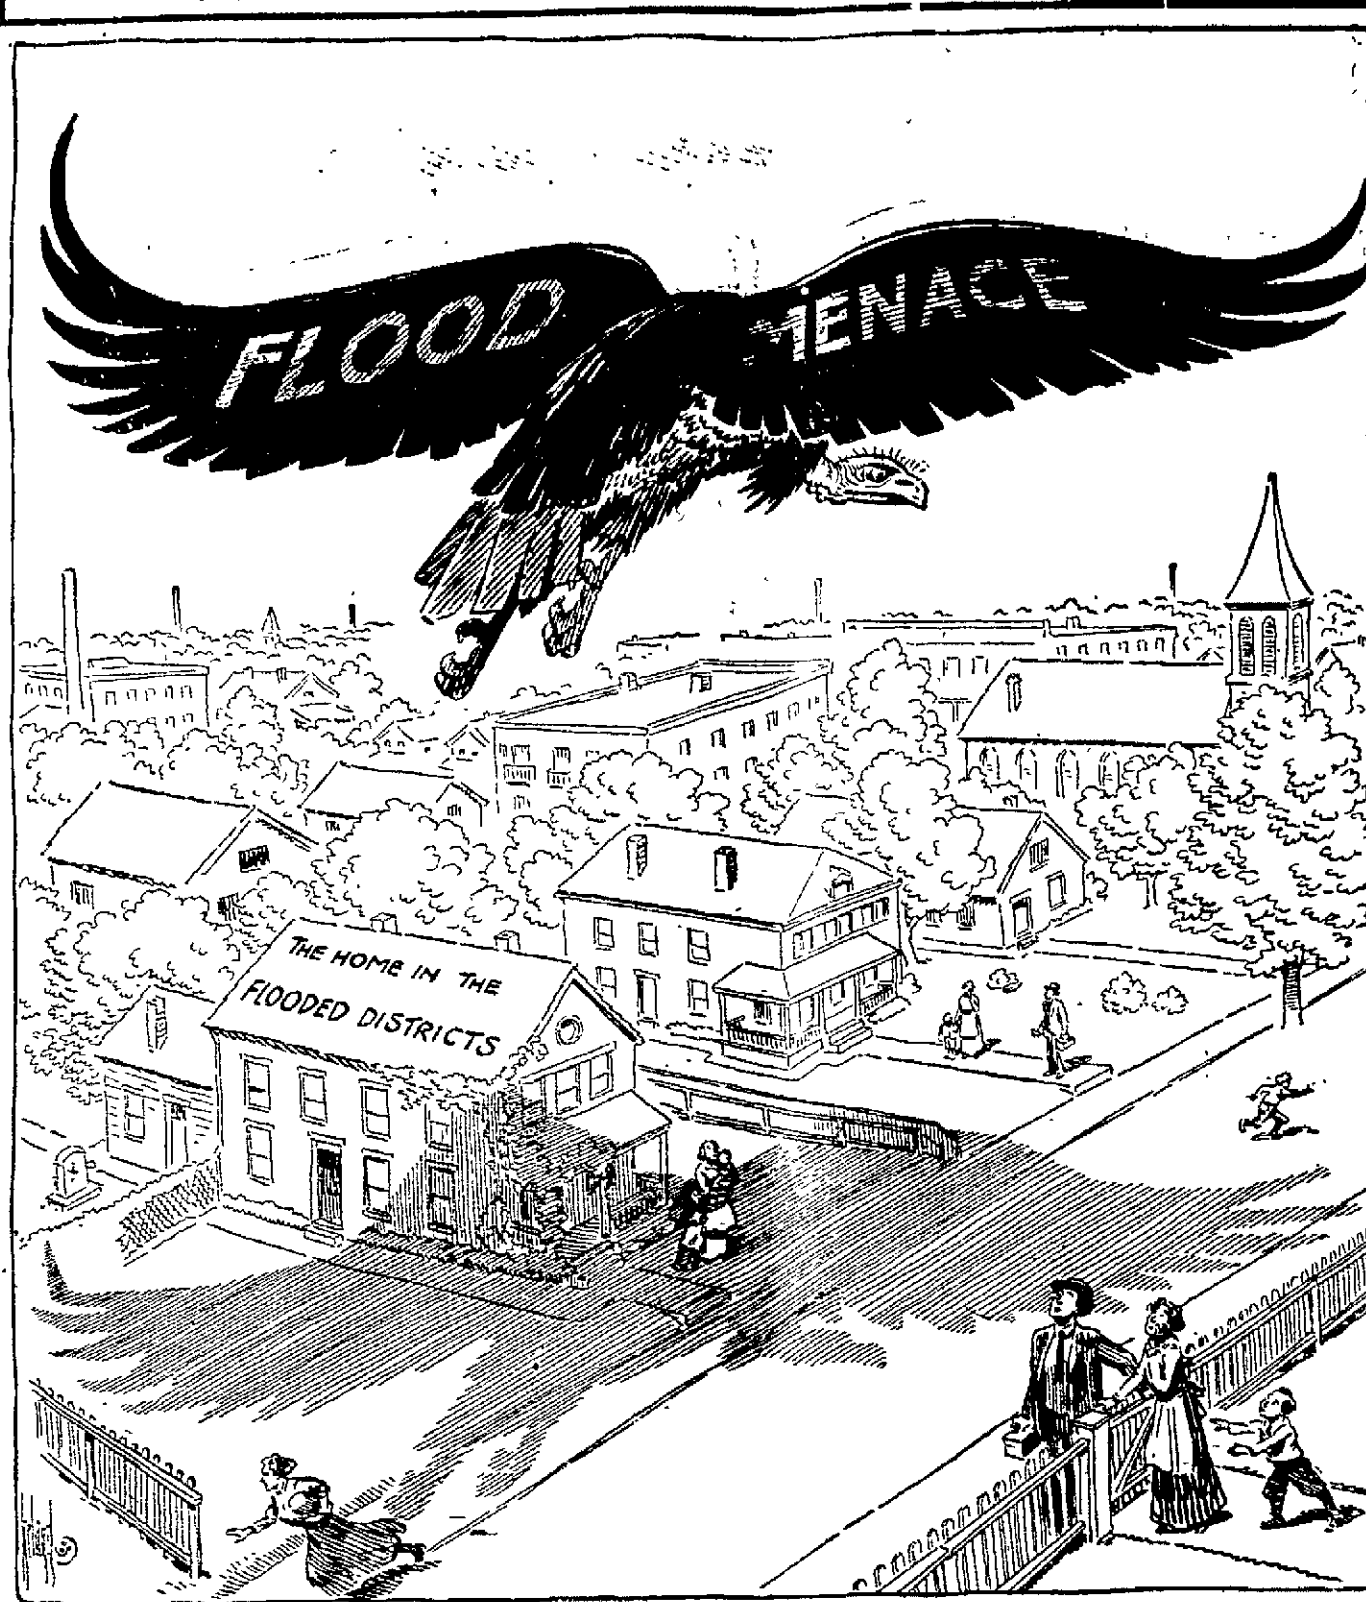

Get a box at any druggist's today—use it to draw the agony from sore, painful feet, corns, bunions, callouses, chilblains and frosted feet. It's the greatest household remedy in America today. But get the original BEGY'S MUSTARINE in the yellow box. T. J. Evans can supply you.

REFUSED TO BID ON BIG CONTRACT

(Associated Press Telegram) Pittsburgh, Feb. 16.—Because of "humanitarian reasons" one of the largest local steel companies asked by the Pittsburgh foreign trade commission to bid on a contract to furnish part of an order of 1,000,000 drop force shells valued at $4,000,000 wanted by the British government yesterday declined to make an estimate. Attached to the blue prints returned to the commission by the company was a note which read:

"For humanitarian reasons this company finds itself obliged to refuse to consider the contract." The value of the contract offered to the company was estimated at $450,000.

LIVING CONSTANTLY IN THE SHADOW

WILL RETURN JACK JOHNSON TO WINDY CITY

(Associated Press Telegram) Chicago, Feb. 16.—Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist who fled to Europe after being sentenced to a year in the federal penitentiary for violation of the Mann act, will be extradited and returned to Chicago on a charge of conspiracy, according to a statement today by Charles F. Cline, U. S. district attorney. The recent supreme court decision in a white slave case, holding that a conspiracy may be entered to violate the act, was cited by Mr. Cline as authority for the statement.

"The offense for which Johnson was tried," District Attorney Cline said, "is not extraditable, but conspiracy to violate the United States laws is. If the pugilist is not returned through any of our various plans, either before or after his boxing match at Juarez, Mexico, he will be indicted for conspiracy, arrested wherever he may be, and brought back."

"He may elude us and escape to Europe again, but his freedom will be short-lived."

DRIVE RAIDERS BACK ACROSS THE FRONTIER

Paris, Feb. 16.—A Nish dispatch to the Havas agency says: "The Albanian raiders have been routed and driven back across the Serbian frontier. More complete information shows that the Albanians were led into making the raid by Austrian priests and Mohammedan adversaries of Essad Pasha, the provisional president, by preaching holy war. The movement is being directed by Turkish and German agents."

Ends Dry, Hoarse or Painful Coughs Quickly

A Simple, Home-Made Remedy, Inexpensive but Unexcelled

The prompt and positive results given by this pleasant tasting, home-made cough syrup has caused it to be used in more homes than any other remedy. It gives almost instant relief and will usually overcome the average cough in 24 hours.

Get 2 1/2 ounces Pinex (50 cents worth) from any drug store, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. This makes a full pint—a family supply—of the most effective cough remedy at a cost of only 54 cents or less. You can't buy as much ready-made cough medicine for $2.50. Easily prepared and never spoils. Full directions with Pinex.

The promptness, certainty and ease with which this Pinex Syrup overcomes a bad cough, chest or throat cold is truly remarkable. It quickly loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough and heals and soothes a painful cough in a hurry. With a persistent loose cough it stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the annoying hacking.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, rich in quinine and is famous the world over for its splendid effect in bronchitis, whooping cough, bronchial asthma and winter coughs.

To avoid disappointment in making this ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex?" and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

MINISTERS QUIT ATTEMPT TO OUST MAYOR GEO. KARB

(Associated Press Telegram) Columbus, Feb. 16.—Explaining that it had "decided to rest upon our oars until election time," the Columbus Methodist Ministers' Association yesterday concluded to abandon the attempt to get the 10,000 signatures required for a petition to common pleas court for removal of Mayor KARB.

"Opposition of the political machine and lack of funds" was the reason given by Rev. W. W. Trout, secretary of the association. He said it had been estimated it would cost $1500 to obtain the required number of signatures.

EXCHANGE OF WOUNDED IS BEING MADE

(Associated Press Telegram) Amsterdam, via London, Feb. 16.—The actual exchange of wounded British and German prisoners of war who have been incapacitated for future service is under way. A train carrying seven British officers and ninety-three soldiers, blind or maimed, arrived today at Oldenzaal. There the train was transferred from German to Dutch authorities, but the German ambulance staff remained on board. The men were weary but cheerful at the prospect of returning to England.

GENUINE PRESCRIPTION FOR ALL RHEUMATISM

Satisfaction Guaranteed or Money Back, Says T. J. Evans.

Rheuma—that is the name of the scientific prescription that is putting old rheumatism out of business.

Rheuma cures by driving the uric acid from the blood. It also acts directly on the kidneys and is better for them than most so-called kidney cures.

Porter Smith, Dobbin, W. Va., writes: "I have been a great sufferer from rheumatism for about 26 years. The disease had become chronic. I began taking Rheuma with little faith in its virtues, but was better from the first day I began its use, and at this time have no more pains."

T. J. Evans and all druggists sell Rheuma, and no rheumatic sufferer can afford not to use it. 50 cents a bottle. Your money back if not satisfied.

MUST DISPLAY FLAGS.

(Associated Press Telegram) Chicago, Feb. 16.—American flags must wave from all of the approximately 5,000 polling places in Chicago on primary day, Feb. 23, it was ruled yesterday by County Judge Scully. Display of the flag both outside and inside the polling place Judge Scully said, will teach patriotism.

Canada last year imported 10,795,632 dozen eggs from the United States.

Stop That Cough—Now.

When you catch cold, or begin to cough, the first thing to do is to take Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. It penetrates the linings of the Throat and Lungs and lights the Germs of the Disease, giving quick relief and natural healing. "Our whole family depend on Pine-Tar-Honey for Coughs and Colds," writes Mr. E. Williams, Hamilton, Ohio. It always helps. 25c at your druggist.

HOW SHE ENDED TEN YEARS OF SKIN-TORTURE

Oct. 28, 1914.—"I had eczema on my face for ten years. Little red pimples formed in a small spot on my chin and then spread all over my face. They itched and burned me awfully. It was certainly embarrassing to me, and I would not go amongst people. I tried almost every remedy and treatment that could be used for this trouble, but nothing did me any good. I used Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap, and was relieved in a day or two. In one month I was cured. This was six months ago and the trouble has never returned."—(Signed) Mrs. C. C. Roberts, Weatherford, Okla.

The Resinol treatment speedily heals eczema, rashes, ringworm, and other eruptions, and clears away disfiguring pimples and blackheads, even when other treatments prove worse than useless. Doctors have prescribed Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap for eighteen years, and all druggists sell them.

RHEUMATIC SUFFERERS GIVEN QUICK RELIEF

CHILD FOLLOWS HER FATHER TO THE SANITARIUM

Rhea Sanderson, age 7 years, suffering with a broken leg was removed to the Newark Sanitarium on Monday afternoon just a few hours after her father, Andrew Sanderson, had been taken there, seriously ill with rheumatism.
The family reside at 74 Hancock street and the child was playing on a pile of brick, when she lost her balance and fell breaking the left leg in two places. Dr. G. W. Sapp and Dr. W. E. Boyer dressed the injury, and she is resting more comfortably today.

SULLIVAN HAD GOOD RECORD AS CATCHER

(Associated Press Telegram)
Chicago, Feb. 16.—William J. Sullivan, veteran catcher of the Chicago American League club, who was given his unconditional release yesterday, held many records during the twenty years he played professional baseball. Statistics compiled here today show that Sullivan caught in 1,300 games during his 16 years career as a major leaguer. In one season, while a member of the Dubuque (Ia.) team he caught 124 consecutive games. He also won distinction a few years ago by catching three balls dropped from the Washington monument.

GREEK HELD ON SERIOUS CHARGE; HELD FOR WARRANT

George Comas, a Greek, arrested early Monday evening by Officer Harter, is held at the city prison pending the filing of an affidavit against him, charging him with an unlawful offense. The complaint which resulted in his arrest was made by a young boy who told the officers that Comas used a knife to threaten him. Solicitor Norpell will be asked to prepare a warrant charging a penal offense.

PREDICTS ITALY WILL MOBILIZE IN NEAR FUTURE

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, Feb. 16.—The prophesy that Italy would mobilize her army within a fortnight was made here today by Nicciotti Garibaldi, the Italian patriot. He said that unless the Italian government decided to participate in the war, there would be a revolution.

GERMANY WILL RECEDE FROM HER POSITION

Regarding Sea War Zone of England Will Meet Her Demands as to Food Shipments.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Feb. 16.—Administration officials today awaited with the keenest interest an indication of Great Britain's attitude toward Germany's proposal, made through the United States to drop her plan to destroy enemy merchant ships by a submarine and sea mine campaign in British waters if Great Britain would permit food cargoes to pass unmolested to the German civilian population.

Germany's announced purpose is to put her sea war zone proclamation into effect Feb. 18. That she would recede from her position if England would meet her demands in regard to food shipments, was announced by the German ambassador here, Count von Bernstorff, in a note to the American state department, which immediately transmitted the proposal to London.

Germany's proposition was sent almost simultaneously with a telegram from the state department to the British government submitting evidence by owners of the American steamer Wilhelmna that the vessel's food cargo, now held for a British prize court, is destined for German non-combatants and suggesting that it be permitted to go forward.

The situation, already complicated, developed a new phase with the announcement yesterday by Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, that Great Britain is considering even more stringent measures to prevent Germany from receiving food supplies from other countries.

WORDS OF PRAISE FROM FRENCH PRESS FOR PRESIDENT WILSON.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Paris, Feb. 16.—America's reply to Germany's blockade notification has brought forth a chorus of praise from the principal writers in the French press. Even Georges Clemenceau, who hitherto has been disposed to criticize President Wilson, says the president has spoken the words the American people expected in such a way that Germany has no alternative but to back down.

Gabriel Hanotaux says in the Figaro: "The American note to Germany is an act of high historic initiative and the first step toward the inevitable participation of neutrals in the great events which are dividing the world. President Wilson was obliged to pass from discussion to action. What does the measure mentioned in the note mean but that American warships will fall upon German submarines attacking American ships in total disregard of America's sovereign rights? Either Germany can give in or she can disregard Washington's note and go on with her plan to force England to capitulate. Then President Wilson should not recede from his position."
The proposal made by Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador to the United States that Germany would withdraw its blockade order if the import of food was permitted by England arrived too late for comment but the newspapers caption the announcement "Official German Blackmail."

CLAIM BRITISH WILL PURPOSELY SINK STEAMERS.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Berlin, Feb. 16.—(By wireless to London.)—An official statement reading as follows was issued in Berlin today:

"Inasmuch as it is to the interest of Great Britain that conflicts arise between Germany and neutral powers, it is thought in German shipping circles that English submarines, in order to bring about this end, may purposely sink more neutral ships. It is known also in the shipping circles that Great Britain has laid large quantities of mines against German submarines."

MR. J. M. CARR IS WELL KNOWN HERE

J. M. Carr of Barberton who has just been appointed by Gov. Willis as State oil inspector, is very well known in Newark and Licking county.

He was Superintendent of schools at Frazersburg a few miles east of Hanover for several years, and from there was elected to the lower house of the General Assembly from Muskingum county where he served one term.

He was engaged in the newspaper business at Cadiz, Harrison county for awhile, before he went to Barberton where he was superintendent of the public schools for several years.

He was an applicant for the superintendency of the Newark schools when J. D. Simkins left and received one or two votes when the board met. Subsequently he was an all day speaker at a quarterly meeting of the county teachers held in the High school auditorium. It is alleged, although not definitely known here, that he was formerly an Ada student.

Lizzie Franklin, arrested by Patrolman Shaw Monday night on a charge of drunk and disorderly, was fined $20 and costs in police court Tuesday morning and ordered committed to the Columbus workhouse. She was taken to that institution Tuesday afternoon. Four transients were fined and sentences suspended to allow the men to leave the city.

"Just like the old home apple butter!"

The old home apple butter taste! What memories it recalls to these two old folks! Memories of the vine-covered old homestead, with its moss-covered stone well, and its sweet-scented apple orchard, laden in fall with big, luscious, rosy-cheeked apples.

The old home apple butter! Rich and golden-brown, was anything ever so delectable, so wholly palate-pleasing? It was the ambrosia of the autumn.

The old home apple butter! How often have you just "hankered" for its rare goodness? How many times have modern apple butters disappointed you when you sought it? The minute you taste Lippincott Apple Butter you'll realize you have found the old home taste at last. And no wonder! Just consider how Lippincott Apple Butter is made—

We follow a famous recipe used on an old New England homestead for over fifty years. We use nothing but the choicest and tastiest of apples, the most fragrant of spices, and the purest of white granulated sugar.

Order a trial jar now—enjoy again the old home taste you've hankered for. 15c and 25c jars at all good grocers.

MAYOR'S WIFE CAMPAIGNING FOR HUSBAND

(Associated Press Telegram)
Chicago, Feb. 16.—Mrs. Carter H. Harrison, wife of Mayor Harrison, today took her husband's place on the platform and addressed several meetings of workers urging them to nominate her husband next Tuesday as the Democratic candidate for mayor.

Mayor Harrison because of illness, was unable to fill a number of his engagements and Mrs. Harrison volunteered to take his place.

A series of speeches for afternoons and evenings throughout the last week of the primary campaign has been planned for Mrs. Harrison, who until now had addressed only women's organizations.

Lighting Newark Streets

The Light Question.
Editor of The Advocate:—In the last evening Advocate appeared an interview with Mr. Carl Norpell, in which he stated that, if the Ohio Light and Power Company would furnish electric current cheaper than the city could manufacture it and make a contract for ten years, he would be in favor of such contract. I feel sure that Mr. Norpell would not advise one of his clients to make a contract for a period of ten years if, at the end of that term such client would be left at the mercy of the other party. I dare say Mr. Norpell would not lease any of his real estate for a ten year term with such a danger even a possibility.

LAWYER.
Doubtless Mr. Norpell believes that at the end of a ten year period the city would be in practically the same position it is today in that the city could then renew the contract if the terms were favorable or could then manufacture electricity for lighting the streets. In other words, Mr. Norpell evidently does not believe that the entering into a contract with the Ohio Light and Power Company at the present time would put the city into the "clutches of a corporation."—(Editor.)

Mr. Stasel's Statement.
Editor of The Advocate:—In view of Mr. Christian's article criticising my extended statement of recent date, I wish to say that my figures were obtained from a reliable source. If Mr. Christian will turn to the City

Auditor's report for the year 1914, on pages 11 and 12, he will find all of my figures excepting the probable cost of coal for the year. This item I took from the expert engineer's report also excepting the meter readings at the Municipal Light Plant for the years 1911, 1912, 1913 and 1914. These figures I got from a city official who reported that they came from the books in Mr. Christian's office. These were accepted as accurate. But if the meter reading reported for 1914 is wrong, then take the readings for the years 1911, 1912 and 1913, which readings Mr. Christian does not say are wrong, then we have the same general result, that is to purchase current at 1.10 cents will be cheaper than to produce it by the city plant.

It cannot be said that the figures in the Auditor's report on this subject came from other source than Mr. Christian himself—he should not repudiate his own.

The theoretical estimate of the Service Director does not agree with the expert engineer which he selected and yet he persists in embracing his own.

The engineer chosen by the Service Director shows with the expenditure of $30,000, current will cost 1.35 per kilowatt. If he is wrong get a competent expert.

It is hardly fair to propose to me a possible contract with the Ohio Light and Power company—the Service Director will have to make all such negotiations with that company.

A. A. STASEL.

CASHED CHARITY AID AND BOUGHT BOOZE; IS FINED

Because Pat Lavin, a transient soldier of the army of the unemployed, indicated by his actions Monday that charity extended to him is a wasted effort. He succeeded in realizing cash on a ticket furnished him through the efforts of the Associated Charities, spent the money for booze and landed in the lockup. In police court he was so talkative that Mayor Bigbee could hardly find an opportunity to assess the fine. The continued rattling of Pat's tongue finally landed him in a cell on a bread and water diet. The mayor tried to offer a suspended sentence on condition that Pat leave the city at once but Pat wouldn't let the mayor talk. He will spend a week or more in a cell on bread and water. This is one of the few cases where the association has been victimized. The close investigations made, usually forestall such frauds.

ed in a suit, the Meyers bill to make optional the registration of land titles under the Torrens system when land is sold in partition or in suits brought by a court officer; the Hite law to prohibit overdrawing of bank accounts; the Deaton bill to place the bureau of vital statistics under the state board of health and the Hoy bill to prohibit fee splitting and prohibit quack methods in practicing medicine.

Repeal of the non-partisan judiciary act was urged today by the judiciary committee, when it voted to report out the Vallenweider bill containing provision for this repeal, with recommendation for passage.

The committee also decided to report favorably the Archer bill fixing heavy penalties for stealing or refilling bottles which contain the trade mark or name of the owner. The bill was drawn to suit milk dealers and soft drink manufacturers mainly. The latter complained that in dry counties their bottles were being stolen and filled with whiskey.

Action on the Myers bill to repeal the moving picture censor law was deferred by the committee. A subcommittee consisting of Senators Lloyd of Franklin, Pink of Hamilton and Myers of Marion, was appointed to prepare a new draft of the bill to regulate small loan companies. The new draft will include regulations for pawn brokers, members of the subcommittee said.

Senator Wise of Stark prepared a bill for introduction today authorizing the sale of banks of the state canal through the business section of Massillon.

Reform of the election machinery by reducing the board of deputy supervisors of elections in every county from four to two, abolition of annual registration, and creation of a system of voting by mail, is provided in a general elections bill ready for introduction in the senate today by Senator Wickliffe of Summit.

It is estimated the new system will mean a saving of nearly $800,000 a year to the state. The bill provides also for a single primary in the spring of presidential election years. The usual fall primary will be considered with that on the second Tuesday of May.

Saving in salaries of the two election board members in each county will be approximately $105,000. Senator Wickliffe estimated. Substitution of a card system, whereby each voter registers only once in a lifetime, unless he moves to a new precinct, also will mean a saving of $600,000 a year, it is believed.

Persons who do not expect to be in their voting precincts on election day may secure ballots in advance and send them by mail according to another provision of the Wickliffe measure. Voters confined by illness also could secure ballots and mark them at their homes.

Petitions containing 10,000 names poured in upon legislators today urging support of the Platt bill, authorizing chiropractors to practice without violating the state medical act. John H. Oswalt, of Warren, president of the State Chiropractic association, declared the petitions bore the names of 32 physicians and 84 druggists, besides ministers and business men. The Platt bill now is before the house public health committee.

An attempt will be made by the chiropractors to have it reported out without recommendation.

SOFT FLUFFY HAIR IS FIRST AID TO BEAUTY

If your hair is not fluffy, soft and lustrous, is falling out, streaked, faded, brittle, or full of dandruff, and if the scalp itches, do not think it must always be that way, for pretty hair is only a matter of care and the use of the proper hair dressing. Your hair is like a plant—if neglected it soon dies, while with a little attention it keeps fresh and beautiful.

Parisian Sage is a scientific preparation that supplies just the elements needed to invigorate the hair roots and stimulate your hair to grow long, thick, fluffy, soft and lustrous. It removes all dandruff with one application and quickly stops itching head and falling hair. It is the ideal hair tonic and scalp treatment—contains nothing injurious and is delicately perfumed.

T. J. Evans, or any druggist, can supply you with Parisian Sage—it is inexpensive. You cannot be disappointed with this delightful and helpful toilet necessity, for it will surely give your hair the beauty and charm of youth.

MEETING OF THE TRAVELERS CLUB WELL ATTENDED

Excellent Program Discussed by Granville Women—News of Thriving College City.

(Special to The Advocate)

Granville, O., Feb. 16.—The meeting of the Travelers club yesterday afternoon was well attended and the program presented was one of unusual enjoyment and profit. Still stopping at Gum the little island in the Pacific, some fifteen hundred miles from Manila, which was thoroughly described last week, the attention of the club was called to larger, more comprehensive topics, which demanded up-to-date, scientific treatment. "Current Events" assumed the character of a symposium with responses from Mrs. Hines, Mrs. E. P. Cook, Mrs. M. E. Stickney and Mrs. Clemmons; "Ocean Currents" by Mrs. E. P. Cook, was a scientific treatise presented in its most popular and delightful form. The Gulf Stream and other lesser currents being treated in masterly style. The paper so abounded in good things that a resume is impossible. "Tropical Diseases" at first view was not an appealing topic, but under Mrs. Van Kirk's magic touch it proved to be anything but gruesome. The advances in scientific knowledge whereby malaria, yellow fever, sleeping sickness, bubonic plague and kindred evils of the tropics are being controlled, was the optimistic message conveyed by her broad and comprehensive treatment of the subject. Mrs. Clemmons reminded the members that next Monday will be observed as Washington's birthday, when a large attendance is particularly desired. During intermission, literature was distributed calling attention to the Ohio Commission for the relief of European war sufferers, with Licking county headquarters in Newark, and a request made that any individuals who have as yet made no contribution to do, should communicate with Mrs. F. P. Kennedy, chairman of the Women's Auxiliary in Newark. Guests of the club were: Mrs. Arthur Thompson, Mrs. Edward Jones, Mrs. C. L. Williams, Miss Emma Wartenbee, Miss Carrie Howland.

Mrs. W. A. Chamberlain entertained with a beautifully appointed thimble party yesterday afternoon at her home in Burg street. About fifteen ladies were present and the time was agreeably passed in needlework and conversation. Prizes were awarded the winners in a guessing contest in observance of St. Valentine's Day, and delicious refreshments were served in the dining room.

Miss Mary McKibben is visiting her sister, Mrs. Oscar Arnold in New York City, where she expects to remain for a month.

Mrs. C. B. Newton of Bowling Green arrived in Granville last evening and will spend a week at the home of Dr. and Mrs. R. S. Colwell in South Prospect street. Mrs. Newton is remembered by Granville people as Miss Benedict the popular organist of Denison Conservatory.

Miss M. E. Penney delightfully entertained a few friends at luncheon today, complimentary to Mrs. C. B. Newton, who is Mrs. Colwell's house guest.

Mrs. Katherine Spencer has gone to Columbus where she will visit friends for a few days.

Mr. Ralph Lewis of Kentucky is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Lowe in Cherry street.

There was no rehearsal of the Engewerson chorus last evening owing to the severe indisposition of the director, Mr. Karl Eschman.

Prof. I. S. Kull, who has been quite ill for several weeks, is convalescing rapidly and is able to be around the house.

Dandruff a Danger Signal Of Coming Baldness

By a Scalp Specialist.
Lots of folks with dry, dandruffy scalps, lifeless and thin hair, imagine that all their scalp needs is a little greasy tonic to oil up the tops of their heads in order to bring back a good healthy growth of long, thick locks. What could be more foolish? It's the dandruff germ inside the hair roots—not the scalp—that needs attention.

Dandruff consists of scales from the scalp skin—waste matter from the germ-laden hair root. Don't get the idea that soap will wash it out for soap cannot enter the tiny follicles or globes in your hair roots, which are crying out for nourishment against the greedy dandruff germ. But give the starved roots something they can readily absorb, to stimulate the weakened cells into giving color, healthy luster and thick growth to the hair. The dandruff germs cannot live in healthy hair roots and after it is dead Nature will take its own course in growing hair.

It only takes a couple of applications of "wildroot" before the surface dandruff may be combed from the head in showers. But the most pleasing result is its cooling, refreshing effect as its fine virgin oils sink into the hair roots, making the scalp inside and out as purely clean as a babe's. A big bottle of "wildroot" at any good drugstore only costs a trifle for the splendid results it gives and the chemists who make it guarantee perfect satisfaction or money back.

War Zone To Be Effective At Midnight

All Vessels, Neutral or Otherwise, Penetrating the Waters Surrounding the United Kingdom, Do So at Their Own Peril—Many Will Accept the Risk

ENGLAND WILL RETALIATE AND SHUT OFF FOOD SUPPLY

Will Not Accept Proposal of Germany to Call Off Blockade if Great Britain Will Relax Naval Pressure On Shipping—Second Big Air Raid Upon German Base of Belgian Coast—Berlin Celebrating Successes In East Prussian Operations.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) London, Feb. 17.—At the stroke of midnight the waters surrounding the coasts of the United Kingdom will become, so far as lies within the power of Germany to make them, a war zone which all vessels, neutral or otherwise, will penetrate at their peril.

Some of the services across the channel probably will be curtailed, but a majority of the neutral shipping lines will accept the risk and continue their sailings. The names and nationality of the vessels and the flags of their nations will be painted on their sides in the hope that German submarines will not sink them by mistake.

England's announcement of the details of her proposed retaliatory policy, by which she plans to shut off the German food supply from the outside, is expected momentarily and apparently there is not the slightest prospect that this country will accept the German proposal to call off the blockade if England will relax naval pressure on shipping.

It is not expected that there will be any immediate and widespread activity by the German submarines, but the developments regarding neutral ships should bring to a head one of the most interesting and threatening situations of the war.

Berlin is again celebrating the success of Field Marshal von Hindenburg, as further details of the East Prussian operations are received. It is officially claimed in Berlin that 50,000 Russian prisoners were taken, while all dispatches agree that the Russians are still being pressed further eastward, fighting a rear guard action in an endeavor to prevent the Germans from surrounding their wings. In the Carpathians, the fighting is yet to reach a decision. The western end and the center of the Russian line is holding, notwithstanding repeated and violent attacks, but in Bukovina, the Austrians have pressed on to within 12 miles of Czernowitz.

It is believed that a recurrence of the general German offensive in the western theater depends largely upon the outcome of the present eastern situation. Opinion here is divided whether the Germans are planning a great invasion of Russia or whether their chief desire is simply to free Austrian territory of hostile forces and make secure their lines in Central and Northern Poland.

Believed Steamship Has Been Seized and Held For Examination of Her Cargo

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) New York, Feb. 17.—Agents of the Scandinavian-American line stated today that the steamship Oscar II, which sailed from this port February 4 for Christiania and Copenhagen, had reached Kirkwall in the Orkney islands, just north of Scotland, last Sunday. Fears had been felt as to the vessel's safety.

The Oscar II is a Norwegian steamer. Local agents of the line said today that the vessel had not intended to stop at Kirkwall and that they inferred that she had been seized and held there for examination as to her cargo.

The message received here came from Captain Hempel and consisted of four words: "Arrived at Kirkwall Sunday." This is the second time the Oscar II has been diverted from her course into a British port.

The message undoubtedly means

American consular officers and urging the Washington government to contend for the right to ship food-stuffs for noncombatants was made public today by the state department. It follows:

1.—The federal council's decision concerning the seizure of food products, which England alleges to be the cause of food products shipped to Germany being treated as contraband, is exclusively on 'wheat, rye, both unmixed and mixed with other products' and wheat, rye, oats and barley flour.

2.—The federal council makes an express exception in section 45 of the order. Section 45 provides as follows: 'The stipulations of this regulation do not apply to grain or flour imported from abroad after Jan. 31.'

3.—Conjunctively with the saving clause the federal council's order contains a provision under which it exported cereals and flour could be sold exclusively to the municipalities or certain specially designated organizations by the importers.

Although that provision had for its object simply to throw imported grain and flour into sub-basements as supply the private consumption of civilians and, in consequence of that provision the intent and purpose of the federal council's order which engrossers was fully met was nevertheless rescinded so as to leave no room for doubt.

4.—My government is amenable to any proposition looking to control by a special American organization under the supervision of the American consular officers and if necessary will itself make a proposition in that direction.

5.—The German government further calls attention to the fact that municipalities do not form part of or belong to the government, but are "self-administrative bodies," which are elected by the inhabitants of the commune in accordance with fixed rules, and therefore exclusively represent the private part of the population and set as it directs. Although these principles are generally known and obtain in the United States as well as in England itself, the German government desired to point out the fact so as to avoid any further unnecessary delay.

6.—Hence, it is absolutely assured that imported food products will be consumed by the civilian population in Germany exclusively and there remains no doubt upon which England can prevent the exportation of food products for America to Germany for the use of civilians.

"The imperial government expresses the firm hope that the American government will stand on its right in this matter."

The prisoner was declared "mentally unwell" by alienists who had him under observation for several days, and at this time he is in the Westchester county jail at White Plains, N. Y.

SHIP BILL PASSES BY BIG MARGIN

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, Feb. 17.—The administration compromise ship purchase bill went to the senate today, following its passage by the house early today by a vote of 215 to 121.

The measure was injected as a new element into the tangled situation in the senate where the original ship purchase bill has been held up by a determined filibuster for weeks. The same stubborn opposition that has long kept the senate exclusively occupied, promised to greet the new bill which emerged from a fourteen-hour parliamentary struggle in the lower branch of congress.

Administration leaders in the senate discussed various plans for continuing the ship purchase fight along new lines, on the compromise measure.

Formal inquiry into charges of "lobbying" against the administration ship purchase bill pending in the senate, was begun today by the special senate committee. Two witnesses who were on hand ready to testify when the hearing began, were Bernard N. Baker, of Baltimore, former manager of the Atlantic Transport Line and Sigmund Albert, of New York, representing German-American steamship companies. A number of other witnesses will be summoned by the committee.

It was expected that the letter of Secretary McAdoo, addressed to Senator Fletcher and given out last night, in which the secretary made emphatic denial of intimations that he had been negotiating for the purchase of merchant ships of belligerent nations under the proposed shipping bill, would be laid before the committee by the senator.

SITUATION DISCUSSED BY TURKISH DIPLOMAT.

HOSTILITIES PROVOKED

By Russians and British On Land and Sea Claims Talaat Bey, Minister of War—Country Prepared to Carry On War to End of Conflict.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Constantinople, Feb. 17.—Via London.—"Turkey declared war without being urged by Germany or impelled by other influences, save those of the empire," said Talaat Bey today, in a statement to the Associated Press made in reply to questions concerning the political and military situation in his country.

Talaat Bey today fills the posts of minister of the interior, minister of finance and minister of marine in the Turkish cabinet. Two weeks ago, in addition to these offices he was also minister of war, which gave him the four most important portfolios in the administration. He is a young Turk, and is undoubtedly the most important man in Turkey at the present time. His advice is heeded everywhere, and he virtually directs the public affairs of the Ottoman empire.

"Turkey engaged in military operations," he continued, "only when actions on the part of Russia and Great Britain made defensive measures necessary and today Turkey has taken all steps needful to carry the war through."

"The Holy War is not menacing Christians, but the holy war is a fact which the enemies of the Mohammedan world should bear in mind. Christians in the Ottoman empire who are participating in the destinies of their country are not suffering from conditions brought about by the present state of affairs and any statements to the contrary are a result of British, French and Russian intrigues, the purpose of which is to direct against Turkey the pressure of neutral countries of lower standing in the Ottoman world."

To the correspondent of the Associated Press, Talaat Bey complained of the attitude of foreign newspapers including the American press which he said were oblivious alike of the position of Turkey under the pressure of the entente powers, and the efforts of the young Turks to accomplish the reforms associated with that party.

"On land and sea alike, the Russians and the British provoked hostilities," he declared. "Our action finally was the result of efforts to

LEGALITY OF BOND SALES QUESTIONED

Rumors have been flying for several days that the last three bond issues of the city have been or will be refused by the purchasers on the ground that the advertisement for such public sale was not in accordance with the statutes "in such cases made and provided." It has been asserted that the advertisement was published but one time when the usual number of insertions of the advertisement is four or five.

There has also been some discussion of the advisability of selling the $240,000 subway bond issue when the possibility of starting the work is very remote. These bonds, when issued, will cost the city $1,000 per month interest and those who have discussed the matter state that it is not good policy to pay this interest for great length of time, pending the agreement of the railroads and the city on a contract for the work.

Regarding the legality of the bond sale, City Auditor A. Nelson Dodd stated to the Advocate Wednesday that City Solicitor Norpell had advised him that one publication, 30 days previous to the sale of the bonds was sufficient. He referred to the statute of the municipal code which provides for such advertising. This section does state that bond sales shall be advertised by publication 30 days before the sale and a provision of the section indicates that one insertion of the advertisement is sufficient.

His attention was called to another

State School May be Built Near Newark

Board of Administration Will Ask Legislature for an Appropriation to Start the Proposed New Institution For Deaf and Dumb Children

ONE MILLION DOLLARS WILL BE NEEDED FOR COMPLETION

Two Hundred Acres of Licking County Farm Land Could Be Secured for Board On Which to Erect State Institution With Cottages for Dormitories—Plans Will Be Started at Once—More Playground is Also Needed.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Columbus, Feb. 17.—Building of a new state school for deaf and dumb children near Newark to replace the institution now located in Columbus, is being considered by the state board of administration, it became known here today. Dr. A. F. Shepherd, member of the board said today the legislature may be asked for an appropriation at the present session for starting the proposed new institution. He estimated $1,000,000 would be needed for its completion.

The buildings here now occupied by the school for deaf and dumb then would be converted into a laboratory for the bureau of juvenile research. This bureau is maintained at present on a small scale at the institution for the feeble minded, but much more room is needed, according to Dr. Thomas H. Haines, clinical director of the bureau.

All the buildings of the school for deaf could be used advantageously for the housing of children under observation by the bureau of juvenile research, Dr. Haines said today.

There is too little playground in the present institution for proper care of deaf children, it is said.

About 200 acres of rich farm land in Licking county has been offered to the state without cost, it is announced and on this the board of administration plans to build a new school for deaf, with cottages for dormitories. The board of administration will soon start making definite plans for the institution, it was said, at the board's office today.

Having failed to secure a state institution at the time when it was proposed to erect the institution for the criminal insane, now located at Lima, Licking county still has the opportunity to secure a valuable public institution, in many respects much more desirable than the other.

The state board of administration is confronted with the problem of providing better surroundings for the deaf and dumb than are offered in the present institution located in the city of Columbus. Licking county can secure this institution, if it is authorized by the legislature and if Licking county's offer is satisfactory.

An Associated Press dispatch from Columbus over the Advocate's leased wire, this morning, stated that a movement was on foot to locate the institution in Licking county near Newark.

The tract of land mentioned in the article, said to have been offered to the state, is understood by Dr. A. F. Shepherd, president of the state board of administration, to be the tract now leased by the country club. To the Advocate, Dr. Shepherd stated that he had been told that this tract had been offered to the state several years ago for another institution which Licking county failed to land. He intimated that from what he understood of the land, it would be ideal for the requirements of the board. "We must make some change," said Dr. Shepherd. "Our present building is inadequate. The dormitories and school rooms are all located in the one building. There is insufficient room for play grounds and that is one of the things we are seeking. Deaf and dumb children like to run and play as well as normal children and it means much to their mental and physical development."

"The board and the officials of the institution, have in mind the adoption of the cottage plan of housing the pupils in the school. It is accepted by the authorities as being the best method of caring for children and is being adopted in other states as rapidly as possible."

No formal action has been taken by the board along this line. What talk there was, has been informal and it is possibly too early to say much about it. "The board expects to make a special report to the state legislature requesting that some action be given to the idea and until such report is made, it is too early to talk about it. This report, I may say, will no doubt be made soon."

Dr. Shepherd further stated that (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5.)

British Collier Dulwich Is Torpedoed by a Submarine; Sank In Twenty Minutes

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Havre, via Paris, Feb. 17.—The British steam collier Dulwich, bound from Hull to Rouen, was torpedoed by a German submarine twenty miles northwest of Cape De La Heve, at 6 o'clock last night. The torpedo struck the middle starboard side. As the crew took to the boats, the submarine which torpedoed the ship was seen speeding away. The Dulwich sank in twenty minutes. Twenty-two members of the crew of 31 men were picked up by the French destroyer Arquebuz and brought to Havre. Seven others rowed to Fecamp. The fate of the other two is unknown.

A dispatch from London last night stated that Lloyds had received information for Fecamp, France, that the Dulwich had been blown up. This information was brought ashore by seven men of the crew who rowed to land. The vessel was of 5,289 tons. The weather was clear but a heavy sea was running when the Dulwich was blown up. The torpedo struck under the water line and the explosion which followed was terrific. The ship began to settle immediately and a hasty examination showed Capt. Hunter and his vessel could keep afloat only a few minutes. His first concern, therefore, was to assure the safety of his men. He ordered the boats launched as quickly as possible and the sailors tumbled in without taking time to save their personal belongings.

While pulling toward the French coast, seeking a ship which might rescue them, the crew of the Dulwich saw the submarine rise to the surface several times as if watching them and then disappeared again.

Placing Bomb On a Russian Railway to Blow Up Soldiers.

This photograph, taken in eastern Prussia, illustrates the gentle art of placing bombs under a railway track so a few hundred soldiers may be blown up. It is a case taken from the Russian invasion of eastern Prussia. When the Russians were forced by the Germans to retreat their commanders sent them around in front to place the bombs under switches along the road. A wire connecting with the bomb was placed over the track so an engine's wheels set off the bomb. It was running thirty miles an hour the whole train would be wrecked when it was blown from the tracks.

Federal Child Labor Bill.

An active campaign for the passage of the Palmer-Owen federal child labor bill by the present congress has been inaugurated by the national child labor committee. "Leading senators and representatives told us at the national child labor conference, recently held in Washington," said Owen R. Lovejoy, general secretary of the national child labor committee, "that the only thing needed for the passage of this bill was insistent public demand. We were so much encouraged by this news that we are redoubling our efforts to bring the bill before the public in the short time that is left before the adjournment of congress on March 4."

If the bill does not pass, it means that the thousands of children under 14 who are still at work in factories, and the 50,000 or more children under 16 who may legally be employed at night, and the still more appalling number of over 100,000 under 16 who may legally work 9, 10, 11 hours a day, will continue to labor under these conditions. State regulations would reach them sometime as it has already reached thousands of children in the past but the national child labor committee has been trying for 10 years to bring the states throughout the country up to the standards contained in the Palmer-Owen bill. Today all the states but two have adopted one or more of its four provisions, but only nine have adopted them all.

"State regulation has its place," continued Mr. Lovejoy, "but this question of child labor in the factories and mines that ship goods in interstate commerce is another matter. The regulation of child labor in stores, hotels, laundries and street trades, for instance, must be left to the states, but congress can and should protect the thousands of children who manufacture goods for interstate commerce. It is the quickest way to free them from premature employment, and it is the only way in which the manufacturer in states where the employment of children is carefully regulated, can be protected from the unfair competition of states with lower standards. We believe in 'state's rights' and we believe that they include the right of the manufacturer to equal competition, the right of the consumer to protection from child-made goods, and the right of the future citizens to a normal childhood and 'chance for education.'"

ASTRONOMICAL EVENTS.

Evening stars: Mercury, Mars, Saturn, Jupiter. Morning star: Venus. Ash Wednesday; beginning of the Christian penitential season.

no like period of the world's history have there been so many great and disastrous wars as in the past 17 years, culminating in the present unprecedented struggle that includes a large part of Europe. Our war with Spain was quickly followed by England's contest with the Boers in South Africa. That had hardly been concluded before Japan and Russia locked arms in the Far East. War was narrowly averted in 1908 after Austria's absorption of Bosnia and Herzegovina, and reappeared in 1911 with Italy's seizure of Tripoli and assault on Turkey. That in turn gave rise to the vigorous attack of the Balkan States upon Turkey, quickly followed by their own quarrels and the alignment of Serbia and Greece against Bulgaria. Within less than a year after that bloody struggle had been brought to a close Austria precipitated the present unparalleled slaughter by its unprovoked effort to crush Serbia.

It is a stirring period to look back upon, but it does not suggest that the world is making as rapid progress toward peace and disarmament as we had thought in the more humdrum days preceding 1898. It seems to be the same old world, fighting now just as it did 100 and 200 years ago. Human nature does not change so rapidly as some optimists imagine.

 We never heard of a manslaughter charge by pleading guilty to murder, but an upstate man tried to prove he wasn't crazy the other day by claiming he was in love.—Milwaukee Journal.

Not So Bad.
 "Your show was the worst we have ever had here," said the manager of the Hicks Opera House as he handed the manager of the Fly-by-Night Company his share of the box office receipts.
 "That's queer," said the manager of the company. "Why when we played in Chicago we had the longest run in the history of the city."
 "I'm sorry," replied the manager of the opera house.
 "Sorry about what?" demanded the manager of the company.
 "Sorry the audience abandoned the chase," replied the manager of the opera house.—Kansas City Star.

Plenty of Money.
 Evidence that there is a large amount of money awaiting permanent and sound investment, is furnished by the fact that the New York Central's $100,000,000 bond issue was largely over-subscribed. And it was done after the Pennsylvania Railroad's $49,000,000 issue was five times over-subscribed. A properly-managed railroad can borrow all the money it needs.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Quite a State, Texas.
 Texas is too proud of her size and her possibilities. We have in mind two eloquent utterances which, taken together, form a conclusive answer to the idea of splitting Texas. One was uttered by that sagacious Texas statesman and litterateur, Colonel Bill Sterrett, in private conversation: "Men don't understand Texas. Texas is not a state, it's a division of the Union. This country is divided into the North, the South, the East, the West and Texas. When it's moving in the Panhandle you're moving to death in Galveston. If Texas was located in Canada and swung on a pivot, she'd lop over into West Virginia."

Peace in Mexico.
 If Mexican bankruptcy can be averted only in peace, it may also be true that if the nation were bankrupt, the establishment of peace would be greatly facilitated. If the public treasury were not worth fighting for, and there were no chance of negotiating a foreign loan, the disposition to raise an insurrection would be materially checked, and the ability to maintain an insurrection would be in a great measure cut off. It may be that the road to peace leads through an empty treasury.—Philadelphia Record.

A Long Chase.
 "Po!"
 "Well, Comus!"
 "What does 'won by a nose' mean?"
 "It is a racing term, my child, signifying that the first animal to get his nose under the wire wins the heat."
 "Po?"
 "What now, child?"
 "Couldn't we make a lot of money if we only had an elephant?"
 You must have been kidding.—Yonkers Telegram.

Not Dressed There.
 "Isn't your shirt with you at the concert this evening?"
 "Dear me, I'm not married. I'm here because I really enjoy this sort of music."—Detroit Free Press.

Talk On Thrift
BY T. D. MAC GREGOR

"Capital is made only by the process of earning and saving."—Albert W. Atwood
 Some of our readers have asked us to publish more stories of the actual success of thrifty persons. Following are three new ones that have come to our knowledge:

A St. Louis police sergeant, during 35 years on the force, with a salary never more than $115 a month, saved $20,000, and invested in real estate which yielded him an income of $153 a month, enough to retire on and grow old gracefully.

Dennis and Daniel Sullivan, Irish twin brothers, worked for two years as bell boy and doorman, respectively, at the Hotel St. Regis, Fifth Avenue, New York, and saved enough from their wages and tips to buy a couple of taxicabs and go into business for themselves.

"We have several other brothers," said Dennis, "home in Ireland, and as soon as we can make the money we'll have the whole lot of them working with us in partnership. Sure, an' there's one family of Irish brothers who started restaurants over here the way we intend to start in the automobile business, and if they made money we can."

Mrs. Annie Baseley, of Southern California, though she started out poor, can now write her check for a very large amount as she has become almost a millionaire from her huge chicken farm. She began in a very modest way, living in a little cottage on a single acre of ground. At a poultry show in Los Angeles she bought a rooster and half a dozen hens of the best breed. This investment of her savings came high but it was worth while as Mrs. Baseley's subsequent success amply proved.

The motto of millions of thrifty industrious, happy citizens of the United States is, "Live respectably and save a little."

This is an excellent rule, and if you can save a good deal, so much the better.

THE GRIP.

I don't feel grip; I have the grip; and all my person's aching, all day—sneeze; one hour I freeze, the next hour I am baking.

I have the grip, and nurses skip around me with their potions; the doctor shoos the words I use, expressing my emotions. Yile tasting pills, and salts and squills my inside works I rake with; my lugging brow once helped, but now it's only fit to ache with.

"Cheer up, cheer up, Old Buttercup," my neighbors all keep crying, "no man should whine, nor yet repine, until he's sure he's dying; and then by jing, he ought to sing until he splits a rafter, and steer his bark into the dark with optimistic laughter!" They make me hot—they haven't got this curse of all diseases, so they can chaff and dance and laugh, and spring their sunshine whizzes. I wish they'd cease to speak their piece, and toddle to their homes off; they do not ache and freeze and bake, and sneeze their doggone noses off! They do not drink a potion pink, of wormwood, from a dipper; first class they feel, so they can spile of being blithe and chipper!

Luke McLuke Says:
 No matter how well she is dressed, a woman believes that if she isn't wearing a pair of shoes with colored tops she is disgraced.

Every time the rag man comes around a boy always looks longingly at the garb mother is wearing around the kitchen.

When mother gets chummy with a new neighbor woman she will take the neighbor woman upstairs and show her the family jewels. These consist of mother's marriage certificate, some clippings from the papers about the marriage and some old pictures. And mother will show the neighbor a picture of father before they were married and ask if he wasn't a handsome man. And mother will get reminiscent and will tell what a grand man father is. And mother will take up the entire afternoon telling how nicely she and father got along—and that they never have a cross word. And then father will get home and discover that the supper table isn't set yet, and father will break up the hall rack and throw it at the piano and cuss mother in every language from Greek to Chinese.

Once in awhile the girl, who can't make her eyes behave marries a man who can't make his thirst behave. There are only a few sure things in the world. And one of them is that a fat woman knows that she is NOT getting fatter.

When some men are going to church with their wives you would imagine that they were being taken to jail by the sheriff.

A little monkey faced baby is always the perfect image of a wealthy uncle, no matter how handsome said uncle may be.

The smokeless nuisance is a man who swore off tobacco on the first of the year and who wants to tell you all about his sufferings.

Most men do not care whether they have the right side of an argument or not as long as they have the opposite side.

When a girl has a hole in her stocking she thinks it would be awful if an automobile should run into her.

A man would rather have his wife look fat than help her lace herself so she would look thinner.

Maybe a woman would travel in double harness longer if she would bridle her tongue.

As a rule, when a man's tongue is thick his pocketbook is thin.

Severe breezes uncover a multitude of shins.

Any honest girl can tell you that the prettiest apple isn't always the sweetest.

For The Thin and Scrawny

Samson Will Make You Plump and Rosy, Says W. A. Erman & Son.

If you are getting thin you are sick, although you may not know it. If you are losing weight steadily there is something wrong that needs looking after. If you have always been thin it doesn't follow that you are sick, but you may not be healthy. You cannot be strong if you are thin. Try then to be healthy and plump; it is not difficult if you know how.

The only way to increase the weight and gain health and flesh is by using Samose, the standard flesh-forming food and tissue builder. It mingles with the food you eat and is assimilated so that all the flesh forming and tissue building elements of the food are retained in the system. This explains the great value of Samose.

W. A. Erman & Son sells every package on a genuine guarantee to refund the money if it does not do all that is claimed for it.

Society

All members of the Always Faithful club will meet at Main and Williams streets at 1:45 o'clock Saturday, Feb. 20, to go to the home of Ruby Wright. Because of lateness of meeting the valentine box will be withdrawn.

In a very pretty way Miss Pauline Hephrey and Elsie Rowe entertained a number of their friends at a valentine party Monday, at their home in Gorman street. The house was decorated with hearts and cupid, the appointments being red and white. At a late hour a two course luncheon was served to the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Luther Benner, Mrs. Hephrey, Misses Elsie Rowe, Stella Cannon, Mayme Vaughan, Lilybell McDonald, Minnie Harrison, Cecelia Kelley, Anna Cannon, Yona McCarras, Rose Kelley, Gladys Colfer, Effie Norman, Mae Walton, Stella Good, Pauline Hephrey, Fay Hephrey, Messrs. CURRIE-ORR.
On Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock was solemnized the marriage of Miss Anna Orr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Orr of Hudson avenue, and Mr. James E. Currie. The wedding took place in the Second Presbyterian church and the altar was arranged with palms and ferns, with which were intermingled white lilies. Both bride and groom were unattended and entered the church together as Miss Florence King, the organist, played the wedding march. The bride wore a coat suit of goblin blue velvet with trimmings of fur, and a sand-colored hat trimmed in flowers and fur. The bridal bouquet was corsage arrangement of sweet peas and ferns.

Rev. Don Tullis read the marriage service, and following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served the immediate families at the bride's home. The appointments in the dining room were pink and white, the table being centered with sweet peas, and fern leaves.

Mr. and Mrs. Currie left for a trip to Chicago and will be at home after April 1, at 74 East Church street. Mr. Currie is manager of the Newark Electrical company.

THOMPSON-MOORMAN.
On Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the parsonage of the Central Church of Christ, Rev. W. D. Ward officiated at the marriage of Miss Emma May Moorman and Mr. Oscar Thompson. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. C. W. McElwain, the latter being a sister of the bride. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Moorman of Evans street, while the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Thompson, and is employed at the Adams Express company.

PAYNE-VIETMEIER.
The marriage of Miss Justina Vietmeier and Mr. Frank Payne was solemnized at the parsonage of the St. Francis de Sales church on Tuesday evening, Rev. Father Ruane reading the marriage service. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Vietmeier of Pittsburgh, but for a number of years she has made her home with her aunts in Granville street. The groom is a chauffeur and the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Payne of 154 Ash street. Mr. and Mrs. Payne will make their home for the present with the groom's parents.

The Luther League of the Holy Trinity Evangelical Lutheran church was entertained by Band Three, at the home of Mr. Dennis Orr in Maholm street. After the regular business meeting, the evening was spent in music and games, the prizes being won by Mrs. N. Paulson and Miss Elizabeth Keyes.

In Milady's Boudoir

BY GWEN SEARS.

How do you retire? Happy and care-free or worried and disturbed? Do you lay your head on the pillow into a mind determined to "set all the possible rest out of the night or do you fret over the cares of the day, or plan a new hat or gown?

If you want to rise with a restful face, go to sleep in a mind freed from inharmony. Set yourself at ease with the world and forget the provocations of the day.

Don't complain if you are heavy-eyed and dull-witted, with sallow skin and lack of ambition. Worrying all night over the work of the day never made any one beautiful, healthy, wise or rich. How can you help it? By calling mind to the rescue and letting common sense act.

How will worry help your work? How will staying awake all night solve the problems or lighten the labor of the day ahead?

The only excuse for worry of the day that is past is failure in application of honesty of effort. Determine to do better. Then stop worrying.

Night is the psychological time for beauty culture. It is the time for crasing the care-line of the day, and making ready for rebuilding. It is a time of recuperation of gaining strength, of repairing nerves.

Brush your hair and your teeth, take ten long breaths before your opened window, then slip into the cool linen with happiness and peace in your heart and sleep the sleep of the just.

YOUR BOYS AND GIRLS
Whenever a baby is born into the house of some friend or relative, the question arises at once: "What shall I give it?"

Of course a gift is expected by the delighted parents, and most folks find it a perplexing question to decide. The following list may help to suggest something useful for the new February babies:

A baby's diary, embroidered cap, strings, initialed wash cloths, embroidered pillow covers, ivory teething ring; brush and comb set, silver napkin ring, cap pins of gold and silver, blanket for carriage or crib, small gold shoe buckles, silver scraper and spoon, high chair, creeping chair, angora toy dog or kitten, or a rubber doll, or linen picture book.

THE WILD WOMAN

A wealthy man on a transatlantic steamer agrees to take care of a young girl when her mother dies in the steerage. He knows nothing of her ancestry, and his friends think his act foolish, if not dangerous. How the thing turns out is told in a stirring love story entitled, "The Wild Woman." This fascinating story is complete in next Sunday's issue of The Pittsburg Dispatch.

It is the third of a series of complete stories that The Dispatch publishes every Sunday. You don't have to wait several weeks to finish reading them by installments, but they are all printed in one issue. Read them every Sunday in the Pittsburg Dispatch.

New York Stock Exchange.
(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, Feb. 17.—Stocks developed a heavy tendency at the outset of today's operations and declines of one to two points in issues of importance were soon recorded. Reading, Lehigh Valley and Canadian Pacific were weakest of the leaders but other favorites yielded fractionally. New Haven, Southern Railway, Preferred and Union Pacific declined two points, failing to their new minimum prices. Specialties like Texas Company, Montana Power and American Petroleum were lower. Trading was light and again governed largely by foreign conditions.
The decline was accelerated by short selling, the bears again availing themselves of unfavorable news abroad to depress prices. In addition to the coal shares, New York Central and Canadian Pacific were heavy, and American Sugar declined 1 1/2 to its minimum of 67. United States Steel, Amalgamated Copper and American Smelting also fell a point each. Foreign exchange was less unsettled, cables and drafts on London better, well above yesterday's closing rates.
Bonds, especially the international group, were heavy.

BAKERY AT AKRON WAS DYNAMITED

(Associated Press Telegram)
Akron, O., Feb. 17.—Sofrin Spiss, Serbian, 171 North Howard street, proprietor of the Macedonia Baking company, is being held at police headquarters on suspicion in connection with the dynamiting early this morning of the Deluca and Son's bakery. He will be arraigned in police court Tuesday.
Deluca's bakery was dynamited at 2 a. m. today and the entire front of the building was blown out. Deluca and the police charge the outrage to a bread price war among foreign bakers. Two men visited Deluca yesterday and told him that if he didn't agree to raise prices they would "put him out of business."
Deluca and his family occupy rooms above the bakery. The force of the explosion threw them out of their beds. None was injured. The building was wrecked.

NEIGHBORHOOD PRAYER MEETINGS

The neighborhood prayer meetings will be held at the following homes:
Division 3—Mrs. Fanny Bates, Indiana street, Thursday, 9 a. m.
Div. 12—Mrs. Shaw, Leonard avenue.
Div. 13—Mrs. Conner, 43 Bates street, Thursday, 9 a. m.
Mrs. Workman is the leader of Div. 13 and has been so from the start of these meetings, and her loyalty to her duties as a division leader is deserving of special mention.

The meetings are all held on the South Side, and have all the way been well attended, but during the past few weeks the meetings have taken a fresh life and Mrs. Workman reports 25 present last Thursday. It is sincerely hoped these meetings will further grow and prove a great blessing to the mothers of the district.

The Courts

Alimony Case.
Charges and counter-charges of infidelity, brutal treatment and general marital troubles were aired in probate court Wednesday morning, in the hearing on the petition for temporary alimony presented by Minnie D. Lindner against Harry D. Lindner.

Mrs. Lindner sat in court, her one child in her lap, and told the court that the counter charges brought by her husband were untrue. Mr. Lindner related at length the troubles that had brought about the suit for divorce that is now pending out of which had grown the action against him to secure temporary alimony. He claimed that he was making but $15 a week, and was sleeping at the home of his sister in Eleventh street. He also alleged that Mrs. Lindner had, at one time assaulted him with a butcher knife, or claw-hammer, he was not quite sure which implement it had been, and out his arm so deeply that nine stitches were necessary. Both parents called upon the five-year-old boy for verification of the knifing story. Mr. Lindner also charged that his wife had for the six years of their married life, carried on a correspondence with a man named Carol at Anderson, Ind.

The court ordered Lindner to pay $10 a month for the support of his children, and $20 to L. C. Russell, Mrs. Lindner's attorney.

Juvenile Court.
Leroy Livingstone, 16, and Arthur Hartup, 15, sentenced Tuesday afternoon by the juvenile court to a term at the Lancaster industrial school, were permitted to go free Wednesday morning under suspended sentence by the court. The parents of both boys appeared in court this morning to intercede in their behalf, and upon promise by the parents to watch their boys Judge Robbins Hunter commuted the sentence.

Pearl Haffer, 17, the third boy connected with the thefts for which they all were arrested will, however, be forced to serve his term at Lancaster.

BIG AIRSHIP WAS DAMAGED BY GUNFIRE

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, Feb. 17.—A big airship, believed to be one of the Parseval type, apparently damaged by gunfire flew over Amsterdam this morning, says a dispatch from that city to the Reuter's Telegram company.

The airship was flying at a height of about 600 feet and its crew was unable to keep the vessel in a horizontal position.

Assuming a vertical position, the aircraft drifted in the direction of the Zuyder Zee, an arm of the North Sea, carrying with it telegraph wires with which a dangling rope had become entangled.

The air vessel was later sighted minus its gondola.

CHAPTER III.

SAM'S mother would not agree to let him do the blanching of the stumps. She feared, and with much reason, that because of his inexperience in handling dynamite he might blow up himself. So Sam had agreed, though he didn't like the idea of paying $3 for work that he could do himself.

A man named Nolan had been hired to do the work, and he had come out Saturday afternoon to make a beginning. Sam was anxious to learn about the work so that in future there'd be no need to hire some one else to do it. He drove across the field, hitched his horse at a safe distance and went over to watch the proceedings.

Sam's companions, who had also heard the first report, came up to look on. It was interesting to watch Nolan deftly place his blasts so that they always brought up the stumps. Sometimes they popped up in the air like a cork out of a bottle; at other times they split into pieces and went hurtling through the air. Under the largest stump in the field Nolan put a double charge of dynamite.

"Better get clear," he said to the boys when he was about ready to touch it off. They all backed away to a distance of thirty or forty yards and waited. He lighted the fuse and ran over to where they were standing.

"Get down," he said, "behind something or on the ground."

All except Joe Watson promptly dropped down behind a little ridge.

"There isn't any danger this far off," he said and remained standing.

"Get down, you dummy; it's going off," said Sam sharply, and as Joe made no move he grabbed him around the ankles and gave a jerk. The boy came down with a thud, and at the same instant there was a roar. Something sang over their heads like a bullet and exactly in the path where Joe had stood a moment before.

"Well, you may thank your lucky stars," Nolan remarked to Joe as he got up, "that Sam pulled you down. You see that big piece of stump layin' away out yonder? That's what whistled over here, and if you'd 'a' been standin' it would 'a' broke you in two."

Joe was pale from fright at his narrow escape. "My," he exclaimed, "but I owe you a big debt, Sam! You saved me, and I don't think I'll ever act the fool like that again."

It was now the middle of the afternoon, and as the boys wanted to return home early for one reason or another Sam stopped work for the day, and they all drove home at a brisk trot.

On the next Monday Sam was present at the meeting of the Boys' Corn Club and became a member. Bob Fagan was also there and joined, though he was doubtful about getting his acre cleared of stumps by planting time. In addition to the cash prizes already offered, several firms and corporations announced at the meeting that they would give premiums to the successful contestants. These prizes were of various kinds. Among them were a registered Jersey cow, a pair of registered pigs, a corn planter, a trip to Washington, a trio of prize poultry, a gold watch and an automobile.

Sam went home happy that day and more firmly resolved than ever to win some of the prizes. All the week he worked after school hours loading and hauling manure from the stable to the farm. He was so busy that he had no time to talk even to his mother and sister about his work. But at the supper table on Saturday Mrs. Powell inquired how he was getting along with the work.

"Doing fine," said Sam. "I've got the field and the fence rows cleaned up and the fences made pig tight and two acres fertilized and ready to be plowed. The next thing I'm going to do is to have the land broke, cross broke and harrowed."

"Going to do all the field that way?" asked Florence Powell.

"Oh, no," Sam replied. "I can't prepare all the land as I did the two acres. I haven't time this year, but I'll put some fertilizer on all of it and have it broke once."

"What are you going to raise on the two acres?" his sister inquired, becoming interested.

"One acre is going to be in corn. It's going to be my contest acre, and I'm going to try to win some of the prizes of the Boys' Corn Club. On the other acre I'm going to plant Irish potatoes at first, then maybe June corn and black-eyed peas."

"My, but that'll be three crops on the same ground in one year!" exclaimed Florence. "Can you do that, Sam?"

"Yes, and that's not all," said Sam. "After I gather the corn and peas I'll put in a crop of turnips or rye."

"Is one acre all you're going to have in corn?" asked Mrs. Powell.

"No, mother," Sam explained. "In all I'm going to plant five acres in corn. Then I'm going to plant five acres in cotton, one in Kaffir corn, one in Irish potatoes and one in cane. That takes up all the land except the orchard and the acre that we're going to use for a garden and watermelon patch."

"I want to try to raise everything we'll need and a lot to sell besides. The corn and cane are for the stock and the Kaffir corn for the chickens. We don't raise such stuff we'll have to buy, and that's expensive. Besides, most of these crops I speak of will be gathered pretty early, and I can get a crop or two more on the land. When I cut the cane I'm going to plant sweet potatoes on that patch."

"I know where you can get some seed Irish potatoes," suggested his mother.

Sam smiled. "Did you ever stop to think, mother, that what you call seed potatoes are just the little dwarfed culls and not really fit for anything?"

"Why, no," said Mrs. Powell. "I never had thought about it, but it seems like there is something in it."

"Of course there is," said Sam. "A bulletin the department sent me says they've tried all the different ways, and the best way is to use good sized potatoes and cut them in halves to plant."

"The agricultural department must be a pretty good thing," observed Mrs. Powell.

"It is a good thing," said Sam. "It works all the time to help the farmer, but lots of farmers won't let it help them. As for me, I'm not going against anything when I know it wants to help me and can help me if I let it. The department of agriculture keeps men traveling all the time all over the world collecting new plants and flowers and fruits and grains suited to our different climates and soils. It experiments and finds out which varieties are best suited to certain soils and the best way to cultivate and how to fight insect pests. It does all this and lots more that it would take me hours to tell you about. I wouldn't want to farm if there wasn't any agricultural department to help me. It would be too slow finding out things by myself. I've got a whole lot of bulletins on farming, and I'm going to use the money I get for hauling manure to buy some books that I want to read and to subscribe for a good farm paper. A good farm paper is the next best thing to the agricultural department."

"Have you selected the corn and cotton seed that you're going to plant?" asked Mrs. Powell when Sam had finished his glowing account of the department.

"No, I haven't yet," he replied. "But that's one thing I must look after next week. I'll see the agent and ask him about it, but I expect our state extension station can tell me more about the best seed to use in this part of the country."

"Hello, Mr. Burns!" greeted Sam, coming up to the government agent on the street. "I've been wanting to speak to you about seed corn and cotton. What varieties would you advise me to get and where can I get them?"

"Well, as for the corn seed," replied Mr. Burns. "I'll order that for you, as I want all the boys to have the same kind of seed. After this year you must select your own seed, both cotton and corn. Don't depend on sending off for seed. If you do you'll surely be badly disappointed sometimes. Get good varieties to start with and you can build them up by selecting seed from the finest and most productive plants."

"Speaking about cottonseed," the agent continued, "as good a plan as any is to get seed from somebody in your neighborhood. You always find at least one kind of cotton in every community that is far ahead of all other kinds. Everything seems to suit it exactly. If you can get seed from a variety like that out your way and then select your own seed afterward you'll soon have the most productive cotton that can possibly be grown in your locality."

"I am much obliged to you," said Sam, "for getting the corn, and I think I know where I can get some good cotton seed close at home. A fellow's got a kind down there; I don't know the name of it, but it is about two weeks earlier than most cotton, and it's got five long locks to each boll."

"That's the cotton for you, Sam," said the agent, "the kind that matures early, before the boll weevils get a lick at it. Being a big balled kind makes it so much the better. How about your land? Are you getting it in good condition?"

"Well, I think the acre for the contest is all right," Sam replied. "I put one ton of ashes and two tons of manure on it, then had it broke deep, cross broke and harrowed. Three tons is a big lot of fertilizer to put on one acre, but I don't think I can get too much on that land."

The agent's eyes brightened. "Good!" he encouraged. "You'll make a farmer if you keep up that lick. That land's in fine shape, and it'll soak up all the moisture from the rains and snows that fall from now until spring. The idea is to store up all the moisture you can for use by the growing crops in summer when rain is scarce. The only way to do that is to get the land plowed deep and thoroughly pulverized. Whenever you see a patch of ground that's been plowed five or six times to kill out Bermuda or Johnson grass you always see a fine crop growing on it when everything around it is a failure. It seems as if farmers ought to learn from such examples."

"When is the best time to break land?" asked Sam.

"Oh, it ought to be done in the fall," Mr. Burns replied. "Get the land in good condition and sow a cover crop for winter of rye or oats. By plowing the land in the fall you break up the homes of insects and turn them out to freeze. A big majority of the insects that work on crops spend the winter in the fields and around the fence rows. So if you don't want to be bothered with insects break the land and clean out the fence rows in the fall."

"I've made a little extra money hauling manure from a stable," Sam explained, "and I'm going to spend it for some good books along the line I'm studying. Could you suggest one or two good ones, Mr. Burns?"

"There are any number of good books on farming and kindred subjects," said the agent. "You should get a catalogue. But I would suggest that you get 'Coburn's Swine Husbandry' and 'Book of Alfalfa.' These books are by a real farmer, and he knows what he's writing about. The first, of course, is about raising hogs. The second tells all about alfalfa, from the earliest times to the present. It is real interesting, too, much better reading than some of the novels that they call best sellers. 'The A B C of Bee Culture' is a fine work on beekeeping. 'How Crops Grow' will tell you a lot about agricultural plants that you don't know, and 'Life on the Farm' is a little book that is very interesting and full of helpful suggestions."

"Don't tell me any more," Sam exclaimed. "I want to read them all, and my money won't hold out. But I'm going to buy those five and study them, especially the ones on hogs and alfalfa."

"Well, bees are worth studying, too," said Mr. Burns.

"I don't know much about them," replied Sam.

"I don't know much about them," replied Sam.

"I don't know much about them," replied Sam.

"I don't know much about them," replied Sam.

"I don't know much about them," replied Sam.

"I don't know much about them," replied Sam.

plod Sam, "but I shouldn't like getting stung."

"No need of it," said the agent. "Once you understand them they give no trouble, and the honey they make is almost clear profit."

"If that's the case I think I'll get a few hives."

"One or two will be sufficient to start with. If you take care of the swarms you'll soon have as many hives as you need."

"What I want to get more than anything else," continued Sam, "is some registered hogs. Do you know where I could get a sow or some pigs?"

"No; don't believe I do," said the agent. "Want registered stock, do you?"

"Yes, sir; it doesn't take any more to raise them than it does scrub, and they are better and sell for more."

"That's a good idea," remarked Mr. Burns. "You're on the right track. I see you've got some plans, Sam. What are you figuring on doing?"

"Well," replied the young farmer, "for the first thing I'm going to peg along on the little farm of mother's and do the very best I can with what I've got and with what I know."

"And then what?" asked the agent.

"Next fall and winter sister and I are going to complete the high school course. Then I'm going to make another crop, and if things go well I'll take a course at the State Agricultural college and let sister also take a course there in domestic science."

"And after that what?" queried Mr. Burns.

"Well, after that I'll take up the work that I have already started and carry it out to a finish. I want to make mother as comfortable and independent as possible. I want to make the land productive and put up good fences and buildings. I want to stock the place with the very best there is in every line—Jersey cows, Berkshire hogs, Angora goats, Plymouth Rock chickens, Peking ducks, Bronze turkeys and even a colico dog. Of course I don't mean to say that these breeds are better than others, but I like them and know they are good."

Mr. Burns did not laugh at Sam's desire for a shepherd dog.

"There is need and room for all you mention," he said, "even to the dog."

"But that's not all," Sam continued. "I want things around the house to be pretty and pleasant. I want books and magazines and pictures and a big yard full of flowers. Don't you think a person can have such things on a farm?"

"I don't think anything about it," replied the agent. "I know it. You can have them and should have them. The farm is, first of all, a place to live, and it should be made as pleasant a place as possible."

"You haven't named a thing that is out of reach, Sam. And it is very thoughtful of you to keep your mother and sister in mind in all of your plans. They certainly are proud of you and have reason to be."

"When I get all that work done," said Sam, "I'm going to buy a farm for myself and do with it just as I intend to do with mother's. After that I don't know what I'll do. I haven't planned any further, but I guess there'll be new dreams by that time."

"Yes, there will, Sam," said Mr. Burns. "There will always be something new calling you to further an endeavor. But you'll take a delight in it just as you have delighted in this other. It's a man's work you have set yourself, and it's worth doing."

Sam Powell went home with the agent's last words running through his mind. He couldn't forget them, nor did he for many and many a day.

DRESS WARM AND KEEP FEET DRY

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Take Salts and Get Rid of Uric Acid.

Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. If not the most dangerous of human afflictions it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat less meat, dress as warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure and, above all, drink lots of pure water.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts, put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inactive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here it has a pleasant, effervescent, lithia-water drink, which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

Don't Say, "I Want a Box of Matches"

Would you go into a grocery store and say, "Give me a cake of soap?"

No! You would ask—by name—for the kind of soap that is best adapted to your needs.

So with breakfast foods. You would ask—by name—for the kind that has the pleasantest taste or is most nourishing.

Follow this rule with matches. Tell the grocer you want Safe Home Matches.

If you ask for "matches," goodness knows what you may get.

5c. All grocers.

Ask for Safe Home Matches and you will get the very best matches that money will buy.

More than 10% of all Cement Used in the United States is

Consider these facts about the National Cement:

Starting in 1898 with one mill having a yearly capacity of 250,000 barrels of Lehigh Cement, we have grown to the extent of twelve mills throughout the country for quick distribution to our customers, capable of producing over 12,000,000 barrels annually.

250,000 BARRELS 1898

7,064,000 BARRELS 1906

OVER 12,000,000 BARRELS CAPACITY 1915

This is the Cement age—in the United States yearly the consumption is ONE BARREL FOR EVERY PERSON—cement is used everywhere—for every conceivable purpose.

Cement has made possible the world's greatest engineering triumphs—canals—dams—irrigation projects—subways, etc. It enters into the construction of our homes—factories—public buildings—garages—streets—roads—sidewalks—bridges—railroads—piers—etc. The farmer uses it for barns—floors—silos—cisterns—water troughs—fence posts—etc.

Cement makes possible fireproof concrete construction and will last forever. Directly or indirectly every person in the United States uses cement. You should know of the adaptability of cement construction.

You should know about Lehigh, and the reason which make it the National Cement—WHY 10% of all the cement used in the United States is LEHIGH, the remaining nine-tenths being manufactured by over one hundred other companies.

To the Merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound during Change of Life.

Westbrook, Me.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and had pains in my back and side and was so weak I could hardly do my housework. I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has done me a lot of good. I will recommend your medicine to my friends and give you permission to publish my testimonial."

—Mrs. LAWRENCE MARTIN, 12 King St., Westbrook, Me.

Manston, Wis.—"At the Change of Life I suffered with pains in my back and loins until I could not stand. I also had night sweats so that the sheets would be wet. I tried other medicine but got no relief. After taking one bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I began to improve and I continued its use for six months. The pains left me, the night sweats and hot flashes grew less, and in one year I was a different woman. I know I have to thank you for my continued good health ever since."

—Mrs. M. J. BROWNELL, Manston, Wis.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled in such cases.

GERMANS EASY VICTORS OVER Y. M. C. A. TEAM

The Buffalo Orioles (Germans) claiming the world's championship in basketball circles, maintained their reputation Tuesday night when they defeated the Newark Y. M. C. A. team by a score of 74 to 41. The defeat was accomplished with the Y. M. C. A. boys playing the best brand of basketball they have yet offered.

Newark's passing and team work was splendid, the only weak point being guarding of some of the men. Frequently the Germans were permitted to pass the ball from one end of the floor to the other, to find a German player under the basket with no Newark man within fifteen feet.

It was this feature of the Newark boys' playing that allowed the Germans to run up a big score. There is no discounting the fact that the Germans have perfected a rare system of play that would be successful against most any team. Playing together every night on strange floors could not but perfect their playing.

Their method of passing the ball from difficult positions, with one or more men of the opposition too close for comfort, was superb. Heerd, left guard for the visitors was their strongest man, scoring 40 of the 74 points. Linniborn was the next best with 16 points.

Davis excelled in scoring points for Newark. He counted 21 times during the game. Keys was next with ten points and Orr followed with six points.

Coach Livingston of Denison watched the game. The Germans played Denison at Granville tonight and the Denison coach was after some pointers on the Germans' style of play.

The game was remarkably free from fouls, seven being called on the Newark boys. Heerd tossed six of the seven.

The lineup and summary: Newark 41. Orioles 74. Davis, 21; Orr, 6; Keys, 5; Linniborn, 16; Heerd, 40; Miller, 1; Faust, 1; Beggis, 1; Frenkel, 1; Sprague, 1; Gaudin, 1; Taylor, 1; Graves, 1; Smith, 1; Bentz, 1; O'Connell, 1; Nutter, 1.

THE OHIO STATE CIVIC CONGRESS.

Mayor Pete Schreiber of East Liverpool, Rev. Dr. George Hugh Bivrey of Cleveland, Rev. Frederick L. Flagler of Cincinnati, Prof. T. W. Shannon of Delaware, Clifford G. Roe of Chicago, and Hon. Frank S. Regan of Rockford, Ill., are among the speakers announced for the Ohio State Civic Congress to be held in the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium, Columbus, Monday and Tuesday, March 1 and 2. White slavery, marriage restriction, suppression of vice, resorts by injunction, sterilization of degenerates, better control of recreation, taxation, and the causes of crime, are among the subjects to be discussed.

Special features will be convention music led by Rev. H. C. Boblitt, of Columbus; dramatic readings, lantern slides, and "The Traffic in Souls," a moving picture film illustrating the methods of white slave traders, based on the Rockefeller investigation.

Mr. Regan is an attorney, formerly a member of the Illinois legislature. He will speak on the "Pool Taxpayer," illustrating his lecture with crayon cartoons while he talks. Mr. Roe, as assistant United States district attorney of Chicago, started the nation wide attack on white slavery. He later aided in the Rockefeller vice investigation in New York. Prof. Shannon is widely known as a speaker and writer on eugenics.

Municipalities, towns, churches, Bible classes and organizations interested in suppressing vice are entitled to delegates on the basis of one delegate for the organization and one delegate for each hundred members. Arrangements are in charge of a special committee of the American Civic Reform Union, headed by Rev. Dr. J. J. Tisdall, of Columbus, who will furnish further information on request.

Some Improvement. "How is young John getting on at college?" asked the friend of the family. "Very well indeed," answered John's proud mother. "The president has about decided to let him stay on for the rest of the term."—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

WAS ENDORSED AS A LAY DELEGATE TO CONFERENCE

The February meeting of the official board of East Main Street M. E. church was one of unusual interest. One thing that was done was to endorse Wesley Montgomery as a lay delegate for the general conference in 1916. Mr. Montgomery has already represented the church, town and conference in two general conferences—an honor that comes to but few men—but Mr. Montgomery's record in these, assures his election for the third time.

It was decided at this meeting to take the every member census early in April for benevolences, with a view to placing this church on the honor roll in the conference.

A strong committee, consisting of Wesley Montgomery, J. W. Evans and Sidney S. Brown was appointed looking toward taking steps to taking up work among the foreign population of the East End.

A strong sentiment prevailed in the board that the time had come for the building of an addition to the church, so that they can better care for the growing congregation and Sunday school. While no definite action was taken it is safe in venturing the prediction that it will not be many months until ground will be broken for a substantial addition to this already commodious church.

Rev. Miller did not occupy the pulpit at Goshen M. E. church Sunday afternoon.

The Ladies' Aid of the Goshen M. E. church met at the home of Mrs. U. B. Ashcraft Saturday afternoon. Several members were present and a fine program was rendered. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Jane Anderson.

Rev. Rice filled his regular appointments at Mr. Pleasant Sunday morning and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Mizer entertained about fifty-five young people at their home Tuesday evening. The evening was spent in music and social conversation and a dainty lunch was served to the guests.

Misses Eula, Stella and Edith Cessna entertained at dinner Sunday. Misses Anna and Alta Van Winkle, it being Miss Edith's fourteenth birthday anniversary.

Mr. Orville Palmer of Dayton is visiting at the home of Mr. J. A. Little.

Mr. Kvie Varner spent Tuesday night at the home of C. F. Mizer.

Mr. A. Cessna was a visitor at Hanover Sunday.

GOSHEN

Rev. Miller did not occupy the pulpit at Goshen M. E. church Sunday afternoon.

P.A. Makes You Smoke Peaceful

When you hit the smoke trail via the Prince Albert line, you are off to the joy lands, traveling first class, all debts paid and money in the bank. Quicker you make your break for the real thing, the sooner you'll find the real joy of smoking.

PRINCE ALBERT

can't bite your tongue, nor any other man's, because the patented process controlled exclusively by us takes out the bite and leaves pure pleasure. Once you've been over the route, you'll pack back whenever you feel that inside longing for a pull at the old calabash, briar, corncob or meerschaum.

Prince Albert is sold wherever tobacco is on the call; in the tidy red tins, 10c; tippy red bags, 5c; pound and half-pound tin humidor and the jim-dandy pound P. A. crystal-glass humidor that certainly does keep the tobacco wonderfully fresh and delightful. One for the office and one for home is your gait!

CHILD'S TONGUE BECOMES COATED IF CONSTIPATED

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely.

A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is, they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally. Breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a 5-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

The Loyal Workers Sunday school class will give a musical and Martha Washington social on Friday, Feb. 19, at the East Main street M. E. church beginning at 7:30. Admission 10c. 2-17-1t

Hot Tar Boiled Over.
An alarm of fire about 7 o'clock Tuesday evening called the headquarters truck and the East Newark hose company to the Pythian Castle building in East Main street where a kettle of tar boiled over and caught fire. There was no damage to the building and the loss in burning tar was small.

FINE CONCERT WAS ENJOYED AT GRANVILLE

Philharmonic String Quartet Greeted by Delighted Audience—Next Number March 3.

(Special to The Advocate)
Granville, Feb. 17.—The Philharmonic String Quartet which played in the Baptist church last night gave the greatest concert heard in Granville in years, before an delighted and responsive audience assembled in the auditorium. It high class music could always be interpreted by such artists, there would be fewer "Philistines" among the American people. The ensemble was perfect, the tone playing as one, and producing a wide range of tone color astonishing in a combination of strings. In fact, the quartet almost with a like effect on the audience. Twice the quartet was warmly recalled, graciously responding to each encore.

Mr. Heydler's cello solos received hearty recognition, for the rare quality of technique and interpretation displayed and "The Angel's Serenade," with which he responded to the tumultuous applause, took on the semblance of an old friend arrayed in almost celestial beauty.

Satisfying as was this first offering on the music course, the next will prove no less great, in a different way. Mrs. McDowell, widow of the famous American composer, will appear on the evening of March 3, in an interpretation of the great man's works.

Last night's program follows:
Quartet, Opus 84, No. 4....Haydn
Allegro con moto
Menuetto (allegretto)
Adagio cantabile sostenuto
Finale (presto)
a—Andantino from Opus 10.....Debussy
b—Serenade Badine.....Marie
c—Finale from F major quartet.....Dvorak

Cello solos—
a—Air.....Pergolesi
b—Scherzo.....Goetz
Quartet—C minor.....Rachenecker
Allegro piu puctoso
Andante moderato
Allegro vivace, allegro con fuoco
Mrs. T. G. Field, Mrs. F. F. Murray, Mrs. Hughes, Mrs. Anna Campbell and Mrs. W. H. Dalbey will entertain the ladies of the Social Union in the parlors of the Baptist church Friday afternoon from 2:30 to 5 o'clock. A pleasing program has been arranged and needlework is quite in order.

Mr. Gilead, O., is to be favored this evening by special request with a high class concert by three of Granville's foremost artists, Mrs. Theodore Johnson, soprano, Miss Gail Smith, violinist, and Miss Ruth Rockwood, pianist; have arranged an attractive program which will be presented in the Mt. Gilead opera house.

Interest centers around the basketball contest in Cleveland hall this evening between the Buffalo Germans and Denison. All local fans will witness the struggle and will help with the cheering.

Miss Betty Madewe of Jackson, O., formerly of Shepardson college, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carney on Burg street hill.

Mr. W. F. Chamberlain, of Dayton, a loyal alumnus of Denison, stopped for a few hours with his Phi Gam brothers last evening enroute to Providence, R. I., leaving on the 7:20 car this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Eddy, of Cleveland, are visiting at the home of Mr. Eddy's parents in East College street.

Mrs. John Geach, who has been in Athens, visiting her daughter, Miss Claire, returned to her home in Granger street Tuesday.

Mrs. Addie McLean, of Franklin, O., is visiting relatives in Granville for a few days.

Mrs. Friend Case lies quite ill at her home in Granger street.

Prof. Theodore Johnson will be one of the afterdinner speakers at the Washington banquet Friday evening. He won his spurs in oratorical tilts last fall.

Mrs. Ralph Lawrence, who has been visiting at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Prof. and Mrs. Irving Kull, left this morning for her home in Madison, Wis.

Mrs. Charles Watkins, who is not yet able to leave her husband's bedside, requests that as many of the third division of the Social Union of which she is leader, will assemble at the meeting on Friday afternoon as are able to do so, in order to discuss a matter which will be placed before them by a temporary chairman.

Two Firemen Killed, Five Others Are Hurt.
Danville, Ill., Feb. 17.—Two firemen, Albert Holmes and Albert Shanks, were killed and five others were seriously injured today when fighting a fire that destroyed the Odd Fellows building here. A falling wall caught the firemen. The fire loss is $70,000.

Not Worth While.
Judge—"Why don't you look for work?"
Casey—"O! haven't the toime to waste in such unprofitable employment."—Judge.

Abe Morfin

Everbuddy knows Typian Bud is an honest dog buyer. If he tell you so, yit he loses money on ever hog he sells an ains has plenty of money. Th survivors of the Roostert an Johnson club met tday an' both shook hands.

ASH WEDNESDAY IS FIRST DAY OF LENTEN SEASON

The Catholic churches and the Trinity Episcopal church observed Wednesday as Ash Wednesday, which is the first day of the Lenten season. Mass was celebrated in the Catholic churches and the ashes were distributed. The Lenten season extends over forty days, "about counting the Sundays, and the Lenten regulations were read in all the Catholic churches of the country on Sunday.

A Billion Dollars.
"I wonder if we realize when we talk of a billion dollars what an enormous sum of money it means. We all know how rapidly an expert counter of coins will manipulate them. You can scarcely follow the motion of his fingers as he shifts the coins from one pile to another and counts them. The treasury experts will count 4,000 silver dollars in an hour and keep it up all day long, but that is their limit."

"Working eight hours a day, then, an expert counter of coins will count 32,000 silver dollars in a day, but how long will it take him at that rate to count a million dollars? Thirty-one days. But that is only the beginning of the measurements of great figures. For if this same man were to go on counting silver dollars at the same rate of speed for ten years he would find that he had counted 100,000,000 of them and that to count a billion dollars would require 102 years of steady work at the rate of eight hours a day during every working day of every one of the 102 years." — O. P. Austin, Former Chief of the Bureau of Statistics.

At Night in Africa.
Stewart Edward White, writing in the American Magazine on lion adventures, comments as follows on the ravages of wild animals in Africa after nightfall:

"We spent the short evening each in his own fashion, I in my canvas chair smoking, the men squatted on their heels around their tiny fires eating quantities of meat and corn meal. Outside on little dome of light the night businesses of the veldt went forward. Only the most formidable or the most insignificant creatures raised their voices except in alarm or warning. Lions roared; insects hummed and chirped. Out there in the dark was a different world from that in which we moved so freely during the daylight hours—a dangerous, tragic world. Next day we would find evidences of the fact. I have seen killed by lions the remains of every sort of creature except buffalo and rhinoceros. Lions are said occasionally to kill even buffalo, though rarely."

His Idea of the Best Soap.
The Flemish peasant, writes a correspondent, has no more aversion to water than the English peasant. I happen to know a good deal about both of them. There is, naturally, a kinship between the Flemish and Dutch and Dutch are universally regarded as among the most cleanly of peoples, at any rate where domestic affairs are concerned. The amount of scrubbing and house washing that goes on in the villages of Flanders and the rest of Belgium would be regarded as silly by English villagers. And, from the health point of view, those who literally earn their bread by the sweat of their brows don't need so much of the bathtub as those who consider themselves more respectable. As a Dorset laborer once remarked to me, "T' best soap, measter, be sweat!"—London Spectator.

When the Kilt Was Barred.
At one time the kilt was forbidden. It is interesting to recall the words of the oath that was administered at Fort William and elsewhere in the Highlands in 1747: "I, do swear, as I shall answer to God at the great day of judgment, that I have not, nor shall have, in my possession any gun, sword, pistol or any arm whatsoever, and that I never use tartan, plaid or any part of the Highland garb, and if I do so may I be cursed in my undertakings, family and property—may I never see my wife and children, father, mother or relations—may I be killed in battle as a coward and lie without Christian burial in a strange land, far from the graves of my forefathers and kindred: may all this come across me if I break my oath."—London Chronicle.

Points on Carving.
The expert carver should choose a chair which brings the arms just a few inches above the seat to be carved and make the movements easy and natural. The platter should be large enough to hold the entire bird or joint, placed near enough to the carver to bring the center of the knife blade over the fowl when the carver's arms are extended and slightly bent at the elbows. The carving knife should have a uniform edge moderately sharp and slightly rough or ragged. The raw edge is better for cutting meat than a smooth edge.—Washington Star.

Elizabeth Fry.
Elizabeth Fry's great work for prison reform was all done after her marriage. It was in 1813 that she paid her first and memorable visit to Newgate prison and in 1817 formed the Association for the Improvement of Female Prisoners in Newgate, which attracted such widespread interest. Her efforts were not confined to Great Britain, many continental prisons being the better for her labors.—London Mail.

Animals and Cold.
Of domestic animals sheep come first as cold resistors. Sheep have lived for weeks buried in snow. When the great blizzard of March, 1891, swept Devonshire sheep were dug out alive from the enormous drifts twenty-four days later. Goats and pigs take respectively second and third places.

A Mother's Pride.
Pride, said Charles Dickens, is one of the seven deadly sins, but it cannot be the pride of a mother in her child, for that is a compound of two cardinal virtues—faith and hope.

There is no better ballast for keeping the mind steady on its keel and saving it from all risk of crankiness than business.—Lowell.

INCREASE IN EXPORTATION OF MOTOR TRUCKS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, Feb. 17.—An analysis of official export records issued here today by the national automobile chamber of commerce asserted that the exportation of motor trucks from this country during 1914 increased more than 432 per cent in value over 1913. The value of all motor vehicles exported in 1914 was more than five per cent greater than in the previous 12 months, although the total exports of all kinds decreased 15 per cent. Motor trucks for use by the warring nations of Europe are believed to have aided materially in swelling the increase.

ANOTHER DROP IN THE CHICAGO WHEAT MARKET

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Chicago, Feb. 17.—Increasing apprehension as to vessel risks in the war zone largely brought about a serious fall today in the value of wheat. Export demand seemed temporarily to have made almost a complete stop and there was a corresponding disposition toward liquidating sales on the part of speculative holders. As much as five cents a bushel was cut from the price of the July delivery, in which trading chiefly centered. That month dropped to $1.31½, as against $1.36½ @½ last night.

GRAY HAIR

Darkened—Stops Falling Hair—Promotes Its Growth—Look Young Again.

Q-Ban hair color restorer darkens gray, streaked with gray, faded or prematurely gray hair to natural color, making the hair dark, lustrous, soft, abundant, thick and beautiful. Also stops falling hair and promotes its growth. Is Q-Ban hair color restorer sticky? No. Will it injure hair or scalp? Impossible. Is it easy to apply? Yes. Apply like a shampoo to hair and scalp. Can anyone detect that I use Q-Ban? No, because Q-Ban darkens hair evenly and naturally, but your friends will observe that you look younger. Suppose that Q-Ban does not darken my hair or give me satisfaction. In that case I get my money back? Yes, we guarantee it absolutely. Only 50c for a big 7-oz. bottle with directions for private home treatment of the hair. R. W. Smith, Newark, O. Out-of-town people supplied by mail.

RODNEY DIEGEL

MEETING WITH

MUCH SUCCESS

Rodney Diegel was a visitor in Newark for a couple of hours yesterday on his way to Granville to take the Ohio Central for Mt. Gilead, O., where he showed his prison pictures last evening. Mr. Diegel stated that his business since opening in Newark several months ago had been very good and that he was contemplating organizing a big picture company in the very near future.

There are few that would show the hustling energies displayed by Mr. Diegel, after undergoing the worries that were his while confined in the big state prison, where he was sent while serving as sergeant-at-arms of the Ohio senate. He was offered his freedom, it is said, if he would divulge certain details which he alleged he was cognizant of, but he remained steadfast in the statement that he knew nothing of the cases and served his time in the big prison. It was during his confinement that he conceived the idea of securing pictures of the working of the big prison to exhibit after his release. They were first shown in this city last fall and since that time Mr. Diegel has visited many Ohio cities with his exhibition.

TO GET NEW START.
(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Paris, Feb. 17.—A bill providing for a credit of 500,000,000 francs ($130,000,000) from which loans can be made to small business interests ruined by the war thereby enabling them to start again, will be introduced in the chamber of deputies by Georges Berry.

Some people are always going out to look for trouble, and others can stay right at home and find fault.

APPLICATION FOR PARDON.
Notice is hereby given that at the next meeting of Ohio State Board of Pardons an application will be made for the pardon of James Costley, convicted at the May term, 1910, of the Court of Common Pleas of Jackson county, of the crime of horse stealing and grand larceny and sentenced to imprisonment in the Ohio Penitentiary for the period of 18 years.
(Signed) JAMES COSTLEY.

CHARITIES TALK

AT CITY HALL

TONIGHT, 8:15

Newark is called "easy" by hobos. How did the town get the name? How can it be changed to a better? How can Newark be made a "city beautiful" that will attract more of the desirable residents and assure greater prosperity? Can you tell us?

Mr. James L. Fieser, superintendent Associated Charities, Columbus, will give a partial reply to these questions in his address tonight at 8:15, council chamber, city hall. Be sure to hear him.

WM. E. HOPKINS, Supt.

WILL SUSPEND

SHIPPING LINES

FOR FEW DAYS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, Feb. 17.—The Exchange Telegraph company's Amsterdam correspondent is authority for the statement that the Batavia and Zealand shipping lines and services between Folkestone and Flushing will be suspended for a few days after Thursday, Feb. 18, the date on which Germany announced its determination to begin a blockade of British waters.

FORTIFICATIONS BILL

CARRIES $5,000,000.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Feb. 17.—The fortifications appropriation bill, carrying approximately $5,000,000, virtually was ready to be reported to the house today from committee. The measure is the last, but one, of the annual supply bills, to come before the house. Only the general deficiency bill now remains in committee.

Of the fifteen annual supply bills, thirteen have been reported to the house and ten have been passed and sent to the senate.

Lighting Newark Streets

For Municipal Ownership.
Editor of the Advocate:—I note considerable correspondence in last night's Advocate in regard to installing a municipal light plant in Newark. May the Lord speed the day, and also when we may have a heating plant under like conditions. When we go back to the day private corporation conducted our water service and compare their prices with the present the property owners and taxpayers who have no ax to grind will most surely recommend the owner to be the citizens instead of the corporation.

Let the people beware of plausible arguments and high sounding, scarecrow threats of "terrible debts" made by paid representatives of certain interests and remember that all cities and governments incur indebtedness for the public good. S. C. PRIEST.

Director Christian's Statement.
Editor of The Advocate:—I do not care to have a word war with Mr. Stasel, but for his information I wish to state that the figures in the Auditor's Report are not disputed by me, but on the contrary are used in my own calculations. For his information I will give the actual readings as they are found in my office, they will tell their own story:

For the Year 1911.....	337834
Dec. 31, 1911.....	337834	68117
Jan. 1, 1912.....	337844
For the Year 1912.....	446870	51581
Dec. 31, 1912.....	446870
Jan. 1, 1913.....	389425
For the Year 1913.....	501225	57545
Dec. 31, 1913.....	501225
Jan. 1, 1914.....	446870
For the Year 1914.....	54759

The following are the figures used and referred to by him:

Year 1911.....	561170
Year 1912.....	515810
Year 1913.....	575450
Year 1914.....	447550

He might explain how he arrives at these quantities, or who did the guessing.

If an engineer is right on one of his calculations and should be quoted, then he should be quoted on any other of his calculations. This same engineer that Mr. Stasel likes to quote, says that the old plant is producing hourly 225 kilowatt hours of current, and consequently operating last year 3320 hours, it delivered to the switch board the total of 747,000 kilowatt hours of current. If the engineer is right on his cost per kilowatt of .0135, is he not correct as the kilowatt production, if so, why insist on something smaller simply to produce the desired result.

The story of the non-burning lamp will not work, and I refer him to such authorities as F. B. Crocker, E. M., Ph. D.; Wm. Esty, S. B. M. A., on the functions of constant-current transformers.

The delivery of current by the generator to the switch board is noted by an ammeter on each phase of the generator, the total of these two meters multiplied by the voltage produces the kilowatt hours delivered. Last evening for two continuous hours they read as follows:

First Phase.....	52 amperes
Second Phase.....	55 amperes
Total.....	107 amperes

Total, 107 amperes, multiplied by 2200 volts equals 235.4 kw hours

The rated capacity of the generator is as follows:

Contract capacity—Volts, 2200; 2 Phase, 59.1 amp per phase; 260 kilowatts capacity so you can readily see that the generator was producing within 25 kilowatts of its rated capacity during this time. This may vary owing to the weather conditions on line loss. During the past week this variation has been within two amperes. My calculations to be safe were about 10 per cent. less than these readings.

For the satisfaction of those disposed to not take kindly to our estimates, we will have the Watt-Meter recalibrated, as one expert yesterday said that it has been out at least five years.

W. C. CHRISTIAN.

A MESSAGE TO THIN, WEAK, SCRAWNEY, FOLKS

An Easy Way to Gain 10 to 30 lbs of Solid, Healthy, Permanent Flesh

Thin, nervous, undeveloped men and women, everywhere are heard to say, "I can't understand why I do not get fat. I eat plenty of good, nourishing food." The reason is just this: You cannot get fat, no matter how much you eat, unless your digestive organs assimilate the fat-making elements of your food instead of passing them out through the body as waste.

What is needed is a means of gently urging the assimilative functions of the stomach and intestines to absorb the oils and fats and hand them over to the blood, where they may reach the starved, shrunken, run-down tissues and build them up. The thin person's body is like a dry sponge—eager and hungry for the fatty materials of which it is being deprived by the failure of the alimentary canal to take them from the food. The best way to overcome this sinful waste of flesh building elements and to stop the leakage of fats is to use Sargol, the recently discovered regenerative force that is recommended so highly by physicians here and abroad. Take a little Sargol tablet with every meal and notice how quickly your cheeks fill out and rolls of firm, healthy flesh are deposited over your body, covering each bony angle and projecting point. Evans' Drug Store and other good druggists have Sargol, or can get it from their wholesaler, and will refund your money if you are not satisfied with the gain in weight it produces as stated on the guarantee in each package. It is inexpensive, easy to take and highly efficient.

Caution:—While Sargol has produced remarkable results in overcoming nervous dyspepsia and general stomach troubles, it should not be taken unless you are willing to gain ten pounds or more, for it is a wonderful flesh-builder.

BETTER EYESIGHT

FOR LOCAL WOMAN

This Wonderful Result Came Because Nerv-Worth Helped Her Eyes.

"I have been taking doctor's medicines and different patent medicines for some time," said Mrs. A. Brightman, of 62 Mayflower flats, some time ago, "but none have done me the good that Nerv-Worth has. I was troubled with nervousness, dizziness, indigestion and my eyes were affected. I have tried Nerv-Worth with very beneficial results. My eyes have fully recovered. I am much better than I was. I get a much better night's rest and have gained strength."

These are the words of Mrs. Brightman to T. J. Evans, the Warden block druggist, who sells Nerv-Worth. Buy a bottle of it there. He will guarantee it. Price $1.00.—Adv.
